Russians Jam Bier Of Stalin For Last Look

Endless Columns Of Weeping Citizens
Shuffle Past Body

MOSCOW, March 7 (AP)—Russian millions mourning their dead leader were told today the Communist party's call for unity is "the beat of Stalin's immortal heart" and that all the Soviet people will approve the decree streamlining the government under his successor, Georgi M. Malenkov.

Pravda made these pronouncements as endless lines of men, women and children, some weeping from below zero cold into the flower perfumed Hall of Columns for a look at the body of the man who guided the nation in war and peace, for 29 years.

The consolidation of ministries and changes in command ordered by party and government officials last night—only about 24 hours after Stalin died from the complications of a stroke—were described by the Communist party newspaper as aimed at "preventing any kind of interruption in leading activities of state and party organs."

"This most important political document will be received by the party and the entire Soviet people with unanimous approval," it said.

The main fact disclosed in that document was the emergence of Malenkov, who has been one of 11 deputy prime ministers, as the most important man in the Soviet Union.

The new Prime Minister, 51, had for years been a protégé of Stalin and his closest adviser in party and government affairs.

L. P. Beria and V. M. Molotov, two other widely known deputy prime ministers, took lesser roles while retaining their jobs as deputies.

Three were first among the Soviet leaders who formed the honor guard for the dead Stalin, a guard changed at five-minute intervals since the body was moved from the Kremlin to the Hall of Columns Friday.

Two Local Men Mentioned For Dawkins' Post

NEW ORLEANS, March 7 (AP)—President Eisenhower will have the Louisiana Republican Central Committee's recommendation for the successor to Judge Ben Dawkins, Jr., of the U. S. District Court for Eastern Louisiana within two weeks.

John Minor Wisdom, Republican National Committee member, said today the committee, set up to recommend Judge Dawkins' successor, has selected six names thus far.

Judge Dawkins has announced he will retire next month.

The six names on the committee's list are Ben Dawkins, Jr., of Gretna; Wilbur Lunn, Jr., of Gretna; Robert Kennon, executive counsel, John R. Pleasant of Shreveport; George R. Snellings of Monroe; Thomas W. Leigh of Monroe; and Malcolm Lafargue of Shreveport.

Wisdom, a New Orleans attorney, identified Snellings as a Republican and the others as Democrats.

Some of the men, Wisdom said, "are not indicated a desire" for the position.

The list is not exclusive, Wisdom said, adding "we hope people will come forward with the names of others and we will do our best to find the best man for the job."

Kennon, a Democrat who backed Eisenhower, has expressed a preference for Lunn. Wisdom said, however, "It would be premature to express a preference until we know all the possible candidates."

The committee will discuss the candidates "with the committees of the bar associations and others who recommended the names and some else who has anything to say about the men," Wisdom said.

When the recommendations are completed, he said, there will be a list of "some alternatives."

Thanks For The Push
DECATUR, Ill., March 7 (AP)—Richard Elliott, a Decatur Post-Office clerk, today related that he was driving during a snowstorm on Sunday when he saw another car standing in the road.

During the car was stalled, he said it six miles to a garage.

At the garage, the driver told him: "Wasn't having any trouble. I was only waiting to make a left turn."

Kennon Appeals For Strike Talks

BATON ROUGE, March 7 (AP)—Gov. Robert Kennon sent a strong appeal tonight to the Florida owner of paper-mills in strike-bound Elizabeth, La., to agree to mediation because of the "critical situation" there.

The governor acted about the same time the Allen Parish sheriff said he would ask the chief executive for help if violence continued its upward surge around the little South Central Louisiana town.

Two dynamite charges ripped apart the automobile of a non-striking papermill employee today. A sleeping family narrowly escaped injury.

Three cars were dynamited in the Elizabeth vicinity yesterday, and a power line was cut.

Sheriff Ralph Thompson, harassed by repeated strife, said: "If this violence continues to increase, the only thing I can do is appeal to the governor to step in and help out in some way."

When Kennon was reached at the mansion a few minutes later, he made public his telegram to C. G. McGeehe, Jr., of Jacksonville, Fla.

McGeehe, owner of the Calcasieu Paper Company and Southern Industries at Elizabeth, earlier this week rejected an appeal by the governor's state Mediation Board to agree to a voluntary hearing. The striking unions urged the mediation hearing which, by law must be voluntary on the part of both company and management.

The governor's telegram said, in part: "Chairman of the Labor Mediation Board and commissioner of labor have reported to me contents of your wire of March 4."

"Because of the critical situation at Elizabeth, I strongly urge that your company reconsider and agree to participation in mediation procedure of the board by permitting disinterested panel representing public, management and labor to investigation and conduct mediation hearings in an effort to effect settlement on a fair basis acceptable to both parties."

"This request is made by me as governor of Louisiana in the interest of the industrial peace in the Elizabeth area."

Elizabeth, a company town of 1,500, has been the center of increasing tension and violence since Sept. 13 when 500 workers walked out in a dispute with plants over union recognition and work contracts.

In recent weeks, there have been sporadic outbreaks of explosions and gun shots. Bridges and power lines have been dynamited. Explosives have been tossed at cars and houses. Automobiles and homes have been targets of shotgun blasts in the night.

Oak Grove Man,
Brother Killed
In Tex. Wreck

OAK GROVE, March 7 (Special)—An Oak Grove man, his brother, and his brother's wife were killed early Saturday in an automobile wreck near Amarillo, Tex.

The victims are Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gwin, of Ringland, Okla., and Billy Gwin of Oak Grove. The brothers were sons of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gwin of Oak Grove.

Billy, 20, had reportedly been visiting his brother in Oklahoma. Details of the wreck were unavailable here today.

Funeral services for the two brothers will be held in Rayville. Time and place of funeral services had not been set late Saturday.

Mrs. Gwin will be buried in Oklahoma. The two Oak Grove men are survived by their parents; two brothers, Otis Gwin of Rayville and James Gwin of Oak Grove, and two sisters, Mrs. Inez Rouse of Oak Ridge and Mrs. Virginia Price of Mansfield.

Medical History
Was Almost Made

HARTFORD, Conn., March 7 (AP)—Navy veteran Forest G. Draper, 20, was having trouble enlisting in the Air Force Saturday. They say he's pregnant.

Draper underwent a physical examination for Air Force enlistment at New Haven. But an officer told him as far as the Air Force was concerned, he's going to have a baby.

When Draper left the Navy in January, 1952, someone made a mistake and gave him a medical discharge for pregnancy. That's article C-10306 (P) and applies to the Navy's female personnel only.

The Air Force admitted it was a typing error, but said Draper still must sign a waiver stating he's not pregnant.

The strapping former high school athlete thought it was "ridiculous," but said he'd gladly sign himself out of his "pregnant condition."

FDR Held Last Egg-Rolling

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—Easter eggs will roll again on the White House lawn—after a lapse of 12 years.

A White House announcement today said President and Mrs. Eisenhower have decided to restore the traditional egg-rolling frolic for children up to 12 years of age. Adults will be admitted but must have kids with them.

The grounds will be open for the dyed-egg "battles" on the south lawn for nine hours—from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.—on Easter Monday, April 6.

The last egg party at the White House was held April 14, 1941, when the Franklin D. Roosevelts were there. The war brought a halt to the festivities.

Rolling started out as a gentle pastime of letting eggs wobble down a green slope in the capital's public parks. The lion house at the zoo was a favorite spot and

Kaplan Suicide Is Investigated By Committee

McCarthy Finds
'Voice' Worker's
Record Is Clean

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today his Senate investigations subcommittee has found nothing to indicate any wrongdoing by Raymond Kaplan, Voice of America employee whose death has been ruled a suicide.

The subcommittee has been conducting search for waste and subversion in the Voice, but McCarthy said it never had any plans to call Kaplan as a witness.

Kaplan, a radio engineer, said in an alleged suicide note to his wife and son that he had done nothing wrong but that "once the dogs are set on you, everything you have done since the beginning of time is suspect."

McCarthy, telephoning from New York, where the investigations subcommittee met in closed session today, said co-workers of Kaplan expressed "grave doubt" that his death was a suicide.

Kaplan, 42, was killed by a truck Wednesday night in Cambridge, Mass., and witnesses said he hurled himself into its path. A certificate of suicide was issued.

McCarthy said the subcommittee was curious as to why Kaplan would commit suicide and had decided to go over his files and to take testimony from his co-workers.

"We have found nothing to indicate he was guilty of any wrongdoing of any kind," McCarthy said.

The senator also said it appeared Kaplan was "active in recommending against" the location of a powerful short-wave Voice transmitter in Washington state. McCarthy contends atmospheric conditions in that area would interfere with overseas broadcasts.

The subcommittee has been told this project, known as "Baker West," was poorly located.

McCarthy said co-workers of Kaplan called by the subcommittee "refuse to believe he committed suicide." They were quoted by the senator as saying they could see no reason for Kaplan to take his life.

The senator said they testified Kaplan had called the Voice office in New York the afternoon of his death to ask to have his travel leave extended another day.

McCarthy said this was mentioned as an indication that Kaplan did not intend to kill himself.

The subcommittee still is studying, McCarthy said, an alleged suicide note left by Kaplan. He said this was obtained from the State Department.

McCarthy said the subcommittee may resume its public hearings in Washington on Monday.

He indicated the next hearing is likely to deal with the question of whether or not Kaplan was involved in the equipping of ships as floating transmitters for the Voice.

Adenauer Gets Pact Approval

BONN, Germany, March 7 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today received the legal green light to win approval in the Bundestag (lower house) on March 19 for his treaties to rearm West Germany in alliance with the West.

But these treaties—the six-nation European Army Pact and the related Bonn-Peace Contract—still face stiff legislative and court tests. Once they get through the Bundestag they must be approved by the Bundesrat (upper house).

After ratification they can be challenged on their constitutionality. What Adenauer gained today was a clear road to get ratification by a simple majority vote in the lower chamber of the legislature where he sails for Washington where he will see President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on April 7-9.

Air Rifle Robber
Nabbed By Police

GALVESTON, Tex., March 7 (AP)—A novel method of robbing jewelry stores was revealed Saturday when police arrested a man armed with an air rifle.

Chief of Detectives Willie Burns said the man, Charles Lillard Johnson, 30, said he would sit in his car in front of a jewelry store, and shoot BB's at the window.

"I would keep this up until there was a hole about the size of a golfball," Johnson said. "Then I would move the car down the street, wait until the coast was clear, go back and stick a coat hanger through the hole and pull out the rings."

Taft Asks Broad Probe On Entire Korean War

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—A broad-scale investigation of the whole Korean situation was proposed today by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), who suggested a special committee might be created for the task.

Taft's proposal brought immediate opposition from Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), another top runner in last year's race for presidential nominations.

Kefauver said an investigation such as Taft proposed would "plunge the conduct of the war into politics" and might feed information to the enemy.

Taft, the Republican floor leader, said "the whole subject should be looked into."

He suggested that an investigation now under way into reports that Allied troops in Korea have been short of ammunition might be broadened to cover the stalled armistice talks, the handling of prisoners of war, and related subjects.

"We should know about all of these things for their impact on whatever we are going to do in Korea," he said.

This apparently referred to strategy which President Eisenhower may be evolving on the basis of his visit to the battle zone last Dec. 25. At the time Eisenhower reported seeing "no panaceas, no tricks" for settling the war.

In a separate interview, however, Kefauver said: "I think that before we decide to make any such investigation,

Lodge Challenges Russians To End Conflict In Korea

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. Mar. 7 (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., stoutly defended today the peace aims of the Republican party against Russian onslaughts. He wound up the debate on Korea with a new challenge to Moscow to stop the Korean War immediately on U. N. terms.

The chief U. S. delegate spoke calmly but forcefully to the U. N. Political Committee after listening to fresh Iron Curtain blasts that the Republican administration is a war party and American "ruling circles" want to continue the war in Korea.

"I hear the phrase 'ruling circles,'" Lodge said. "I wonder what it means. Anybody who followed the election last fall in which there was a complete turnover in the government knows there are no 'ruling circles' in the United States."

"If you have any doubt about the American people's desire for peace ask any family—and I have personal experience here—who has a son or brother in the American forces."

Lodge has a son in Korea.

"It was the craving and the ardent desire of the Americans for peace that was responsible for the election result last fall," Lodge continued.

He summed up the Soviet position as follows: "The Soviet Union will not agree to peace in Korea. It will not allow the Communist Chinese to make peace. It insists that the war continue to the last Korean."

"It is the stark truth," he said solemnly, "that there could be peace in Korea tomorrow if the Communists would drop their opposition to the Indian resolution."

Lodge touched off the debate on Feb. 25 with a recital of what he said were 10 facts showing the Russians were giving weapons and help to the Communist Chinese and North Koreans.

Andrei Y. Vishinsky, who came here as foreign minister and sailed for Prime Minister Stalin's funeral yesterday as a mere deputy foreign minister and permanent U. N. delegate, openly acknowledged last Monday that the Russians have helped the Communist Chinese and said it was done under terms of a treaty with Peking.

With that admission fresh in his mind, Lodge restated the Western case this way: "Ninety-five per cent of my facts were admitted by Vishinsky."

Armed Robbers
Being Sought

ALEXANDRIA, La., March 7 (AP)—Police set up road blocks throughout Rapides parish Saturday in an effort to trap two armed men who tied up a service station attendant with an electric extension cord late Friday and stole $166 from the cash register.

Alexandria officers said the attendant, P. M. Trice, was alone at the station, just outside Alexandria. The gunmen ordered a tank of gasoline, then followed Trice into the office where he went to get change.

There Aren't Many
'John Does' Left

ST. LOUIS, March 7 (AP)—"John Doe," a citizen "proud of my country," has done it again. This time the anonymous taxpayer mailed in $800, in $50 bills, with his "John Doe" income tax form.

E. M. Flinn, assistant director of the St. Louis Internal Revenue office, said "John" has been doing this sort of thing for 10 or 12 years. His donations have ranged from $400 to $1,600, Flinn said.

Most donations carry no explanation. One year, however, the office received a scrawled note with the money.

It said the unknown contributor had reached an age where money was no longer of use to him, that he had no one to leave it to, and that he was showing he was "proud of my country."

Nurses Go Out On Strike In Okla. Hospital

HENRYETTA, Okla., March 7.—UP—Twenty-one practical nurses at the 40-bed Henryetta hospital went on strike Saturday and although most of the patients had been evacuated a few hours later, doctors made arrangements for the strike to cross the picket lines.

Dr. I. W. Bollinger, part-owner and manager of the hospital, said all but 13 of the patients had been sent home or to other hospitals by noon in preparation for closing down the hospital. But he said delivery of babies will go ahead on schedule. About 12 pregnant women are scheduled for confinement within the next 10 days, he said.

He made a state-wide appeal for graduate nurses to help out with the obstetrical and other emergency cases which may come in.

The nurses, neatly organized into a CIO union, put four pickets around the hospital when their strike for higher pay and shorter hours began at 7 a.m.

Doctors' wives were pressed into service, and at least one of the hospital's three registered nurses remained on duty. One was excused from work after reporting she had been threatened by the strikers, and Bollinger said the other RNs would not be asked to work during the strike.

The CIO is strong in Henryetta. The city has a large smelter and a glass plant and it was believed some of the patients were from union families. In addition, Bollinger and his partners, Dr. Carlton the official physicians for the plants, which have CIO labor contracts.

Bollinger said "we are going to see that all our present patients are cared for but it will take a little time to get them moved out ... we can't do it overnight."

Bob McVay of Oklahoma City, the CIO district representative who gave the strike go-ahead, said the employees are demanding a 40-hour week and wages of 75 cents an hour. Neither side would reveal what the nurses presently are paid, but some of the strikers claimed to have worked 72 hours a week.

A. V. Murino, leader of a "Citizens Union Committee," said CIO members were supporting the walk-out. The nurses, he said, were granted a charter direct from national CIO headquarters. But Claude Swartz, president of the smelter workers local, commented, "It's their strike, not mine."

Senator Long Introduces Bill To Close Base

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Sen. Long (D-La.), aiming at what he said would be a saving of more than 100 million dollars a year, has introduced a bill to force the Navy to close its establishment at Naples, Italy.

Long told the Senate yesterday he had visited the activity and thought almost all the Navy money spent there was wasted.

Navy records showed a total of 2,140 officers and men attached to various commands at Naples, where Adm. Robert B. Carney, commander in chief of Allied forces in Southern Europe, has headquarters.

The U. S. Naval Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean Command also has a Naples sub-headquarters and there also are naval air and communications units and housekeeping activities.

The navy said steps are being taken to reduce the Naples establishment, but that some operations and services will be needed as long as the Allies have a senior headquarters there.

Shreveport Charity Hospital Personnel Are Feuding Again

SHREVEPORT, La., March 7.—UP—The controversy at the Shreveport Charity Hospital boiled up again Saturday amid threats the hospital may lose its internees and resident doctors if Dr. C. S. Sentell, the superintendent, carries out his intentions to practice surgery.

The executive committee of the district staff at the hospital issued a statement following a special meeting of the full staff in which it voiced the warning.

"On March 15, new interne appointments are to be made," the statement said. "Many of the internees have made applications to come here on recommendations of resident doctors who themselves came here not long ago as interns. Unless the present conflict is resolved, we can't recommend that medical students come here."

The Charity board recently gave Dr. Sentell, a brother-in-law of Gov. Robert F. Kennon, permission to practice. The staff opposed and asked that Sentell's appointment by the board be withdrawn.

So far no action has been taken on the request for withdrawal.

The Final Analysis

At the end of the war in Germany in 1945, the Soviets erected big signs all over their sector which bore the inscription: "Hitlers come and Hitlers go, but the German people will remain." Now, some eight years later, the man who is responsible for that inscription is no longer an operating part of the politics of the world. The sign can be changed easily as far as names are concerned, but the context will be the same. Stalins and Hitlers come and they go, but the people always remain. Leave out any mention of personality and simply end the statement by saying tyrants come and go, but the world always remains. Tyrants simply are parts of the writings in the ledgers of history. They generally rise from nothing and even though they may die on silken sheets, even though a score of physicians surround them in their last few gasps, they pass on into eternity the same way in which they entered. There is a passage from the Bible which is sometimes used in the funeral services of several churches. It is from the First Epistles of Timothy (6:7) and reads: "We brought nothing into this world and it is certain that we can take nothing out." It is certain that Stalin takes nothing out of this world, none of his countless millions of subjects, his great power, his Communist party, not even the Kremlin itself.

What then is the result of this life of violence? What has come of the bloodletting, the fears, the constant anxieties, the ruthlessness? Can it be that some of this power will accompany a tyrant on his long trip into oblivion? Everyone knows that is an impossibility. Stalin with all his fearful power is now reduced to equality with those who have fallen before his hand. The millions of "Kulaks" whom he caused to die can each face him with equality and ask him, "why?"

Is life worth the trials of harming others for one's personal gain? It is believed that all the little would-be "tyrants" of many types and descriptions who are at present making lives miserable for some persons in this world will take note at the passing of this greatest of all tyrants and wonder what will happen to them some day. The ways of life are known. The limitations of human existence are set. Why is it that people, knowing that they have but a relative few days on the earth, knowing that life or human existence is but a short stop in the trip of everlasting life, will seek to use their days on this earth to cause as much harm as possible?

The Egyptians believed that their Pharaohs carried their world goods into the life ever after. They constructed pyramids of vast sizes to protect the bodies and the riches surrounding these bodies. What came of it all? What came of the suffering of countless thousands of slaves forced to drag huge slabs of limestone over the burning desert sands in order to satisfy the erroneous beliefs of the pagan Pharaohs? Nothing save robbers and the diggings of scientists in the later years. The gifts and riches never moved unless they moved by live human hands.

What became of the Empire of Napoleon? The realm of Suleiman the Magnificent, Attila the Hun, are they in existence? "Oh where are kings and Empires now; of old that went and came—" They are stories in the dusty legends of time. What type of place would the world have been should the fierce energies of these ruthless men been turned to good? What good is the great empire amassed by Stalin to that person now? Of what use are the Chinese, the Poles, the Hungarians, the Central Committees, the submarines, the MIG 15s, the Ukraine, the Iranian oil fields he tried so hard to get? Will these go with the former leader.

It is very possible that many devout Communists would now like to go with their leader who spelled "life" to them. That is impossible. It is impossible because their leader would no longer be a leader. He would be simple Joseph Vissarionovich Djugashvili, the Georgian divinity student who somewhere became obsessed with the idea that he should rule the world.

Some must wonder what the man is thinking now, if he can think, about those days of his golden youth, those days of violent revolution when he and his friends Trotsky, Kamenev, Lenin, Kossior, Bukharin, Zinoviev began an empire which was destined to rule over a vast section of the world. Does he dream of those days when his mother Catherine rocked him in her arms and called him her devoted "Soso"? Or maybe when he entered divinity school to study for the priesthood. What does he think about in his throes of death or in his long trip to the hereafter?

Does he recall the October of blood when the Romanoffs were killed and an era ended. Does he remember the early days when Lenin overthrew the Kerensky regime and started a new religion based on the law of material instead of the God he had forsaken? In his last moments does he consider that God who forgives even the worst in man, realizing that humans are his children as are the other animals of the earth? Perhaps he ponders his great mistake. Perhaps he wonders whether the life of a simple priest would not have been better than that of a revolutionary destined to end the lives of millions and directly affect the lives of millions more.

It is over now. It is too late for changes. What is done is done. The lives of tyrants and despots should serve as grim reminders that in the final analysis, the humans put here by God come in with nothing and go out with the same amount. The days of every person are numbered and what good on earth should be accomplished while that time lasts. All the power, all the success, the silken raiments, the great domains—

The Lord giveth, the Lord taketh away, Blessed is the name of the Lord.

Secrecy

Hubert Humphrey, the Senator from Minnesota who is supposed to represent the interests of all factions of the citizens of his state even though he was elected by the "Farmer-Labor-Independent Democrats", leaped up in a committee meeting of senators which was interrogating Charles Bohlen, the Ambassador-Designate to the Soviet Union. The necessity for this fiery departure was supposed to have been the "secrecy" adopted by the committee in the interrogation with which Humphrey was in disagreement.

Mr. Humphrey issued the following statement to the press: "This secrecy is merely garbling the history of the United States and the world." Apparently Mr. Humphrey has forgotten the original intention of the investigation, that of attempting to see just how much Franklin Roosevelt's "secrecy" had ruined the history of the world and the chances for future peace. Needless to say, that secrecy which covered Yalta like a cloud, allowed the Soviet Union to take over all of Eastern Europe, enslave countless millions of people, gave the Soviets the opportunity to enter the war against Japan and generally laid the foundations for the Korean conflict, has been overlooked by the "angry" senator and his Democratic associates in general.

Humphrey is against "secrecy" and demands open sessions of the senate committee. Why didn't he object to the secrecy at Yalta, at Potsdam, at Teheran, at Quebec, in Washington? Why didn't he object to the secrecy in the suppression of the Wedemeyer report, the entire set of circumstances surrounding the China fiasco, the secrecy surrounding the State Department and other dire features surrounding the approach to the Communist menace adopted by his party, or a majority of the members of his party in their last turn at the helm of the American ship of state? The answer should be obvious.

Senator Humphrey, who is a devoted leftist, has a record of this political philosophy in the past. He is a federalist who not only wants, but demands that the federal government be paramount over the states and the people. His record of voting in the senate shows him to be an advocate of everything socialistic. He is what has been termed a "young turk" or "radical" by many sources, including his own party members. He is frequently seen in conferences with Walter Reuther, Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., and others of that political order. The conservative members of his party will have nothing to do with him.

He was one of the principals connected with the effort to oust the Southern delegations from the Democratic National Convention last summer and also in 1948. He has frequently advocated a federal civil rights bill (F.E.P.C.) which is not only designed to get votes for himself, but which will give the federal government more power over individuals rather than actually assisting the minorities involved which are doing well for themselves in the South and other sections without federal assistance.

He is one of the principal assistants of the Oscar R. Ewing medicine bill which would put the federal government in the "doctoring business" on a big scale as the promulgator of the socialized medical plan, a plan proved to be unusable by the British people. He is a principal advocate of the elimination of the Taft-Hartley act which many labor unions not only accept, but want as a protection to themselves.

These are a few features of the senator from Minnesota who demands, now that the shoe is on the other foot, an end to "secrecy" and the open committee hearings. It is unfortunate that he didn't demand an end to all secrecy before this instance. In that, he could have served his nation and all of his constituents save that chosen few who he generally represents.

The American people are daily becoming aware of the politicians who use this "I'm for the little man" technique when they represent other sources and use the "little man" to get elected. No American should be a little man, he should be a big man who speaks for his individual freedoms and the rights of his state and local government without federal interference. These politicians who talk through their hats are being found out, and found out fast.

Americans are finding themselves and acting like Americans, not "little people" and "the Common man" every day. This talk will get nowhere.

A Record Of Opportunity

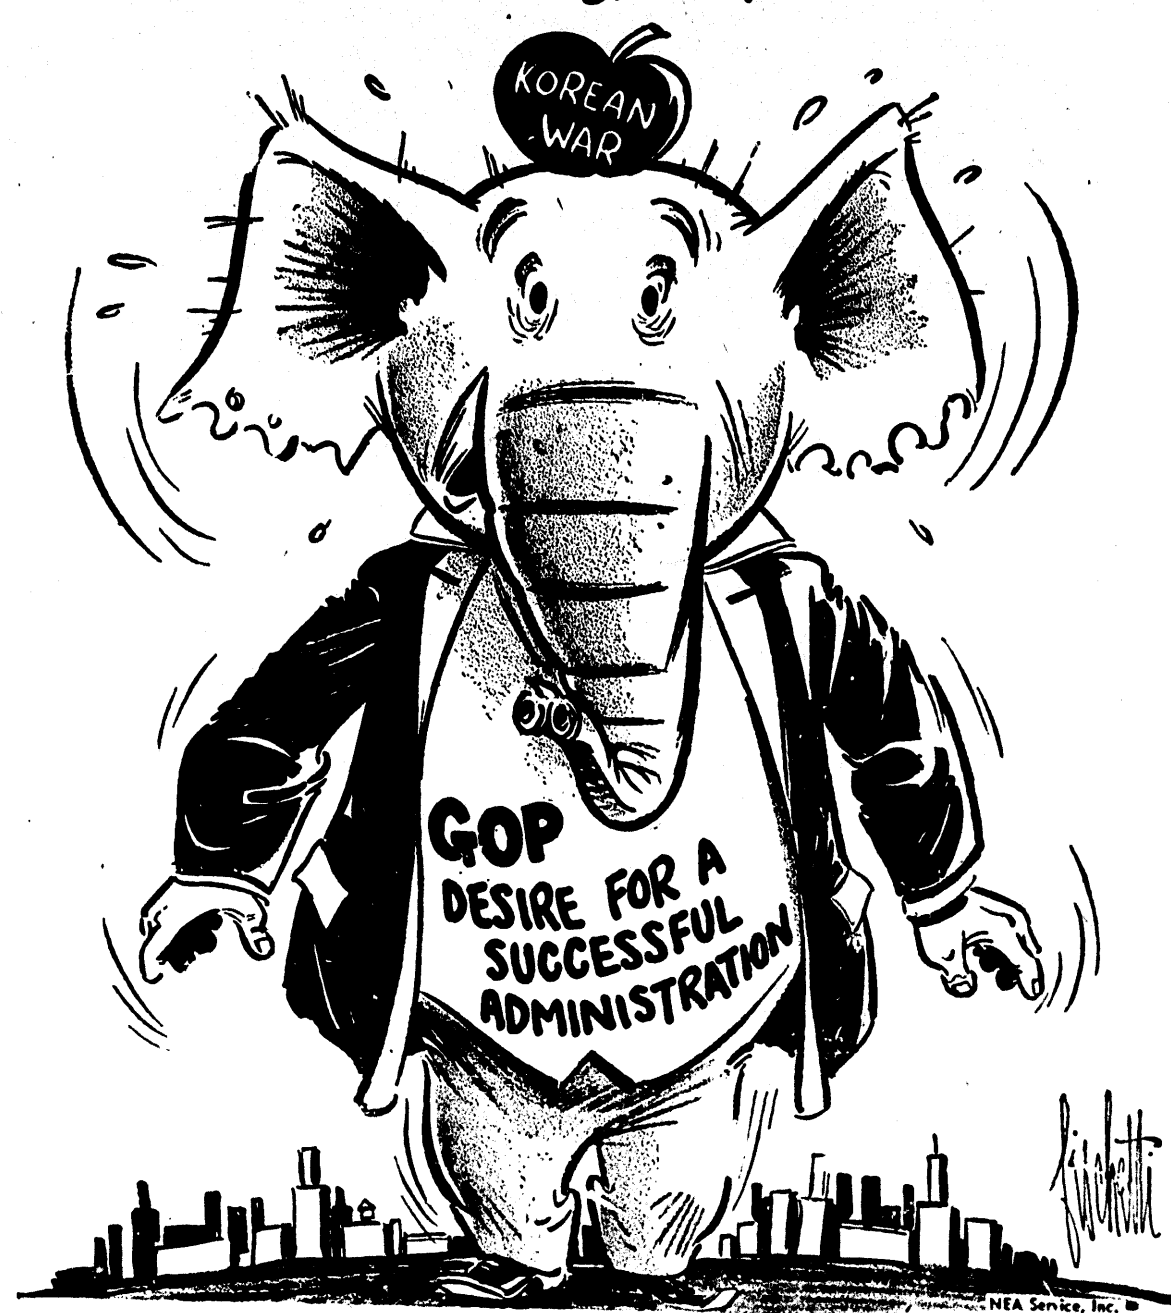

Numerous novels have been written about the migration of people to America from many lands. None describes the reason for such migrations better than Vilhelm Moberg in his book "The Emigrants." In it he presents the dilemma of a Swedish couple one hundred years ago as they argue for and against coming to this country, in the following fictional scene: "They are both of them strong and healthy and accustomed to hard work, and that was all that they need bring along: Their ability to work; it was all America asked of them. Perhaps they must face as much drudgery as here, but they would do it in another spirit, with another hope, another joy. Because the great difference between the two countries was this: In America they could improve their lot through their own work."

Moberg's scene must actually have occurred in thousands of peasant cottages in many countries where political oppression and the rule of tyrants drove people by the millions to the freedom of America.

Now all around us we see the miracles wrought by people seeking to "improve their lot." Nowhere is the evidence of these miracles more striking than in agriculture. In America for the first time in thousands of years new methods and new machines were developed for working the soil. The Country Gentleman for January featured an article entitled "New Machines for 1953." In picture and in word the article described the modern farm equipment that has made this nation the most productive on earth.

A field harvester is shown that can handle up to 25 tons of corn or hay silage per hour. Mechanized cotton-pickers are illustrated along with a sagebrush shredder, various types of balers, harrows, manure spreaders, side-delivery rakes, picker-shellers, etc. These and countless other labor saving farm machines would cause the early immigrant to gaze in awe struck wonder and yet they are the direct result of the compelling force that drove him to America, the urge to better his lot. And they have done just that. They have cut down drudgery, increased production and lowered costs.

Timmons In Washington

By Bascom N. Timmons and his Staff

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The end of the Stalin regime, in the opinion of most members of congress, can definitely be to the advantage of U. S. foreign policy, if proper advantage is taken of it.

The average member who has heard secret testimony in committee or been given inside information about the Soviet hierarchy expects several months of internal conflict in Moscow and throughout the rest of Communist Russia, but does not anticipate a break up of the Politburo, the ruling 3 man tribunal of the Kremlin.

What may happen in the satellite nations is speculated upon here more than the outcome of the battle for power within Russia itself. Many members of congress have large numbers of constituents who trace their antecedents to "slave countries" behind the Iron Curtain.

With Stalin's firm hand no longer directing the harsh and brutal policy of Communist control, the wish is father to the thought here that the browbeaten and oppressed nations under Communist rule may at least develop internal strife between rivals which will give the Eisenhower administration opportunity to use some psychological warfare.

It seems to be a fortuitous circumstance that Stalin is passing from the picture just at the time the United States is regarding itself for more aggressive measures against world Communism. While Stalin held sway, even the vigor of the new administration could not remove doubt that the stalemate between the free and totalitarian worlds could be broken at any time in the near future. Now there are new rays of hope, based upon these possibilities:

1. A break between Communist satellite states and Moscow, such as occurred between the USSR and Yugoslavia, over the constant effort of the Kremlin to exert more and more authority over those countries and its purging of Communists suspected of deviation.

The most effective result could be the shutting off of the flow of military supplies from the USSR to the Korean front. That could only happen, Pentagon circles believe, if the new powers in Russia decided to cut their tremendous military expenditure.

Spotlight On Hollywood

By Erskine Johnson

And now it can be told that the Natural Vision process was offered to every major Hollywood studio two years ago. All of them turned it down, saying, "People won't wear glasses to see movies."

Now 21 Natural Vision 3-D films are in production or being planned.

Sales executives of the major studios are predicting a big bonanza via the re-issue of old movies to theaters. But unlike the old movies on TV you'll have to pay to see 'em. . . . As you've been reading here, Joan Bennett and Walter Wanger are all set for that big reconciliation.

Dick Powell, president of the Television Writers of America, is worried that censorship is turning America's comedians into Hamlets.

Says Dick: "We haven't run out of comedians; we have run out of topics about which we can be funny—satire and humor based on reality."

He blames TV and radio sponsors, agencies, networks, pressure groups, pickets, professional black-listers and black-malliers, witch hunters and self-appointed guardians of "our way of life."

I'm sorry he missed blaming the party line, which has effectively stifled all initiative.

2. The danger that some of the top figures in the huge Russian army may now resist the tight Communist control. Soviet military power has been exerted through political control, but totalitarian dictatorship fears its own armed strength, as indicated by frequent changes in the high commands of the Soviet army.

3. In event of dissension within the Soviet leadership, a new opportunity for the Voice of America to direct more skillful propaganda broadcasts behind the Iron Curtain to take advantage of the confusion in Russia and the satellite countries.

4. A new reign of terror raised by suspicion among the top level figures around Stalin. Russian observers are inclined to believe that Stalin's main force has been to keep his Politburo associates from cutting one another's throats in the constant struggle for power.

These developments, if they do come, will give the United Nations its greatest opportunity to assert the authority which has been denied it by the clever maneuvering of its Communist bloc to forestall action, in the opinion of many members of congress.

The question about the effect of the loss of Stalin's directive power on the Far Eastern situation and the Korean war can be answered only by speculation, it is agreed here.

Any deterioration of central control in Moscow could be reflected in Peiping and dissension there could have a marked influence on the Chinese Communist war policy in Korea. But the Chinese Communist military leaders have their own indoctrination and U. S. military advisors are understood to question whether Stalin's loss would bring any immediate change.

The most effective result could be the shutting off of the flow of military supplies from the USSR to the Korean front. That could only happen, Pentagon circles believe, if the new powers in Russia decided to cut their tremendous military expenditure.

Hollywood

By Jimmy Fidler

HOLLYWOOD, March 7. — I am amazed — and amused — by the stuffiness of those Canadian labor leaders who are threatening to boycott the forthcoming Canadian National Festival, unless Bob Hope is cancelled out as one of the paid entertainers. The labor group is bearing down on Hope as a result of some jokes he has used in his radio program — jokes which the labor leaders consider "belittling" to the British Empire.

Thank heaven, Americans have a better sense of humor. We'd be boycotting every comedian in the business if we didn't take an occasional jibe at the shenanigans that go on in our own nation's capitol. What's more, I think this is a wholesome condition. We've seen too many tragic examples of what happens in dictator countries where there is total suppression of political jokes.

It's a sure thing that Hope bears no malice towards the British Empire, or its people. He has demonstrated many times how keenly he feels toward them as a result of their post-war privations and hardships. Twice within the past two years Bob has staged tremendous benefits in London to aid worthy English charities. What is more, he's done this largely at his own expense, refusing to deduct even his travel costs in making the long trip to and from London.

I hope the Canadian labor leaders, whose views, I'm sure, do not reflect those of a majority of Canadians, will withdraw their complaint. It's unfortunate if a joke goes sour, but it is tragic if a friendship does — and friendship is exactly what Bob Hope has always demonstrated toward the British people.

Although there is rivalry to a degree between the movies and television — and talk in some quarters that TV is wrecking the film industry — the coming of television has been a boon to hundreds of movie players in Hollywood. This is the view of Al Simon, associate producer on the Burns and Allen and Joan Davis series, and who heads his own producing company of Al Simon Productions. Al tells me that it is his judgment that if television had not arrived when it did, Hollywood today would be a ghost town for many artists. While these men and women are not receiving fat salaries in television work, they are working. I would like to say also that where the film industry is using commercials in television, boosting or heralding their better productions, in addition to newspaper and magazine advertising, they have had a pleasing response in box office increases. It seems to me that instead of being rivals, each of these industries can be beneficial to the other.

A glamorous young star who has literally zoomed to the top in recent months is Rosemary Clooney, in song as well as sheer acting ability. She clinched her growing popularity in "The Stars Are Singing," and in making a personal appearance at the picture's premiere in her home town of Maysville, Kentucky. When she and Bob Hope were on the program at Adolph Zukor's 80th birthday celebration in Hollywood some weeks ago, she set the stage for similar appearances in other coming big events — New York, Chicago, Hollywood. Yes, Rosemary has arrived, and I wish for her every success. She is one of the most refreshing personalities on the screen today.

MINERALS AND BONDS

Farmerville, La.
"Editor, Morning World:
I am writing you about two matters that you have in the last two months taken a part in through your valuable paper. You were generous in advertising the possibilities of Northeast Louisiana and therefore had me interviewed about minerals in Northeast Louisiana. I gave you a list of some of the minerals that could be found in Ouachita, Union, Lincoln and Morehouse, and as the matter became public through your column and was used by The Associated Press in four states the result has been that a number of engineers, mineralogists and chemists have become interested in this area, and I understand that the Department of Interior is checking very closely the area referred to by me with five or six of its geologists and skilled experts, and I therefore believe, as I stated before, we are destined to find areas here and there that have wonderful possibilities, just as the mine in Lincoln Parish has.

I would like to say if any land owners in Ouachita Parish have any dark or slate grey minerals, outcroppings, that resemble petrified plants or parts of trees, and that have slight resemblance of coal or lignite I would be glad to have them analyzed, provided they give us the location and area where they came from so that they can be referred to the proper authorities. The only way we are ever going to attract a developer is to do it through the proper authorities and invite them to take a look at things.

The other thing I wanted to mention is that about ten weeks ago your paper announced that there was a possibility that France, the United States, Italy and Germany, together with 18 or 20 other countries would make an agreement with West Germany to redeem 5 billion in bonds that were issued by Germany in 1922, 1923 and 1924 and repudiated by Hitler thereafter. As I own a few of these bonds in connection with one of my clients and friends and now represent the holders of 5 million Mark bonds and 250,000 Crowns and Kroens of Vienna and Austria I became interested in the matter and have gotten up information from Germany, from Washington, New York and from the German and Austrian Embassies, which made me believe several weeks ago that the bondholders are going to eventually realize something out of their bonds, even though there will have to be a reduction on interest and a long time yearly payment made, but this is a vital matter in America because $3,800,000,000 out of the $5 billion bond issue was sold to people all over America and many bonds brought to this country by refugees, and now I find as of date February 27th, 1953 the governments have gotten together and the agreement was supposed to have been signed last Saturday, which must be followed by ratification of the Senate and therefore it looks like we have a chance to at least get something out of it, and in the meantime when it looks good the brokers and bond buyers will buy at a discount, and I told all people all over America to buy them, and my reason for writing you is not only as you have helped these bond holders by your previous publication, but to warn those who hold bonds not to destroy them. There are practically 5 or 6 million Marks of these bonds and half million Crowns in Union Parish, and I am told that in your parish there are several million Marks and a hundred thousand Crowns and Kroens, but that sometime back a million dollars worth of Marks were destroyed in Monroe because they had been repudiated and nobody dreamed that they would ever be redeemed and paid even on a reduction basis, so it will pay those who have them to hold them and not destroy them. If we all get together and use the same broker in New York, or the same bank, and probably an international broker it looks like we will materialize something out of it yet, and I am therefore giving the benefit of the information I have to those who hold bonds not to destroy them.

Senator Ellender has been of immense aid and value to Louisiana bondholders in getting up information and in putting us in touch with the proper authorities and giving general information which may lead to the payment and redemption of our bonds.

Stalin Looks Like Man Of Steel Even In Death

(Note: Eddy Gilmore, Associated Press correspondent in Moscow for more than a decade, joined the vast lines of those viewing the body of Joseph Stalin today. Here is his story.)

By EDDY GILMORE
MOSCOW (AP)—In death as in life, Joseph Stalin is a singular figure of a man.
Lying here in the Hall of Columns, his head on a silk pillow, he is a striking figure. There is a monumental dignity about him. He wears a grey military jacket—one that the world has seen in so many pictures. Over his heart are numerous medals. One recognizes particularly the gold star of the Hero of Socialist Labor.
You start in this seemingly endless line of people at the door of the Hall of Columns in the House of Trade Unions. It's a bitterly cold day, the kind that makes the pavement burn through the soles of your shoes. The sun is shining but the mercury has sagged below zero.

Moscow's wide streets near the House of Trade Unions are cleared and orderly as lines converge on the green colored building in the heart of the city, a very short distance from the old Kremlin, where Stalin worked and died.

There are all kinds of people. Old people, young people, middle aged people, children.

Some have eyes red from crying. All are solemn. About them is an air of expectancy that they are close to seeing something dramatic. Some carry wreaths of spring flowers. Some hold small bunches of golden mimosa. Two or three can be seen almost staggering under gigantic wreaths.

There's a shuffle, shuffle, shuffle of thousands of people's feet. And a great hush. Then that sound that come from thousands upon thousands talking in whispers in open places.

I reached the open double doors of the building and walked in beneath a tremendous portrait of the Generalissimo—the portrait four or five times bigger than the doors themselves.

Inside, uniformed men indicate the way. People come in two abreast or three abreast. The lines keep moving into a high hallway, up some stairs. To another corridor. Into still another corridor. Large electric lights move over the line, illuminating them for photographers.

We turn to the left and hear the soft muted music of a multi-stringed orchestra playing on an elevated stage. I recognize a sad Tschalkovsky melody. Spotlights from the corners of the room bear down upon the wreathed bier in the middle of the room.

There is a perfume of massed spring flowers. The shuffle, shuffle, sound of feet. The heavy silence of people in the presence of the dead.

Stalin's bier, with the lights upon it, is in the very center of everything. Every eye is on it. Here is the place where only a few hours ago Malenkov, Beria, Molotov and others of Stalin's closest associates grouped around the dead leader's bier for photographs carried in today's papers.

Just ahead of me in line is the British ambassador, Sir Alvaro Gasegoin, in a cutaway coat and morning trousers. There is the Italian ambassador, Mario de Stefani. The American charge d'affaires, Jacob Beam. The French ambassador, Louis Joxe. Chinese diplomats and other Chinese.

Stalin's head is away from you. His feet toward you. You move up to the foot of the coffin and look up at the face of the man who led the Russian people for so many years, this man who became one of the best known in history.

Look at the dead face, known in every corner of the world. The face is stern. The hair is brushed the way you always saw him. His mustache full and neat. His chin and jaw as resolute in death as in life.

A strong face. Like the name Stalin, which means "steel." Somewhere in the room there's a choked sob. It came from a woman. She is crying. The line moves past the bier. I look over my left shoulder and see Stalin in profile.

The face seems to show some of the stress of those last days when he lay dying in the Kremlin hospital. Still, it's as if you might have seen him as you walked quietly into his office and found him napping on his couch.

Notes from the strings swell up again. The woman sobs. The atmosphere abounds in grief.

Keeping in line, we move into another corridor, through two more doors and out into the open and cold again.

"Uncle," says a small boy—all small boys call older men uncle in Russia—"did you see Stalin?"

"Yes, I did. Did you?"

"Yes, and I'm going to see him again."

He'd better hurry. There must be more than a million people who have yet to go through that Hall of Columns as a million must have already gone through.

Joseph Stalin's funeral will be on Monday. He will be laid to rest in old Red Square beside Lenin. The same Red Square where I remember seeing Stalin help carry the coffin of his friend, Andrei Zhdanov.

Billy Graham Sees Fight Among Reds

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 7 (AP)—The Rev. Billy Graham predicted here today that Joe Stalin's death will have great repercussions on the Communist party program for world domination.

The Baptist Evangelist said he believed that a strong military crowd will assume control of the Russian government and that they may decide to have war within a year.

Graham, here to conduct week-end evangelistic services, also said that "I think Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek is one of the greatest Christian statesmen, but he has been severely treated."

The evangelist, who recently visited Chiang Kai-Shek while on a tour of the Far East, said, "The left wingers in the State Department have 'pulled the rug out from under him.' It was the greatest blunder in American history to let him down." He didn't elaborate.

At the recruit graduation review he received an honorman certificate and an engraved identification bracelet from Navy Comdr. J. R. Hansen, executive officer of the Recruit Training Command.

Premature Korean Thaw Fouls Up Battlefront

EASTERN FRONT, Korea, Sun-March 8 (AP)—Spring has come to the 155-mile Korean battlefront.

It may not stay—it's a month early—but it is causing front-line troops plenty of headaches. And these headaches will last until spring's mud and slush turn into summer's clouds of dust.

Trails and side roads which have carried 10-ton trucks across their frozen roadbeds during the winter are sinking under jeeps.

The premature Korea thaw, with afternoon temperatures ranging into the 50s the past week, has turned front-line areas into a quagmire.

Fighting men who have grown used to wading through snow are slipping, sliding and falling in the two inches of clay mud that covers the roads and patches and cascades down ridgelines into the valleys.

An Allied patrol into no man's land two nights ago had to turn back before making contact with the Communists. Three of its men had slipped off a narrow ridge trail in front of Allied lines and had to be pulled back by rope.

The patrol, intact except for bruises and abrasions, finally got back to Allied lines 7½ hours after it started. The men were soaked from head to foot and plastered with so much clay mud that they could not be immediately recognized.

Front-line soldiers are propping up bunker walls, sagging under their own weight as the frost oozes out of the ground below.

Sandbag parapets on the forward edge of trenches, built on frozen ridgelines during the winter, need constant watching and repair. One 20-foot section slid into the valley below while South Koreans were trying to hold it in place with stakes and wire.

Army engineers are cutting "V" ditches across front-line roads to speed up drainage of waterflooded down from the ridges.

Other engineers are bolstering sagging road beds with truckload after truckload of crushed rock.

Two things, however, cheer both the men and their officers: The sudden runoff has almost cleared the ridges and valleys of snow and ice, and the underlying frozen earth has prevented deep gouging of roads and terrain. Unless there is more late spring snow, main and side supply roads will be in relatively good shape when the spring rains come.

American equipment and engineering knowhow are known to be superior to that of the Communists, facing the same problem.

Col. Francis S. d'Orsa of Arlington, Va., a front-line regimental commander, put it this way after touring his sector:

"Even if the Reds had engineering personnel as good as ours—and they don't—they don't have the heavy equipment we have. We'll be in good shape when the Reds are still slipping and sliding about in the mud."

Three Go To State Prison

Three persons were transferred to the state penitentiary at Angola Saturday by Ouachita parish Sheriff Bailey Grant. The three were convicted and sentenced in Fourth District Court during the past week.

Sheriff Grant identified the men as Richard J. Redmond, Anle Reynolds and William Edward Newbill.

Redmond was sentenced to 10 years in the state prison after being found guilty of theft of $650. He was given the sentence Thursday by Judge David I. Garrett.

Reynolds and Newbill were both arrested on Feb. 12 and charged with theft of an automobile, a 1946

Cadillac belonging to Harry Koke, on the previous night. They were apprehended in Rayville and returned to Ouachita parish. Both entered pleas of guilty in Fourth District Court on March 4 and remanded for sentence. The following day they were given the prison sentences. Reynolds was given three years and Newbill five years at the state prison.

Newbill is also wanted in Florida for escape from the state prison, where he was serving a 20 year sentence for armed robbery. When arrested, he gave his name as Arthur Edward Simmons. He was also known by eight other aliases.

Delegation Of Chinese Reds Go To Moscow

TOKYO, Sunday, March 8 (AP)—Communist China hurried a high-ranking 18-member delegation headed by Premier Chou En-lai off to Moscow by plane Saturday while the Red Army in Korea pledged support to the Soviet Union in a "fight to final victory."

Gen. Peng Teh-hual, commander of 750,000 or more Chinese Red troops in Korea, messaged Moscow his men "in memory of great Stalin" will turn their sorrow into strength.

In an obviously directed statement, Peng declared the Chinese and Korean Red armies would "deal the enemy still heavier blows if he dare engage in 'adventures,' and threatened 'ignominious defeat' to any Allied offensive.

The Red broadcast, monitored by The Associated Press in Tokyo, devoted almost its entire newscast to Stalin's death but gave only the bare text of the Tass announcement that Georgi M. Malenkov had succeeded to Stalin's powers. There was no comment on this.

Instead, a long series of messages emphasized grief at Stalin's death and the need for continuing to follow closely Stalin's policies in Red China.

Red China's leader, Mao Tze Tung, leading members of his regime called on the Soviet ambassador in Peking, Alexander Panyushkin, to express condolences in person.

Besides Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai, the delegation included seven members of the powerful Central Committee of the Chinese Communist party.

The economic, military and diplomatic caliber of the delegation suggested it was high enough to conduct Sino-Russian talks in all three fields although there has been no announcement that such talks would take place.

China has geared itself to a policy of close economic collaboration with Russia this year, particularly in starting a five-year plan, and there was evidently concern in Peking on how that program might be affected with new leadership.

Tech Forensic Meet Scheduled On March 13-14

RUSTON, March 6 (Special)—Louisiana Tech's third annual high school forensic tournament will be held March 13 and 14, according to P. J. Pennington and Miss Wilma Baugh.

The tournament will be attended by school representatives from Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. About 75 high schools are expected to be represented by over 200 students at the meet which will be held in the Tech Dramatics Building.

The tournament will consist of four forensic areas: debate, extemporaneous speaking, poetry interpretation, and radio speaking. Debate will be divided into four divisions, freshman - sophomore boys and girls, and junior - senior boys and girls. The other three areas will be divided into boys and girls divisions.

Judges for the contests will be high school forensic coaches, Tech faculty members, citizens of Ruston and Tech forensic students.

Parking Meters Are Ignored In One City

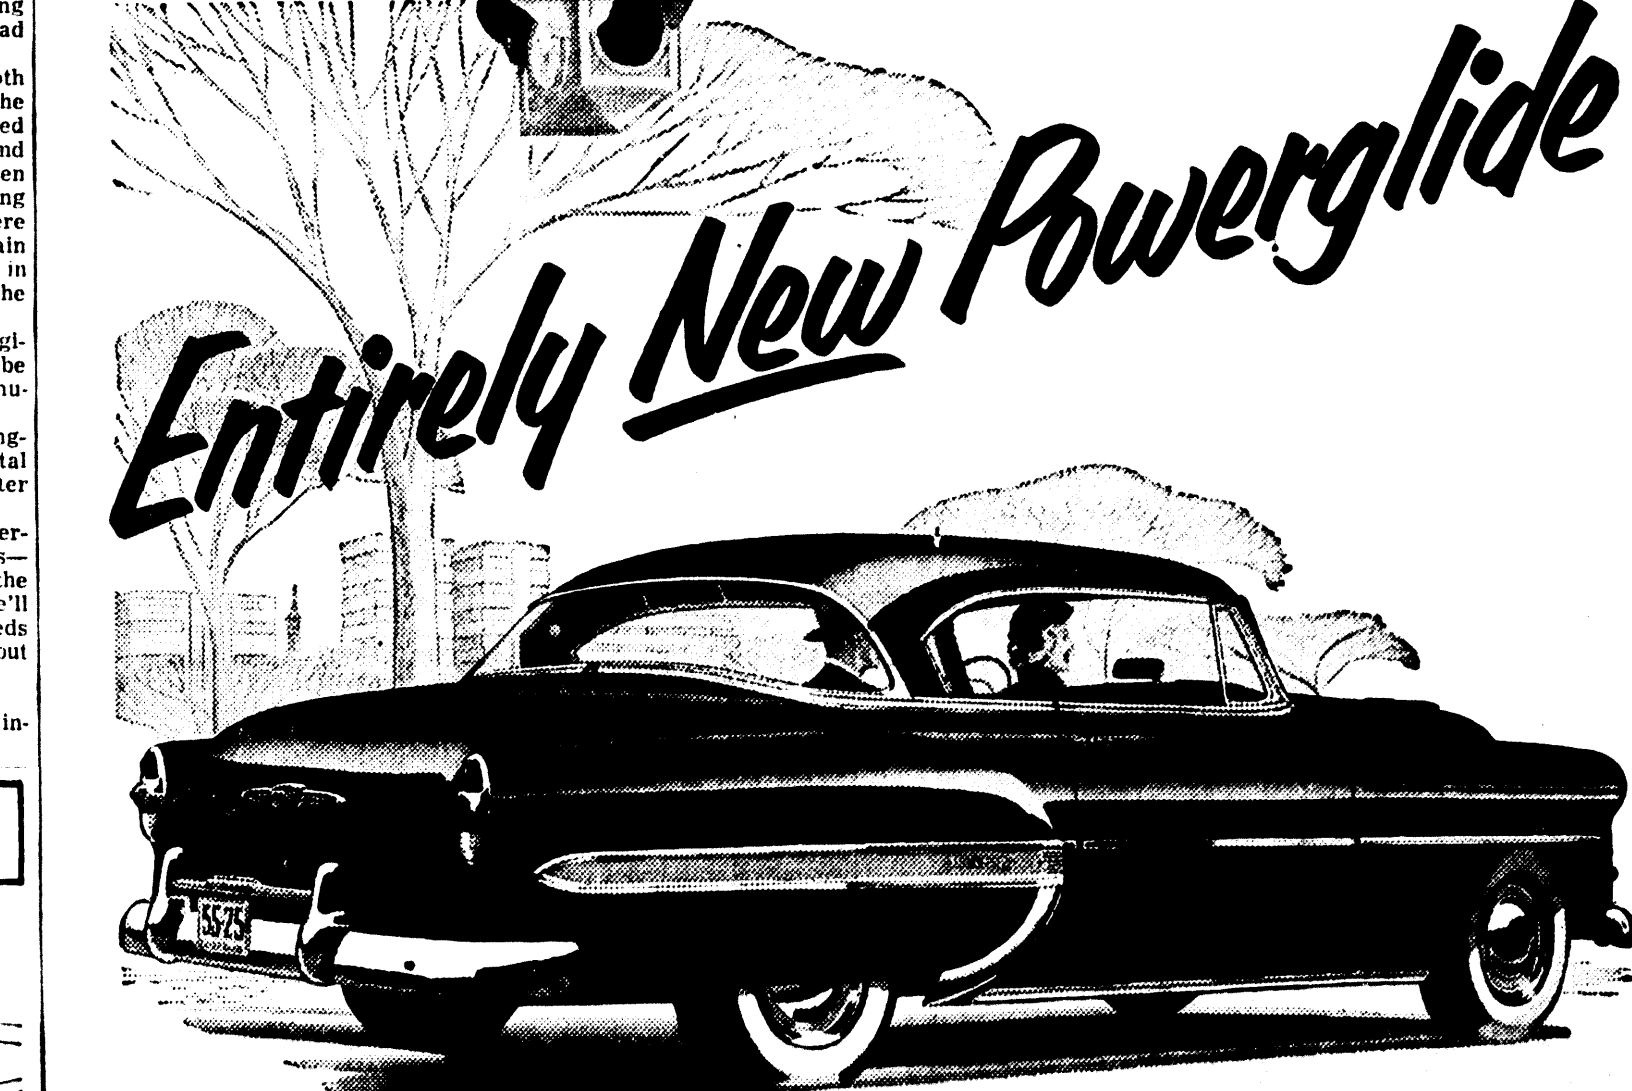

HOLLY SPRINGS, Miss., March 7 (AP)—Parking meters, the pet hate of auto owners, get little notice from folks here.

Clark Porteous, a Memphis Press Scimitar reporter covering a trial, spent the morning feeding nickels into the thirsty gadgets. He finally noticed other motorists along the street registered "expired."

Porteous cornered Police Chief Jimmie Warren, who explained: "A good salesman sold the city the meters, but they are so unpopular, and by common consent, nobody puts coins in and nobody gets tickets."

German Kasseler Rippchen Is Tasty Pork Tenderloin

Beef Roulette utilizes round steak to advantage. The recipe came from England, circa 1885, and is a good one for the archives today. First requirement is three slices of round steak about 3-8 inches thick, from the upper part of the round. For the stuffing: 1 cup finely ground raw ham, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1 pinch cayenne, 3 tablespoons rich beef stock (1 bouillon cube dissolved in boiling water will do it), 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1/2 cup bread crumbs.

Mix all ingredients well and spread over the beef slice, then roll them up and tie with string, not too tightly. Roll each roll in flour, then brown well in a skillet in 4 tablespoons bacon fat. Remove the beef rolls and place them in a large saucepan or Dutch oven. Now you will need: 2 small onions, finely chopped, 4 cloves, 1 1/2 pints boiling water, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 heaping teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon MSG.

Cook onions until golden in the fat in which you browned the beef rolls, add the flour and stir three minutes. Pour in the rapidly boiling water, boil up, then pour over the beef rolls and add remaining seasonings. Cover and simmer for 1 1/4 hours, then turn rolls over and simmer another 1 1/2 hours. Serve on a platter with gravy over, garnished with parsley. Serves six.

You may pep this up a bit if you wish — stuffed olives may be added, a whiff of garlic for those who like it, and even 1 tablespoon or more of Madeira wine, to taste. However, we found it so good as originally outlined that we served it that way.

We served cold celery root salad among other items with the "roulettes" — this recipe may be used equally well with beef: 3 celery roots, thinly sliced and quartered, 1 small onion, thinly sliced, 1/4 cup cider vinegar, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper.

Boil all together for at least 15 minutes, until roots are tender. Cook, chill and serve. This keeps well in the refrigerator, and also may be used to advantage on a Smorgasbord or buffet table.

We also tried braised French endive with the beef. Using 2 heads of endive per person, wash and trim and arrange in a single layer in a skillet having a tight-fitting cover.

We sprinkle the heads with 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 3 tablespoons butter, pour 1/2 cup water over, cover, then bring to a boil, and simmer until endive is tender (about 25 minutes).

Place heads in a heated serving dish, and while keeping them hot, boil liquid in which they cooked until there is about 1/4 cup remaining, then add 2 tablespoons butter and cracked black pepper, stir together, and pour over the endive heads.

Endive cooked this way may be served with Hollandaise or other desired sauce, in place of the butter sauce. It may be treated just as you would asparagus, braised celery, or braised lettuce.

It may be cooked under pressure, adding 1-3 cup salted water, and 1 teaspoon lemon juice, cooking under pressure four minutes, then reducing heat immediately, and proceeding as above. It makes an interesting variation.

Employment Is Dropping In La.

BATON ROUGE, La., March 7 —UP—Non-farm employment in Louisiana dropped 24,800 in January from the all-time high set the previous month, but the Employment Security Administration said Saturday the decline was "seasonal and not alarming."

As of Jan. 15, the administration said, employment in the state totaled 672,300. The non-manufacturing group lost 17,400 employees from mid-December, 1952, to mid-January, 1953. The largest decrease in that category was in sales personnel, the agency said, and was chiefly the result of post-holiday reductions in staff.

The manufacturing industry lost 7,400 employees — most of them in the food group. The agency said this was because of decreases in canning and because the cane harvest was completed.

Employment in lumber and wood products decreased considerably due to inclement weather but more people were hired by transportation firms as a result of new contracts in shipbuilding and repairing.

The employment administration reported that a average weekly earnings of production workers in manufacturing increased from $61.20 in December to $62.01 in January.

We also tried braised French endive with the beef. Using 2 heads of endive per person, wash and trim and arrange in a single layer in a skillet having a tight-fitting cover.

Manville Can't Take His 12th Blushing Bride

LAREDO, Tex., March 7 —UP—A maneuver in Mexican law apparently made marrying Tommy Manville a divorced man again Saturday, though not enough so to risk taking a 12th bride.

Federal Judge Manuel G. Toro Flores decided last Saturday that a divorce which Mrs. Anita Frances Rodney-Eden got from Manville in Reynosa, Mexico, last August, was illegal.

Mrs. Manville, who was the 58-year-old asbestos heir's 11th bride, asked to have the divorce set aside. Manville now wants to marry Mrs. Lillian Bishop Alvear, 29, of Union City, N. J.

Pedro de Los Santos Mendoza, Manville's Laredo attorney, filed an appeal Saturday before Judge Flores, asking a higher federal circuit court at Monterrey to review Flores' decision.

Court secretary Carlos Denis said this means, at least temporarily, that the Reynosa divorce is reinstated, until the circuit court hands down a decision.

The court may eventually decide to uphold Flores' decision. That would invalidate the divorce again, without hope of appeal, and re-instate the marriage.

"Mrs. Manville is still divorced," Mendoza said. "She has won only one round. The fight has just begun. This is a 15-round bout."

Has Extreme Hatred For Western World

Georgi Malenkov Is A Hard-Hearted Man Of Action

By The Associated Press
Soviet Russia's new boss — Georgi Maximilianovich Malenkov — is a man of action. He showed that in the speed with which he moved into Joseph Stalin's shoes. For years the chubby, beetle-browed man whom Stalin molded into a model Communist plotted to succeed his boss. There is little doubt that Malenkov figured some time ago that Stalin's final days were nearing and schemed accordingly. When the end came he apparently acted swiftly. His appointment as chairman of the Council of Ministers, the key government job held by Stalin, means that he has firmly grasped one of the real controls of power in the Kremlin and probably has his hands firmly upon others as well.

Malenkov is a product of the Soviet dictatorship Stalin shaped. Only 51, he has known nothing but communism since early adolescence. All his adult life he has spent as a Communist surrounded by Communists. Communist teachers and Communist writers have given Malenkov his conception of the Western world and of democracy. These teachings have taught him to be granite-hard, but cautious in his external approach. The few Western diplomats who have talked to him found him a grim forbidding man who gave one dominant impression — hatred for the Western world. Rarely seen in public, except on state occasions, Malenkov has seldom been known to relax. Unlike most Russians, who are convivial drinkers and good mixers, Malenkov sips wine and watches the others carouse. Aping Stalin, he invariably wears the party tunic, buttoned up to the neck, with his trousers tucked in his boots. His elevation to the prime ministry over the heads of older Bolsheviks did not surprise many observers. His designation last fall as keynote speaker at the 19th party congress demonstrated clearly that he was recognized as the outstanding figure under Stalin in both party and government affairs. His speech lambasting the party for "mistakes and shortcomings" showed the elements of a successful bidder for his leader's mantle. The tumultuous reception he received from Congress members — second only to that accorded Stalin — showed the position of power he had attained. Malenkov was born at Orenburg in the Urals in 1902. He was too young to take part when the Russian Revolution broke out, but at 17 he enlisted in the Red Army, and a year later joined the Communist party. When only 20, he was assigned the job of political commissar — party tutor and spy — in the Army. In 1925 Stalin got him a job with the Central Committee. He soon became Stalin's personal secretary. In 1937 he was rewarded with a seat on the Central Committee. Malenkov emerged in a leading position in party councils just before World War II when he became one of the secretaries of the Central Committee.

While Stalin ran the war, Malenkov was in virtual charge of party administration and carried on vital war tasks as well. He directed aircraft production and by 1943 had boosted it to 40,000 planes a year. For this he received the Soviet Union's highest civilian award, Hero of Socialist Labor. In 1948, he became a full member of the Politburo. When Malenkov reached his 50th birthday in January, 1952, the Soviet press pulled out all the stops, crying his praises in a manner reminiscent of the fuss made on Stalin's own decade birthdays. The celebration startled the Western world and probably a good portion of the Communist world as well. To the West it might mean but one thing — the bright boy who grew up politically under Stalin's wing was being prepared for succession to the crown. The election of the directors came at the end of the association's two-day convention. President Allen L. Lobrano of Plaquemines parish was re-elected to head the association. Traffic increases. FERRIDAY, March 7 (Special) — According to George S. Covert, Louisiana director of highways, traffic on the Natchez-Vidalia bridge has almost doubled since toll fees were removed on the bridge in September. The report says that traffic has jumped from 378 as clogged in April to 4,370 in November. An elaborate system of pumps keeps New Orleans from being flooded when it rains.

Swartz, pastor of the Wisner Assembly of God Church.

New Communist Caesar Takes Over

5 Days That Shook Red World

By CARL C. CRANMER
Associated Press Staff Writer
The Communist empire's Caesar is dead. A new Caesar has taken over and the free world faces the future with foreboding, just as did the pagan world 2,000 years ago when Rome's Caesar died on the Ides of March. Both events were predicted by soothsayers. A Turin astrologer who came close enough to predicting the death of Joseph Stalin — he said Stalin would be struck down in February, whereas it was on March 1 — also forecast "much confusion" to come in Russia. That may be as good a forecast as any. Joseph Vissarionovich Djugashvili, the "man of steel" who had ruled Soviet Russia for 29 years, first as an iron-fisted politician and then as dictator, was stricken by a brain hemorrhage in his Kremlin apartment Sunday night. The stroke left him paralyzed and unconscious. He never spoke a word from that moment. This news was given to the world at Wednesday's dawn in Moscow. This was no great surprise to the world, for it was known that Stalin was 73 and it had been rumored for a long time that he was in poor health. But it was a surprise that the announcement was made so soon, because many persons had assumed they would never learn of such an event until perhaps several days after Stalin's death. Moscow was still in the throes of an alleged "doctors plot" announced two months ago. Nine doctors, several of them described as having Jewish connections, were accused of killing Stalin's right-hand man Zhdanov in 1948 and of plotting to do away with several others by wrong treatments. The 10 doctors who signed the bulletins on Stalin's illness were headed by a new minister of health, A. F. Tretyakov, and the chief of the medical board of the Kremlin, I. Kuperin. The Central Committee of the Communist party and the Council of Ministers assured the Communist world that they were closely supervising the care of the patient. The communiques the doctors issued were in extraordinary detail, as if to establish a record for history. The doctors speedily made it clear that the illness was affecting vital functions, including breathing, circulation and the heart. They described their treatment, including administration of oxygen, stimulants such as caffeine and glucose, camphor compounds, and even the old application of blood-sucking leeches to relieve blood pressure. This last method, generally given up in favor of surgical means by Western doctors, may have been for the purpose of convincing the old-fashioned that all possible was being done. On Thursday Stalin's heart failed twice. He died at 9:50 that night. The world received the news six hours and 17 minutes later, or just before Friday's dawn in Moscow. A post mortem was then announced — it had shown the doctors' diagnosis was correct, that Stalin's death was brought on by a brain hemorrhage due to high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries. The Kremlin's announcement included a first statement of policy of the new rulers of Russia. On the immediate surface, at least, no changes from "Stalinist" policy were intended — Russia was going to be just as tough to get along with as in the past. Obviously fearing Stalin's death would be a signal for the unleashing of all the pent-up pressures of rival leaders and suppressed peoples, the proclamation called for a "monolithic" solidarity of ranks and high vigilance against enemies, external and internal. It pledged an implacable struggle to build up the armed forces and intelligence services, to continue the Soviet peace offensives and to draw tighter than ever the ties with Red China and the "peoples' democracies" of Eastern Europe. In fact it stressed a continuance of all the phases of the cold war. A sea of blood was spilled in the communizing of Russia, the collectivization of the peasants, the purges by which Stalin eliminated his rivals and detractors after Lenin died in 1924. When World War II came, and Hitler invaded Russia, Stalin was undisputed dictator. With cold disregard for the human losses involved, Stalin proclaimed a "scorched earth" policy and stubbornly sacrificed armies and thousands of guerrillas to win time. The war over, Stalin ruled 200 million Russians directly, and through the Communist party apparatus held sway over 600 million human beings in China, Eastern Germany and Eastern Europe. In all, that makes a third of the world's population. Who would or could fill his shoes? The West had no reason to love Stalin, but his age had argued he would be slow in taking actions that would risk all he had accomplished in expanding communism.

The answer came Friday night. Georgi Maximilianovich Malenkov, a dour, 51-year-old political manipulator like Stalin, was going to take over in Stalin's place — or try to. Even Western statesmen have even met him. The few who have called him hard and unyielding. Very little really is known about him, not even his parentage. The speed with which he moved into the post of Prime Minister vacated by Stalin's death, knocked off a dozen of the lesser ministries and shook up the key ministries indicates that he is bent on demonstrating who is boss and at once. Stalin had two big jobs, Prime Minister and general secretary of the Communist party. The Malenkov already holds one of the jobs, and is in practical charge of the other. He long has been a secretary of the party and Stalin's chief deputy in manipulating the party machinery. He has been in position to see that the men he wanted were appointed to the right positions in the government. Malenkov lacks the prestige of Stalin at home and abroad. There is bound to be much nervousness in the Soviet Union, even if no one takes it into his head that this is the time to revolt. The Soviet leaders are going to be fearful and suspicious of one another. One of those likely to be most fearful and suspicious is Malenkov. He had two chief rivals for the job. One was V. M. Molotov, 63, long the pre-eminent Soviet leader after Stalin. Malenkov appears to have dared to demote him by making him the No. 2 deputy prime minister. He also goes back to head the Foreign Ministry. When he left the latter job in 1949 he ranked as No. 1 deputy and received unspecified duties. Apparently he had over-all supervision of cold war policy, particularly in the Far East. But if it is true that he felt he had been maneuvered out of the Foreign Ministry by Andrei Vishinsky he may relish getting the job back. The other rival was L. P. Beria, 53-year-old tough man who held the strategic position of chief policeman in a police state. Apparently Malenkov has felt obliged to leave Beria, as the new interior minister, in charge of his secret police. Beria would seem to be in a position to make trouble, if he is of a mind for that. He is now listed No. 1 among the deputy prime ministers. Malenkov, by giving Beria and Molotov the second and third most important positions in the hierarchy, seems to be balancing them off against each other. A third element which might make trouble is the Army. Malenkov has put Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, who is more a Communist politician than a general, in charge of that. Bulganin is one of the six top-ranking members of the powerful Presidium, and one not likely to be aspiring to power. These arrangements were made, it was announced, to assure "uninterrupted and correct" leadership of the state and prevent "any kind of disarray or panic" following Stalin's death.

British Believe Strong Man Is Gone From USSR

LONDON, March 7 (AP)—Official British quarters stressed today that the reshuffled Soviet government under Georgi M. Malenkov "looks more like a government by committee than by a single strong man."

Government leaders and newspapers of West Germany, long a Communist target, warned the West to get braced for increased pressure from the East. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer again urged a buildup of Western defenses and the enlistment of West German manpower.

Most European diplomatic observers looked for the cold war to go on, perhaps with even greater East-West tension.

The Anti-Bolshevik Bloc, an organization of non-Russian refugees from Soviet-dominated territory, called in Munich for the peoples behind the Iron Curtain to fight Bolshevism. They said "give the new bosses in the Kremlin no chance to catch their breath."

Communist bigwigs from six East European satellites arrived in Moscow for Stalin's funeral and such political talk as the occasion provides. Others from the free lands, including Britain, France and Italy, were either here or on the way.

Troop movements were reported in Albania, a Red satellite pocketed on the Adriatic Sea by Yugoslavia and Greece, partners with Turkey in a Balkan friendship treaty signed a week ago.

Radio Belgrade, an agency of President Marshal Tito's independent Communist government, said several Albanian columns had moved in to reinforce Albanian troops on the Yugoslav frontier.

The British Foreign Office announced British warships will escort Tito to Britain for his state visit March 16. He's coming a week earlier than he originally planned, arrangements changing with the development of the Kremlin crisis.

Favor Dropping Pact Resolution For Long Period

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—Two Republican senators—Aiken of Vermont and Tobey of New Hampshire—said today they favor dropping an administration move to condemn Soviet Russia for enslaving free people.

"I think we better have a cooling off period of 80 days," said Aiken. "I certainly can't see any advantage to the United States telling the world that we stand for something by an 8-7 vote."

He referred to the margin by which the Senate Foreign Relations Committee adopted an amendment to the administration's resolution proclaiming the hope that self-government will be restored to victims of "Soviet despotism."

The amendment would make it clear that the resolution neither affirms nor denies the validity of any World War II agreements, such as those reached at Yalta, Tehran and Potsdam.

Actually the committee vote was 16-6, but Sen. Tobey, the only member not recorded, said today he would vote with Democratic opponents of the amendment.

The Democrats contend the amendment, offered by Senators Taft (Ohio) and Knowland (Calif.), makes the resolution meaningless.

Seven Republicans and one Democrat, Gillette of Iowa, voted for the amendment and six Democrats opposed it.

Many lawmakers believe that Stalin's death also nullifies any value of such a gesture at this time.

Polio Victim Dies In Fire

ST. LOUIS, March 7 (AP)—A 10-year-old polio victim was burned fatally in an effort to rescue her year-old brother from a fire in their Poplar Bluff, Mo., home.

Gertrude Saylors died last night in a hospital here shortly after arriving for treatment.

The brother, Billy Joe, is reported in critical condition.

Neighbors rescued four other young children.

Poplar Bluff Fire Chief Sam Wright said the fire apparently started from matches with which the children were playing while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Saylors, were away from home.

He said Gertrude re-entered the burning home on crutches to save the boy. Firemen found the boy in Gertrude's arms with clothing of his on fire.

Poplar Bluff is about 200 miles south of St. Louis.

William Henry Harrison was the first man to become President of the United States, being 68 when he took office.

MIG Is Taken Apart By Allied Air Experts

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, March 7 (AP)—The Russian-built MIG15 jet fighter landed by a Polish Air Force lieutenant on the Danish Baltic island of Bornholm was taken apart today and loaded on a ship bound for Copenhagen under armed naval escort.

Allied air experts are making a thorough study of it. The plane would be a rare prize if it can be put together again and flown. A MIG15 found in Korea was not airworthy.

Heavily armed Danish soldiers kept away the enraged first secretary of the Polish legation here, Mieczyslaw Lakomy, who rushed to Bornholm to claim the plane. He was not even allowed to watch Danish Air Force specialists take it apart.

In Copenhagen, Polish Minister Stanislaw Kulesz continued to fire stiff notes at the Danish Foreign Office and ominously talked about "grave consequences" if the jet fighter is not returned to the Polish Air Force without further delay.

But the Foreign Office made it plain that the Polish government would have to remain patient for some little time yet. An official statement tonight said bluntly a thorough examination will be made of the craft.

It is the first MIG15 to fall undamaged into Western hands and is believed to be the latest of its type.

The pilot brought the plane down at Bornholm's tiny Roenne Airport last Thursday after streaking at 600 miles an hour from the Polish coast 60 miles away.

He claimed to be a political refugee seeking asylum. He is being questioned at Copenhagen police headquarters.

Dis-assembly of the plane was

Killer Of Trotsky Denies Ever Being In Soviet Russia

MEXICO CITY, March 7 (UP)—The killer of Josef Stalin's chief enemy, Leon Trotsky, Saturday contradicted his trial testimony of 1940 by declaring, "I have never been in Russia."

Frank Jackson-Mornard, who crashed a pick into the skull of the former Communist commissar, had claimed he was trained in Russia and had been forced to become Trotsky's assassin because his parents were being held as hostages.

However, questioned in his prison cell, Mornard said, "In order to understand a man like Stalin, it was not necessary to know him personally. I did not know him personally. I have never been in Russia."

The jail sentence of Trotsky's killer will expire in 1958, but there has been speculation he may be paroled next year sometime.

Former NAM Head Dies In Turkey

ZONGULDAK, Turkey, March 7 (AP)—Frederick Morris Sayre, 69, a former president of the National Association of Manufacturers in the United States, died today after a heart attack. He had been serving abroad on a team of U. S. business leaders evaluating mutual security programs.

Sayre, a resident of Montclair, N. J., had been inspecting the coal mines of Zonguldak, one of Turkey's major state-owned industries.

He arrived in Turkey Feb. 14 with a team composed of four officials of Corn Products Refining Company, of which he was honorary board chairman.

His body will be sent to Ankara and flown to his home.

Doris Duke To Buy Valentino's Hilltop Mansion

HOLLYWOOD, March 7 (AP)—Doris Duke, the multi-millionaire tobacco heiress, is to become the new owner of Falcon Lair, the storied hilltop home of the late Rudolph Valentino, it was reported today.

The current owner of the Italian-style villa, Bob Balzar, writer and wine authority, said papers for transfer of ownership to Miss Duke have been signed in New York but the deal has not yet gone into escrow.

The heiress already has made plans to redecorate Falcon Lair, located on a promontory in the Benedict Canyon section of Beverly Hills.

Balzar declined to disclose the selling price but he did say that the famed house has never been sold for less than $150,000.

Falcon Lair was built by George Read, Beverly Hills real estate man and then sold to Valentino. After the film idol's death it was held by his estate until 1934 and then sold to Juan Romero. Actress Ann Harding was the next owner but kept it only six months before selling to Mrs. Gerald Buys of San Francisco. Balzar bought it two years ago from Mrs. Buys.

Declaring that the plane would have to be brought to Copenhagen because it could not take off at the tiny Bornholm Airport, the announcement added:

"It has been necessary to disassemble the aircraft."

On hearing this, Kulesz Knaus exclaimed: "The position of the Danish government is outrageous. This is just a bad excuse for carrying out espionage. Grave consequences may flow from it."

By the "grave consequences" the minister may have meant that coal shipments from Poland to Denmark may be stopped. In some informed quarters there was talk Poland might even partially sever diplomatic relations.

Western military spokesmen said however, that the MIG15 was so valuable a catch that close inspection was worth any such risk.

U. S. Air Force spokesmen in Europe and the Far East have left no doubt they are vitally interested in the sample now headed for Copenhagen.

When it arrives here metallurgical experts are expected to analyze secret alloys used in it. Casts may be made of some vital parts. Specialists working behind the canvas screen at Roenne already have made wooden models of parts of the air frame, informants said.

The general belief is that the 21-year-old pilot is a bona fide refugee and will be granted political asylum here.

Col. Erik Rasmussen, Danish Air Force officer directing work on the MIG15 at Bornholm, told newsmen that to really get to know the plane Western airmen would have to fly it.

Such a test can be arranged, it was pointed out, on the excuse that the plane must be certified as airworthy before being handed to some Polish pilot for eventual flight back to Poland.

New Casualty List

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—The Defense Department today identified 179 casualties of the Korean War.

The new list (No. 762) included 32 killed, 139 wounded, six injured in accident, and one missing. One soldier previously reported as missing was re-listed as captured by the enemy.

Help Available For Battle On Bang's Disease

BATON ROUGE, La., March 7 (AP)—U. S. Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson has made extra help available for Louisiana in its fight against Bang's disease in the cattle industry.

Louisiana commissioner Dave Pearce said today that Benson in a telegram to Gov. Robert Kennon, told of the authorization for the federal bureau of animal husbandry to employ practicing veterinarians in this state to test and vaccinate cattle.

Louisiana, with the highest incidence of brucellosis in the nation, has been conducting a campaign to eradicate the disease.

Eight federal and eight state veterinarians already are at work. Twelve per cent of all cattle in Louisiana are bang-infected, compared with the national average of 3.1 per cent.

Pearce said information on the new federal aid program has been sent to about 140 practicing veterinarians in the state by Dr. E. E. Saulmon, veterinarian in charge of the bureau work in this state. Saulmon is cooperating with Dr. F. B. Wheeler, state veterinarian and executive secretary of the Louisiana Livestock Sanitary Board.

Pearce explained: "So far, the greatest hindrance to our program to stamp out Bang's disease has been the shortage of trained veterinary personnel."

"With federal funds made available to employ private veterinarians on a per head basis, we will be able to inspect and vaccinate a great many more animals than ever before and to make strides in bringing the disease under control."

The federal veterinarian said there is no known cure for brucellosis and the official program is based on identification of infected animals by test, with disposal by immediate slaughter recommended.

Costs of vaccines will be borne by the livestock board, an agency of the State Department of Agriculture.

'Voice' Hearing Is Hid From Reporters

NEW YORK, March 7 (AP)—A meeting of Sen. Joseph McCarthy's subcommittee probing the Voice of America was scheduled for today, but reporters were unable to determine whether it took place.

Building guards at the U. S. Courthouse said a room on the 28th floor was reserved for an 11 a. m. meeting of the Senate investigation subcommittee headed by the Wisconsin Republican.

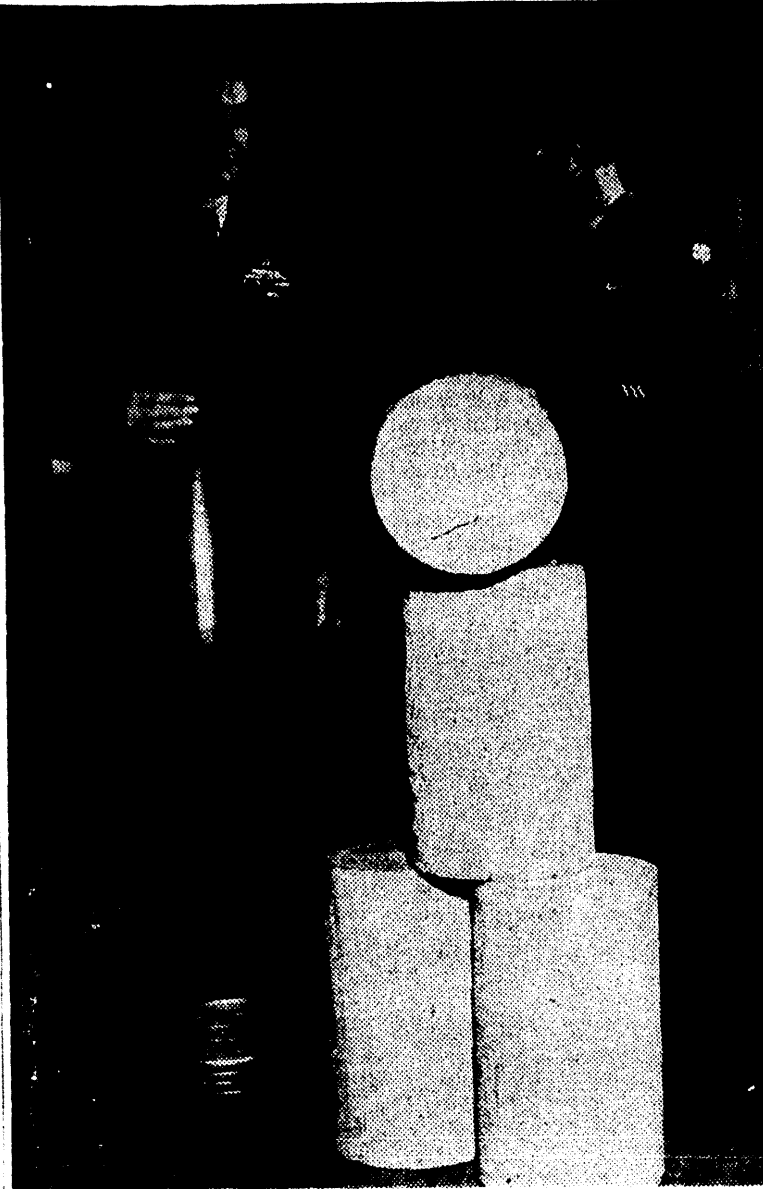

It was presumed that there would be a closed meeting of the committee to question witnesses about activities of the Voice, the State Department's overseas broadcast division.

But guards did not permit reporters on the 28th floor, and inquiries relayed there by guards came back all day with the answer: "No comment."

Envoy Is Named

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—President Eisenhower today named Jacob D. Beam, charge d'affaires at the U. S. Embassy in Moscow, to represent this country at the funeral of Prime Minister Stalin.

Beam, as this country's representative at the funeral, will have the rank of special ambassador.

TO ADDRESS RESERVES—Captain M. R. Swatko, left, and Captain L. B. Mitchell, combined arms instructors at Fort Sill, Okla., will speak to Monroe reservists Tuesday night at Building T-39-2, Selman Field. They have been on a speaking tour of the Fourth Army areas since January and are shown above with a mock-up of a 280 mm. projectile and powder bags. A model of the giant gun will be displayed during the Monroe appearance.

New Soviet Regime Will Follow Stalin's Policies

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY

MOSCOW, March 7 (AP)—Two points have emerged crystal clear since Joseph Stalin died two nights ago: the new Soviet regime is going to follow Stalin's policies down the line and no factionalism is going to be tolerated.

The Communist party organ Pravda, which reflects the official view, has made it plain that Prime Minister Georgi Malenkov's government will follow the same line of foreign policy laid down by Malenkov, with Stalin's blessing, at the 19th party congress last fall. The accent on unity was made very apparent from the wording of the announcement of Stalin's death and the decree on government and party leadership. Both stressed and re-stressed unity.

Western observers here believe that Malenkov, with his years of experience in keeping party unity under Stalin, is the man who can best assure it in the present circumstances.

These observers also feel that the Malenkov government will make no changes at present in the previous policies laid down by Stalin.

The Moscow press and radio are emphasizing that there will be no interruption in the working of the government.

It is being explained that the decree on organization of the party and state leadership is directed at preventing any interruption in that leadership.

Along with Malenkov, Stalin's closest collaborators have inherited positions of responsibility.

Such men as L. P. Beria, V. M. Molotov and Nikolai Bulganin have been given open official control of the most vital spots in the government machinery.

Each is operating in the field he knows best: Beria in internal affairs and state security, Molotov in foreign affairs, and Bulganin in the Army.

In short, it will continue to be a Stalinist government.

Vidalia Rape, Incest Trail Opens Monday

FERRIDAY, March 7 (Special)—Edgar W. Roberts, a resident of the Black River area of Concordia parish, will go on trial in Vidalia Monday, charged with incest and aggravated rape of his 12-year-old daughter.

Roberts, who has been adjudged mentally unstable and unable to testify in court, has already been committed to the East Louisiana State Hospital in Jackson, but will be returned here for the trial.

A life-long resident of the parish, Roberts is a brother-in-law of the late Hills Flaherty, whose decomposed body was found in the swamps near his home several days ago. Flaherty was to have been a prosecution witness against Roberts.

Roberts has been jailed, or hospitalized, since January 2.

Poison Gas Charge Is Leveled By Reds

LONDON, March 7 (AP)—Moscow radio today interspersed its reports of mourning services for Joseph Stalin with charges that American troops use poison gas against Communist forces in Korea.

Monitors listening in on the Moscow dictation-speed broadcasts for the Soviet press said the programs were made up largely of items reporting mourning meetings of various bodies in different parts of the USSR.

Fight Promised If Farm Supports Allowed To Drop

WASHINGTON, March 7 (U.P.)—Sen. Milton R. Young (R-N.D.), a severe critic of the administration's farm policies, warned Saturday any attempt to lower price supports will touch off a "real fight."

Young's statement was a challenge to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, who favors flexible supports instead of the mandatory 90 per cent of "fair price" parity now required by law.

The current law expires in 1954 and whatever Congress does about renewing or revising it will undoubtedly become a major issue in next year's congressional elections. President Eisenhower is expected to become personally involved in the congressional fight, if to no greater extent than to elaborate on eight words in his presidential campaign.

"There are more votes in Congress now to continue the (mandatory) price supports than there were a year ago," Young said. "They'll have a real fight on their hands if they try to lower them."

The heart of the issue which threatens to cause a break between a sizeable Republican congressional bloc and the Republican administration is Mr. Eisenhower's campaign declaration that farmers are entitled to receive "100 per cent of parity in the market place" for their products.

Benson says many farm leaders "misread" this and that his own position on the question is not at odds with the President's.

Chairman George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) of the Senate Agriculture committee sides with Benson. "It is human nature to interpret things the way you would like to see them," Aiken says, and he goes ahead to "interpret" Mr. Eisenhower's statement to mean farmers should get the fair price through operation of a free market rather than by federal handout.

NEW ORLEANS (U.P.)—One of the most optimistic predictions concerning the automobile industry's market to be heard in recent years was made here today by a Ford Motor Co. executive.

Thomas J. O'Neil, director of Ford's product sales and dealer organization planning, said in an address prepared for delivery to the Louisiana Automobile Dealers Association, that the industry will build and sell approximately 3 1/2 million cars and 1,380,000 trucks annually for the next decade.

"This could easily be a conservative estimate," O'Neil added. For the current year O'Neil predicted the production of 3 1/2 million cars and 1,300,000 trucks.

He urged car dealers to give their "immediate and personal" attention to controlling expenses; building gross profit and turning used cars over rapidly.

"The days of absentee management (for the dealer) are behind us," O'Neil said. "The dealer who is always on top of every phase of his operations is the dealer of the future with a future."

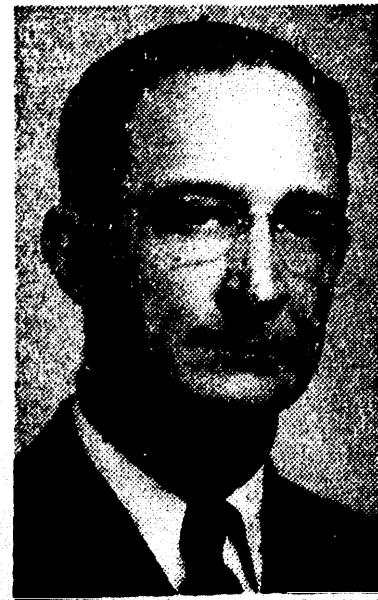

Dealers, he said, should start giving more attention to what is "too often the step-child of the dealership"—the used car and truck department. He estimated dealers will have to sell between ten and 12 million used cars this year.

"In a normal market, when the used car and truck department is operated successfully, then—and only then—can a dealership sell a sufficient volume of new cars and trucks to attain its objectives," O'Neil declared.

Seeds Need Help In Their Struggle To Reach Surface

Experiments with soil conditions accent the importance of the top one-inch of garden soil. They are proving that for crops grown from seed, the soil texture on the surface is more important than any other section.

The seed is dropped in this top layer, and before your garden begins to grow, it must overcome the hazards that beset garden seeds, to send a sprout through the soil covering to reach the fresh air and sunshine above.

This is called "emergence," and may involve a serious struggle by the seed against numerous threats to its development. Tender seeds may be frozen, if planted too early in the spring. Even hardy seeds, when planted in cold damp soil, may lie so long without germinating that fungus diseases or mold attacks attack and destroy them. Any seed or sprout may drown, if water covers the surface too long, depriving it of air.

The greatest hazard of all results from soil crusting on the surface or compacting too solidly around the seed, so that when germination does occur the infant plant cannot break through to the life giving sunshine above.

Veteran gardeners as well as beginners may sow seed and fail, as they say, to "get a catch." Or in a row which shows a fair stand of seedlings there may be spaces where nothing came up, thanks to one of the perils to which seed succumb.

The remedy to compaction, or crusting of the surface, is easy for the amateur to handle. He can mix a special porous soil to use in covering his seed. This peat moss, compost, well decayed manure, sewage sludge, or black peat from local sources. Most potting soils sold in packages are chiefly black peat. Avoid using poultry manures or others rich in nitrogen, as too much of this chemical affects the germination of many seeds.

Use of a chemical soil conditioner to make the surface soil porous and prevent crusting has been proved effective in experiments. For larger areas, where a special covering soil is impractical, it should improve emergency. It lacks the water holding quality of a good sand and organic mixture, however, and the latter is superior where it can be provided.

A good start usually means a vigorous plant, and failure to "get a catch" quivers resolving, with loss of seed and what may be worse, delay. You never know what weather conditions may develop to hinder seed "emergence," so it pays well to take all needed precautions to help your seed through the soil.

Byrd, Natchitoches High Enter Speech Festival

Byrd High School of Shreveport and Natchitoches High School became the first two schools in Louisiana to respond to an invitation by Northeast State to send representatives to the college's first annual speech festival, scheduled here March 27. James W. Parkerson, assistant professor of speech in charge of the festival, said more responses from schools invited in 31 parishes should be coming in next week. A deadline for entries in the event has been set as March 16, Parkerson said.

A number of speech, stage and radio personalities in the Monroe area will take part in the all-day event, by judging and supervising the various contests and serving as advisers in the five contest divisions.

Students will compete in original oratory, extemporaneous speaking, radio speaking, after-dinner speaking and poetry reading. Awards will not be given in the contests. Instead, each student will receive a rating for every activity in which he participates. These will be designated as "superior," "excellent" and "good." This plan designed to stress the educational values derived from taking part in the events, college officials said.

Parkerson explained that a school may enter as many students as it wishes in any event. Also, a student may enter more than one contest. In addition, each school has been invited to bring as many of its faculty and students as may be interested in observing the various events. There will be no entrance fee.

A banquet will climax the speech festival. The informal affair will begin at 6 p.m. and will feature the speeches of the four highest ranking after-dinner speakers, who will have been selected in preliminary contests. Tickets for the banquet will be $1 each. Students are urged to bring guests, Parkerson said.

"I never did any kind of work much," she continued. "I did work in a cotton mill and on a farm and I entertained guys."

Miss Chesnut said she was native of Gadsden, Ala., and had also lived in Las Vegas, Reno and Detroit.

A federal warrant against her charged she failed to file income tax returns on an income of $11,385 in 1949, $24,644 in 1950 and $12,144 in 1951.

The government filed an $83,000 tax lien against Miss Chesnut's property. Gwin said $80,000 of her property was in defense bonds.

The solicitor's office here said Miss Chesnut has been arrested three times on disorderly conduct charges.

Ferriday Airman Awarded Medal

FERRIDAY, March 7 (Special)—Airman 2-C James E. Eschels, former Ferriday resident, has been awarded the Soldier's Medal for distinguished action at a forward airbase in Korea.

The airman, according to a citation, was awarded the medal for participating in rescue efforts made to save the lives of crewmen aboard a C-46 aircraft which had crashed into the sea off Korea a few minutes after leaving the airfield where Eschels was stationed.

Cotton Prices Mostly Firmer

NEW YORK, March 7 (U.P.)—Prices again this week moved in a narrow range on the New York Cotton Exchange and at the close of trading Friday they were mostly firmer.

The net changes over the week ran from advance of $2.10 a bale to declines of 40 cents.

The only net decline was in the distant July contracts. The nearer months were aided by short covering, some mill price fixing and a steadiness in weekly loan entries.

General liquidation was responsible for some of the selling with an unfavorable export situation entering into the picture.

There also was some slowness in the goods market and trade circles estimated larger domestic plantings this year than earlier surveys indicated.

Private sources believed, 1953 plantings might run to approximately 26,900,000 acres, 500,000 larger than last year and 4,160,000 in excess of the government's goal of 22,800,000 acres.

The Exchange Service Bureau said that if plantings are in line with private estimates and if yields per harvested acre approximate the average of the past five years, a crop of 15,300,000 running bales is in prospect.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has prospected a 1953 crop of 12 to 12 1/2 million bales is desirable if growers wish to avoid low prices and crop controls in 1954.

A. A. Seeks Only To Assist Sick

This strange society, fraternal organization or whatever you may call it is unique. Its adherents, struggles and success is unmistakably American.

Alcoholics Anonymous has but one purpose and that is "To Help the sick alcoholic recover. If he or she wishes." Alcoholics Anonymous has no fees or dues. It has almost no money and wishes it could do with still less. It has no pledges or quotas to be broken. It has no constraints and does not say "you must" do this or "you must not" do that. It has very little formal organization and wants less.

This unique organization has its humble beginning in Akron, Ohio, in 1935. During the past eighteen years, it has grown to a membership of upward of 155,000 happy and sober men and women in some four thousand groups all over the world. The membership of Alcoholics Anonymous is made up of men and women in all walks of life. A typical AA meeting will include men and women of all religious faiths and the educational levels will be college, high school or less.

Alcoholics Anonymous is not a religious organization, there is no dogma. The only requirement for membership is an "honest and sincere desire for sobriety."

The statistics of sobriety are about as follows: Of those who make a genuine effort for sobriety through this program, fifty per cent get sober right away and stay that way. Twenty-five per cent get sober after some relapses and the remaining twenty-five per cent will show some improvement. However, AA is not interested in statistics, therefore it refuses to screen its applicants as has been suggested by some. AA operates on the theory that anyone who admits that he or she has an alcoholic problem and desires help with this problem is welcome.

Anonymity to AA members is of immense spiritual significance, reminding them always "to place principles above personalities."

The Monroe group of AA in celebrating its seventh birthday is sponsoring an open meeting to be held at 2:30 p.m. today in the Central Grammar school auditorium. The public is invited and those who have an alcoholic problem, as well as friends and relatives of alcoholics are especially urged to attend. Also urged to come are ministers, doctors, teachers and public officials whose duties bring them face to face with the problems of alcoholism.

Because no satisfactory engine could be bought, the Wright Brothers had one built in their own bicycle shop to power their first airplane.

BUSINESS DIVISION CO-CHAIRMAN — Evans
Ethridge has been appointed co-chairman of the business division in the 1953 American Red Cross fund raising drive. As one of the chairmen, he will head the drive in the southern part of Monroe. The announcement was made by R. Lee Vanderpool, Jr., campaign chairman. Serving with Ethridge as the other co-chairman is Jim Roberts.

Harrison To Go To Tobacco Meeting

Claude Harrison, owner of the Ouachita Cigar and Tobacco Co., will attend the 21st annual, "Coming of Age," convention of the National Association of Tobacco Distributors the week of March 15 in Atlantic City, N. J.

Harrison is a member of the national organization whose members supply some 5,000 items made by 51 manufacturers to 1,300,000 retail outlets throughout the country.

During the convention Harrison will participate in meetings and discussions aimed at keeping manufacturers and wholesalers in step with a "distributive revolution" which is winning for the independent retail stores its soundest economic position in years.

Increase In Life Span Predicted

NEW YORK (U.P.)—An insurance statistician predicts an increase of four or five years in the average American's life expectancy during the next 20 or 25 years.

Dr. Louis I. Dublin, consultant to the Institute of Life Insurance, speaking yesterday at a meeting of insurance officials, said: "Within this generation an average length of life of 73 years is likely."

State Petroleum Engineer Resigns

BATON ROUGE, La., March 7 (U.P.)—George B. Holden, petroleum engineer for the State Conservation Department, announced Saturday he will resign March 15.

Methodist Minister Faces Assault Charge

CORINTH, Miss., March 7 (U.P.)—A Methodist church leader is scheduled to appear Monday before a justice of the peace on charges of assault and battery in connection with a fist-fight with a county attache.

He identified himself as J. E. Chaffin, chairman of what he called the Church Committee for Honest Legislation. He is free on $100 bond.

Justice of the Peace Joe Gray, who will handle the case, said today the fight was between Chaffin and Andrew Wood, a bailiff and "didn't amount to much."

Wood waived a hearing and already has paid a fine, Gray said. He did not disclose the amount of the fine.

Chaffin, who has been crusading against illegal liquor sales in Alcorn County, said his committee was formed by members of the Box Methodist Church near Corinth.

Piano Recital Will Be Given

Pre-college age students of Mrs. Florence Z. Albritton and Mrs. Eloise Calhoun Stanhope, both of the Northeast State faculty, will be presented in a piano recital Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building on the campus.

Nine pupils and the two instructors will offer a program of varied selections. The public is invited. Harry M. Lemert, head of the music department, announced.

The program planned for Tuesday follows:

Come and Play . . . Bernice Frost — Alice Mullins.

Musette in D . . . J. S. Bach; Rondino . . . Cedric Lemont — Louise O. Gray.

Impromptu . . . Sister Mary Alloysius C. S. C. — Carol Cagle.

Oriental . . . Arthur Bergh — Marie Nelson.

Butterfly . . . Edward Grieg; Idillio . . . Theodore Lack — Virginia Cagle.

Sarabande in G Major . . . Elodin Burton; Le Polichenelle . . . Hector Villa-Lobos — Martha Nell Chappell.

Sonata No. 5 in G Major (K 189) . . . W. A. Mozart; Allegro . . . (second piano part by Grieg) — Beverly Sturden; and Eloise Calhoun Stanhope.

Valse, C Major . . . Francis Poulenc; Concerto, F Major (Polka) . . . Jean Williams — Terri Fields, and Florence Z. Albritton.

Polonaise, op. 26, No. 1 . . . Frederic Chopin — Philip Ambrose.

to go into business as a private consultant.

Conservation Commissioner John B. Hussey said he had accepted Holden's resignation "with sincere regret." No one has been named to succeed Holden, he said. Holden, a graduate of Louisiana State University, had been with the department since 1948. He said he would set up an office in Baton Rouge as a private consultant in petroleum engineering.

Little Theatre
Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

Just nothing but rehearsals are happening out Little Theatre way... "The Man" has settled down for its second week of drill and, aside from the usual Fontelle work-parties, that about covers the scene of serious business for a new play. So for today's session let's get friendly and gossip... Congratulations to Little Theatre's Jack Smith and his wife, the former Alice Perry of Perryville, who welcomed their first child, a son, born last Thursday.

A real Twin City welcome to Oliver Moore of Shreveport and New Orleans, who arrived yesterday to become the new manager of the Paramount Theatre. He was being introduced around town by our favorite showman Melvin Greenblatt, who has recently forsaken the show world for other enterprise, after occupying the boss's chair at the Paramount since Sept. 1942.

Popular Little Theatre actor Roy Holloway is embarking on what sounds like a very interesting program. He has been named chairman of the Jaycee committee sponsoring the choice of a "Kid of the Week." Although they haven't held their first big organizational meeting as yet, they hope to launch the project within the next week. In adopting the Junior Citizens Crusade as its number one project for 1951-52 the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce recognized the need to assist America's youth in becoming better citizens. The youth recognition project will be one method used to implement the goal of building better citizens. Not necessarily but preferably the children chosen as "Kid of the Week" should live up to some segment of the Jaycee creed which states in part that "service to humanity is the best work of life." The local boys or girls chosen for this honor will stand an excellent opportunity of being guest on the DuMont Television show of New York City. The local Jaycees will be responsible for all expense to the big city where the U. S. Jaycee's will take over for hotel lodging, food, transportation and entertainment. Other committee members serving with Roy "The Petrified Forest" Holloway are John "The Heiress" Clay, John Kelso, Jack Gatlin, Harry Horstman, and L. L. Newcomer.

It appears that all of our friends will be flocking to the memory course this week. "Curtain Call" decided when Mr. "Memory Man" Nutt first showed in town that we'd best expose ourselves to his mental schooling, "cause it is getting to be quite a problem to remember all the names and faces in Little Theatre since it has jumped from a little under 300 members to the very mentally taxing score of almost a thousand. You can imagine my embarrassment when I appeared for the readings of "The Man" and could only recall a few of the names present. That's good for the Little Theatre but bad for your reporter, so we propose to do something about the situation.

The Northeast Players' Guild will present its contribution to International Theatre Month on the nights of March 13 and 14. The three one act plays under the direction of Sylvester Beards will serve to help the heart fund reach its goal, as the admission proceeds will be given to the Heart Association.

We hear that Lloyd Lenard, chairman of the heart campaign, was jubilant over the civic gesture of the college thespians and their director Beards. He said "Although the Heart Drive is officially over, we feel short of our goal, and this money will help us a great deal. This is an opportunity for the citizens of the Twin Cities to support the heart fund, an international movement, and their local college." The Northeast contribution to International Theatre Month sheds light across the field of human nature which is much the same throughout the world. Such universal topics as jealousy, hatred, love and remembrance are dealt with in the three one act plays.

Speaking of the International Theatre Month of March, may we quote famed actress Helen Hayes, president of the American National Theatre Academy. "International Theatre month serves as a reminder of the importance of the theatre in serving the cause of good will among the families of the world. We cannot overstate the importance of International Theatre Month in our country and abroad during the month of March each year." And yes sir, folks, couldn't we all do with a little more good will scattered over this land of ours.

Battery Charge
Faced By Cotton

A West Monroe man is being held in the Ouachita Parish Jail after being arrested early Saturday morning on a charge of aggravated battery. He was arrested by the Ouachita Parish sheriff department.

Sheriff Bailey Grant identified the man as James Cotton, 33. He was reported to have hit a Negro waiter at a West Monroe drive-in restaurant with a bottle after the Negro reported him to the owners for taking property off the counter. The Negro was taken to Charity Hospital where he was treated for a head abrasion.

Et Tu, Stalin

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Gazette's shortest editorial in its history was devoted last night to the death of Joseph Stalin. It read: "Sic semper tyrannis." The translation of this Latin phrase is "Thus always to tyrants."

IN 'NAKED SPUR' — Forced by circumstances to take shelter in a mountain cave, James Stewart and Janet Leigh find themselves irresistibly drawn to each other. The scene is from "The Naked Spur," M-G-M's punch-filled outdoor action drama, now showing at the Paramount Theatre. Filmed in Technicolor on locations in the Colorado Rockies, the new offering also stars Robert Ryan and Ralph Meeker.

'Naked Spur'
Is Dramatic

Not in some time has Hollywood released a motion picture so crammed with suspense, action and gripping characterizations as that offered in M-G-M's unusual drama, "The Naked Spur," which starts Sunday, March 8th, Paramount Theatre.

Aside from a group of Indians who appear in a tense sequence in which the enraged Blackfeet attack the story's chief protagonist, "The Naked Spur" has only five characters, enacted by James Stewart, Janet Leigh, Robert Ryan, Ralph Meeker and Millard Mitchell.

Stewart is seen as Howard Kemp, a man who trails a killer, Ben Vandergroat (Robert Ryan), across the country from Kansas to a mountainous region in the West in the hope of collecting the $15,000 reward for the fugitive—dead or alive. Janet Leigh is Lina Patch, the homeless young girl who has taken up with Ben. Ralph Meeker is Roy Anderson, dishonorably discharged from the U. S. Cavalry and ready for any adventure that will bring him gain. And Millard Mitchell is the old prospector, Jesse Tate, whose share of the reward money looked big until he learned too late what it cost him.

When Kemp, with the aid of Anderson and Tate, captures the fugitive Ben, these five people start a perilous trek back East, a trip fraught with both emotional and physical conflicts, with the three captors motivated by greed and with the outlaw playing on their weaknesses with evil cunning, even to using the girl as a weapon. The raw emotional interplay results in cumulative excitement as Ben attempts to push Kemp over a cliff, as Anderson schemes to have the others killed in the Indian raid, as Ben uses Lina in a suspenseful try at escaping from a cave, in his double-cross of the gold-greedy prospector, and in the spine-tingling climax in which Anderson attempts to pull the bullet-ridden body of the outlaw out of a swirling rapids and is himself washed away.

Director Anthony Mann has gotten superb acting portrayals from his hand-picked cast. James Stewart completely realizes the character of Howard Kemp, grim, unafraid and determined to get his hands on the reward money that will enable him to buy back his farms. Janet Leigh gives a forceful vitality to the role of the only girl among four men, capable of swaying them all. Robert Ryan as the cunning outlaw, Ralph Meeker as the unprincipled and shiftless Anderson, and Millard Mitchell as the glib prospector all fit their roles to perfection.

Produced by William H. Wright, "The Naked Spur" was filmed in Technicolor entirely on location against the picturesque and rugged backgrounds of the Colorado Rockies. It stands out as one of the year's most thrilling action and adventure dramas.

Hildegard's
Stardom Due
To Sincerity

HOLLYWOOD, March 7—UP—Hildegard has confessed she can't sing or play the piano, but her "sincerity" has made her one of the top hotel supper club singers. The "why" of her lasting success is the subject of debate over medium-rare by many a hotel patron across the country.

To an ex-small townner like myself, Hildegard is the symbol of sophistication, especially in those ads that bill her as "The Incomparable Hildegard," with her arms thrown above her head. But when you get around to viewing this phenomenon, as she says, it's "warmth" that gets her across.

Speaks in CAPITALS "Oh, I can't really play and I have no voice. But I want the audience to be HAPPY," exclaimed Hildegard, who speaks mostly in capital letters. "I LOVE the feeling of being CLOSE to them. YES, dear, I do."

Hildegard's charm wears well, for she's been a fixture in New York hotels for nine years since an orchestra leader discovered her singing in Florida. She also tours other cities; her engagement at the new Statler Hotel here has been sold out.

She even has been honored by invitations from nightclub mimics. Mitzel Green, for one, does a hilarious copy of Hildegard, complete with long gloves, flowing handkerchief, upswept hairdo, the roses she flings into the audience and her usually cheery greeting to the man on the spotlight, "Yoo hoo, Mister Alce Trician."

"Imitators Are Wonderful" "Those imitators are so wonderful," beamed Hildegard. "They're more like me than I am."

Hildegard wears long gloves because "I don't feel DRESSED without them." The gestures began in childhood, she said, and her teachers, used to tie her hands behind her back to tone her down.

"The handkerchief is a prop for this purpose or that, or to do this," she smiled, mopping her nose and brow.

Seminole Indians
To Be In Show Here

Seven authentic Seminole Indians will be in Monroe Wednesday to inaugurate the showing of a Universal picture entitled "Seminole" which will begin a five-day appearance at the Tem Theatre Thursday.

The seven Indians, who live on a government reservation, will make a personal appearance on the Tem stage at 5:40 p.m. Wednesday with a special stage show.

At 11 a.m. they will be interviewed over radio station KNOE and will be entertained by Gus Primos at 1 p.m. for lunch. At 4 p.m. they will make a personal appearance in the Palace Toy department.

The show is a story of Chief Osceola and features Rock Hudson, Barbara Hale and Anthony Quinn. Following the Monroe appearance the seven Indians will return to the government reservation, completing a country-wide tour.

Webelos Rites
Held For Cubs

Pack 34, sponsored by Lida Benton P.T.A., held a special meeting Thursday evening, March 5. Cubmaster Gunn called this meeting to honor Paul Davis, Harold Coates, James Gibson and Bill Ramblin. These boys have been awaiting their Webelos Badge for several months.

A new Scout troop, sponsored by Gordon Avenue Methodist Men, was organized, primarily, to take care of the boys leaving Cub Pack 34. The boys had to wait until the new charter was received before they could get their hard earned Webelos Badge. Cubmaster Gunn held an impressive candlelight ceremony. The boys reviewed the history of cubbing, including the meaning of Webelos. This is the highest rank obtainable in cubbing.

The ceremony was closed by the boys giving the Scout Oath. The parents were presented the Webelos Badges and in turn they presented the badge to the boys.

The parents, as well as the committee, were complimented for their work and interest in aiding the cubs in Pack 34. This makes six boys out of Pack 34 who have received their Webelos badge. This is a very high average and probably the highest in the Ouachita Valley Council. The leaders of Pack 34 should be proud of this record.

Future Teachers To Hear Speaker

Horace Robinson, field secretary of the Louisiana Education Association, will be guest speaker at Northeast State's Future Teachers of America banquet to be held March 11 at 8 p.m.

The installation event, planned to initiate new members into the local chapter of F.T.A., will be held in the Cajun Room of the Rendezvous.

Well known throughout the state, Robinson is head of the F. T. A. in Louisiana. Before assuming his present position, the field secretary was visiting teacher of Claiborne Parish schools. He also served as elementary school principal and classroom teacher in that parish school system. He is a graduate of Louisiana Tech and holds a master's degree from Louisiana State University. Mr. Robinson is affiliated with Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Delta Phi and Phi Kappa Phi fraternities.

Others participating on the banquet program include two senior students, Mrs. Edith Cote, of West Monroe, who will give a reading, and Wilma Joyce White, of Rayville, who will sing.

Officers of the F. T. A. campus unit which was formed only last fall, comprise of Oscar C. Pace, Epps, president; C. O. Wilson, Monroe, vice president and Gloria Orr, Oak Grove, secretary-treasurer.

William M. Smith, dean of the college and director of teacher education, and Mrs. Evelyn Otts, assistant professor of education, serve as faculty sponsors for the group.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

The Cotton States League's official schedule for the rapidly approaching season is announced today, and, since all club managers have been installed, about all that remains to be done before the new campaign opens April 21 is a little matter of spring training for the purpose of determining which of many aspiring candidates will be worth carrying as long as players through what promises to be a torrid race.

The 126-game per club schedule will call for Manager Charley Harrington's Monroe Sports to make four six-game home stands, four five-game stands in their own park, one four-game session, a trio of three-game sets, and three series of two games each. On the road they will have half a dozen trips of six games each, and three each of four, three, and two-game stands. Seven Sundays are dated for Legion Memorial Stadium with ten Sundays on the road.

The schedule leaves us with the impression that Monroe's pennant hopes may hinge on a fast start and whirlwind finish. This observation is based upon our own opinion that Meridian, Jackson, and Natchez will be strong first division contenders. The Sports open the season with Natchez for four games, take on Meridian next for six, tackle Jackson for six more, and hit Natchez again for four more before getting a taste of what Hot Springs, El Dorado, Greenville and Pine Bluff, in that order, will have to offer. If the Sports can get off to a good winning start against such clubs as Natchez, Meridian, and Jackson we'll be satisfied.

At the wrap-up of the campaign, the Sports will get in six games with always tough Pine Bluff, plus four with Jackson, four with Meridian, and six with Natchez. The pennant, very likely, will be decided in this stretch of Monroe's last 20 games of the season against the clubs that from this far ahead are considered the teams to beat.

The Cotton States' All-Star game at Hot Springs on July 13 will be played on an East vs. West basis, according to an announcement by Al Haraway, loop president, who conducted a mail vote of league directors who rescinded their earlier action in deciding to send the league leaders of July the Fourth against the stars of the rest of the loop at Hot Springs. The earlier action was carried by 4-1 margin with Meridian, Jackson, and Natchez ignoring the ballot. The mail vote in favor of returning the game to the East-West system was 7-1.

St. Louis Browns' Switch To Milwaukee Still Alive

By JOE REICHLER
SARASOTA, Fla., March 7 (P)—Machinery for shifting the St. Louis Browns' franchise to Milwaukee is in motion but the transfer probably won't take place until 1954, at the earliest.

After talking with such baseball executives as major league president Will Harridge of the American League and Commissioner Ford Frick and club heads Bill Veeck of the Browns and Fred Saigh of the Cardinals, the writer is convinced that there is a very definite move to put a major league franchise in Milwaukee.

Veeck is eager to move. Harridge is in favor of it. Giles thinks it is inevitable. The city itself is doing everything in its power in an effort to swing it. Saigh goes step further and predicts that within five to 10 years, not only St. Louis but Philadelphia and Boston will become one-team towns.

What then is holding up the move to Milwaukee? First of all, baseball law prevents a shift this season. While a major league club may invade a minor league territory at any time, a minor league club can shift to another territory only between the months of October and December after giving notice of intention.

Second, shifting a franchise is a very expensive proposition. Adequate compensation must not only be made to the affected club, but its league and to every club in the league. That is why there hasn't been a change in the major league setup since 1902 when, ironically, Milwaukee surrendered its franchise to the Browns.

Third, it takes much negotiation and a lot of red tape. Besides the negotiating cities, at least two or sometimes three and four leagues become involved as each club seeks to move into another classification.

The biggest problem confronting Milwaukee is the Cardinals.

There are some who believe the real reason Perini turned down the $500,000 offer was because he was thinking of moving his own Braves into the fertile Wisconsin territory with its new 32,000 seat stadium and its potential draw of a million fans at some future date. It all is contingent, of course, on how the Braves fare in attendance in 1953. Another season like last when the Braves lost a reported $700,000, may be the clincher.

Snead 5 Strokes Ahead At Baton Rouge

Barnum, Mayer, Wampler Share Tie For Second

By HUGH MULLIGAN
BATON ROUGE, La., March 7 (P)—Sammy Snead, past master of the long irons slammed away with his woods for a five-under-par 67 today to take over undisputed lead at the three-quarter mark of the $10,000 Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament.

A 215-yard blast with a number three wood landed the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., veteran within an eagle putt of the pin on the ninth hole, the turning point in the scorching round which gave him a 54-hole total of 204.

A gallery of more than 4,000 tramped over the 6,411-yard Baton Rouge Country Club course, cheering Snead, the pre-tourney favorite.

Snead added three birdies to his eagle on the ninth hole for a five-stroke lead over John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Mich., Fred Wampler of Indianapolis and Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mayer, 28-year-old former tank sergeant, who shared second-day honors with Snead, had to scramble mightily for a par 72 in an ill-fated threesome that saw the sudden collapse of Bill Nary, Los Angeles, and Freddie Haas Jr., New Orleans, both top contenders yesterday.

Nary blew to a miserable 81 while Haas fell eight strokes off the pace with a 74.

Tommy Morrow, pint-sized sophomore from Louisiana State University, continued his mastery over the amateur ranks with a third-day total of 213, but went over par for the third time in the tournament today. The 19-year-old golfer finished with a 73.

The leaders:

Sammy Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., 69-68-67-204.
Fred Wampler, Indianapolis, 71-69-69-209.
John Barnum, Grand Rapids, Mich., 70-68-71-209.

5 Track Shows For Tribe

Snavely Accepts Job As Coach At St. Louis School

ST. LOUIS, March 7 (P)—Carl Snavely, who resigned last year as football coach at the University of North Carolina, today was named head gridiron coach at Washington University.

Irv Utz, who has held the football job since 1949, will remain at Snavely's chief assistant, the St. Louis school's athletic director Blair Gullon, announced.

Snavely, 58, told newsmen after the announcement that "I regard my new job as a most satisfactory one."

He served 10 years at North Carolina in two tours of duty. He left there following the 1952 season during which his team had two victories and six defeats.

Three years ago he led the Tar Heels into the Cotton Bowl and holds an overall coaching record of 147 triumphs, 77 losses and 16 ties.

He also coached at Bucknell for seven years and at Marietta, O., one season.

Favored Intent Takes San Juan With Arcaro Up

ARCADIA, Calif., March 7 (P)—Brookfield farm's favored Intent captured the $100,000 San Juan Capistrano Handicap for the second straight year today and with the triumph went a grand slam for Jockey Eddie Arcaro in Santa Anita's four richest races this season.

The El Refugio Ranch of Mexico saddled the runner-up, Don Rebele, another Kentucky horse who won his chief fame in Mexico last year. The feared Californian, Trusting, owned by Mrs. Rea Warner, ran third, three quarters of a length behind the Don.

The time was 2:55 and three-fifths. Intent paid $5.70, $4.10 and $2.90. Don Rebele $6.90 and $3.90, and Trusting $2.00.

Arcaro thus finished the season with one of his greatest feats—the winner of all four of the track's $100,000 extravaganzas.

But where Eddie had a rough time getting Calumet's Mark-Ve-Well in to win the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap, an even tougher time with Calumet's Chalea in the rich Santa Anita Derby, and some task with Mark-Ve-Well in the $100,000 Maturity, today's ride was a breeze.

The day's supporting feature, the $25,000 Blue Grass Handicap, was won by Mrs. Gordon Guberson's front running Correspondent over six rival 3-year-olds.

Correspondent paid $6.60, $3.80 and $2.70. Allison and Prestidige's colt, Invictorator, paid $4 and $2.90, and Meryman $2.50.

Tech's Five On Way To Tourney At Kansas City

RUSTON, La., March 7 (UP)—Louisiana Tech's Bulldogs left here Saturday for Kansas City to take part in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics basketball tournament.

Play in the tournament begins Monday, but the 'Dogs will lunch at Fayetteville, Ark., and work out Saturday afternoon in the University of Arkansas gymnasium.

Coach Cecil Crowley and his 10-man traveling squad will spend the night at Joplin, Mo., before continuing on to Kansas City Sunday morning.

Tech defeated Centenary for the right to represent Louisiana in the NAIA tournament. It's the third time the Bulldogs have had the honor.

6 Army Cagers On All-Star's 1st, 2nd Teams

NEW YORK, March 7 (P)—Six army players are included on the first and second All-Star basketball teams selected by the Armed Forces Press Service from top stars of the army, navy, marine corps and air force.

The World-Wide All Stars, chosen by service and civilian sports editors and service coaches at home and overseas, were picked from more than 30 service players.

Paul Arizin, Quantico Marines ace and former National Basketball Association scoring leader with Philadelphia, was the unanimous choice for first team. He played at Villanova.

Other first team players, with service designation, camp, college, and professional experience if any:

Dick Schnitker, USA, Fort Meade, Md., Ohio State, Minneapolis; Ed Roman, USA, Fort Eustis, Va., City College of New York; Paul Unruh, USA, Camp Breckenridge, Ky.; Bradley, USN, San Diego; USMC, Camp Lejeune, N. C., Long Island University.

Second team:

Zeke Sinicola, USA, Camp Breckenridge, Niagara, Fort Wayne; Ray Ragelis, USA, Fort Lee, Va., Northwestern, Rochester; Carl McNulty, USN, Great Lakes, Ill., Purdue, Minneapolis; Sam Ranzino, USA, Army MTC, Korea, North Carolina State, Leroy Smith, USMC, Camp Lejeune, N. C., Long Island University.

Spiders eat other insects besides flies and, under winter conditions, can go without food for several months.

Ouachita Spikemen Aim For 1st Show Saturday

With their seasoning opening meet less than a week away, Coach Johnny Johnson yesterday whittled his Ouachita Parish High School track squad from 90 candidates down to 50 to get ready for appearances by his "A" and "B" teams in the Byrd Clinic at Shreveport next Saturday.

The Lions are holding daily workout on Northeast State's track, and, although appearing weak in the field events since the graduation of Gene Greet and Earl Hawthorne and such speedsters as Norman Goza, Jerry Sikes, and Gary Cook, the Lions expect to come up with a promising squad headed by sophomores and freshmen.

Coach Johnson announced his schedule as follows:

March 14—Byrd Clinic, "A" and "B" teams, at Shreveport.

March 21—Bastrop, here, 1 p.m. March 28—Northwestern Relays at Natchitoches.

April 4—Bolton's Big Six meet at Alexandria.

April 10-11—Southwestern Relays at Lafayette.

April 18—TJ-Six meet.

April 24-25—District rally at Northwestern (Natchitoches).

Coach Johnson also listed his squadmen as follows:

Field events — Edgar Aston, Charles McBeth, Cliff DeLoache, J. P. Wyatt, Raymond Clark, Dan Clark, Billy Battaglia, Ronald Nichols, Julius Wagoner, Joel Street, Malcolm Bass, Larry Alexander, Paul Fleming, James Hart, Dick Culppeper, Marvin Eppinette, Ed Hilsop, James Newman, Charles Wilder, Arthur Craig, Webb Nix, Guy Roberts, Ray Roberts, Robert Wink, Louis Whittington, Glen Langley, L. 'Babe' Zaharias Ties Patty Berg At Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 7 (P)—Babe Zaharias missed seven putts from eight to nine feet and still shot a one under men's par 71 today to catch Patty Berg after 33 holes of the Jacksonville Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Berg, playing out of St. Andrews, Ill., had 74 to go with her first round 69 that set a new course record.

Mrs. Zaharias, from Tampa, had 72 opening day.

Each of these two veterans takes a 143 into Sunday's final 18 holes of the medal play tournament.

Louise Suggs, defending champion here and current National Women's Open champion, matched the Babe's sub-par 71 and was in third place with 146.

Most of Mrs. Zaharias' missed putts resulted in pars. Her iron shots were getting her in close enough to go for the birdie nearly every time and once she canned a 10-foot putt for an eagle.

The leaders:

Patty Berg, St. Andrews, Ill., 69-74-113.
Babe Zaharias, Tampa, 72-71-113.
Louise Suggs, Atlanta, 75-71-146.
Betty Jameson, San Antonio, Tex., 72-75-147.
Marilynn Smith, Wichita, Kan., 72-76-148.
Betsy Rawls, Spartanburg, S. C., 74-75-149.
Beverly Hanson, Indio, Calif., 74-74-149.
Jackie Pung, Glasgow, Ky., 74-77-151.
Betty Dodd, San Antonio, Tex., 77-75-152.
Alice Bauer, Sarasota, Fla., 77-77-154.
Betty Mackinnon, Dallas, Tex., 78-77-155.
Peggy Kirk, Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla., 76-82-158.
Marlene Bauer, Sarasota, Fla., 86-76-162.
Ann Breault, Chicago, 81-88-169.

Ouachita's Girls Win State Class AA Cage Title

Oak Grove Girls, Baskin's Sextet, J-H Quintet Win

LAFAYETTE, La., March 7 (AP)—Forward Joyce Dumas scored 29 points to lead Ouachita Parish High School of Monroe to a 60-40 victory over Istrouma of Baton Rouge today in the finals of the girls' double-A basketball tournament.

Ouachita won the championship after beating Haynesville, 57-44, in the semi-finals and St. Joseph's of Baton Rouge, 47-32, in the first round. The girls from Monroe were defending state Class AA champions.

SIXTH FOR BASKIN

RUSTON, La., March 7 (Special)—The Baskin High School girls, beaten only once since 1947, won their sixth consecutive Louisiana state Class B basketball championship here tonight by defeating Martin, 47-24, in the finals of the title tournament at Louisiana Tech.

The boys' Class B championship went to Coushatta with a 45-42 triumph over Hall Summit. The all-state Class B teams were named as follows:

Boys—Ken Ivy, Hall Summit; Ben McLemore, Hall Summit; Gus Caraway, Coushatta; Jap Gullatt, Simsboro; Don McCullen, Simsboro; Don Unshaw, Ringgold; Steve Stafford, Walker; Charles Barrett, Oberlin; Malcolm Underwood, Live Oak; and George Moore, Coushatta.

NORTHEAST DOMINANT

NATCHITOCHEES, La., March 7 (Special)—Northeast Louisiana high schools dominated finals play in the state Class A championship tournaments for boys and girls here tonight at Northwestern State College with Oak Grove's girls from West Carroll parish, and the Jonesboro-Hodge boys sacking up the crowns.

Oak Grove's sextet won out over Winnboro, 24-22, in an all-northeast district final thriller. Jonesboro-Hodge eliminated Newman in the title series, 57-44. The Jena Clints upheld the northeast's supremacy by taking the consolation trophy by beating Springfield's boys, 63-46.

The all-state "A" teams were selected as follows:

Boys—Travis Ford, Jonesboro; Norman Ayres, Jonesboro; Stanley Stump, Newman; Leon Greenblatt, Newman; Ralph Richardson, Springfield; Eves Sand'n, Leesville; John Crowe, Springfield; Earl McLean, Covington; P. Kenon, Jena; Bobby Booth, Hammond.

Aggie Cindermen Remp To Victory In Southwestern

FORT WORTH, Tex., March 7 (AP)—Oklahoma A. and M.'s balanced team, featuring eleven-year-old Mickey Wilborn, who scored 16 points, and it's great Norwegian star, Fredrik Eckhoff, spreadeagled the field today in winning the university division of the Southwestern Recreation track and field meet as 10 records fell and two others were tied in four classes.

The Oklahoma Aggies swarmed to a blistering total of 63 1-5 points to more than double the second team, defending champion Southern Methodist.

North Texas State easily repeated with the college division title. Southern Methodist was a pronounced victor in the college freshman class, Victoria, rolled up 66 1-2 points in outscoring everybody to again win the junior college crown and Sunset of Dallas came in with the high school title.

Oklahoma A. and M. won 10 events and tied for two others in the 14 events run off. Only in one of the spot put were the ambitious Aggies shut out.

The Aggies chipped in with three of the ten records. One of them was by their Swedish freshman star, Sture Lundquist, who ran the mile in 4:23.7 in the college freshman class to wipe out the old mark of 4:28.4 set by Javer Montes of Texas Western in 1949.

Illinois Easily Wins Dig Ten Track Show

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., March 7 (AP)—Illinois won the Big Ten indoor track and field title with surprising ease today by beating out Michigan 53 1-4 to 49 1-6.

The Illini swept four firsts and out in on five seconds and four thirds in an amazing balance of power. They were so far ahead by the last event—the one mile relay—that they scratched out of the race. Michigan won it, gathering 10 first place points to make the final tally somewhat close.

Little Rock Sells Fielder To Denver

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 7 (AP)—The Little Rock Travelers in the Class AA Southern Association, today announced the sale of Pat Haggerty to Denver in the Class A Western League.

Whitaker, Wade In 'Main'

Charles Whitaker, Bastrop's promising light heavyweight battler, will trade punches with Larry Wade, Greenwood, Miss., in the ten-round main event on Promoter Gus Kallio's boxing card here tomorrow night at Kallio's Arena.

The Whitaker-Wade feature will be supported by three other professional matches that serve up some new faces along with some more familiar and astute customers of the Twin Cities.

Whitaker, at 170 pounds, will be spotting Wade a five-pounder, but the Morehouse mittman feels confident he can handle the Mississippi puncher, a former Golden Gloves winner at the Mid-South Tournament in Memphis.

Bill Williams, a Bastrop product now coaching at Ocala, Ark., will tangle with Clyde Ellidge, classy Tallulah scrapper, in the six-round semi-final. Ellidge has been a steady battler on Kallio's programs, and Williams is well known in this section.

Paul "Goat" Jones, a popular Bastrop 123-pounder, is paired against Don Ellis, a newcomer from Greenwood, Miss., in one of the four-round supporting battles. The Ellis matches weight with Jones.

Opening bout on the night's card will send another Greenwood belt, middleweight James Barrentine, against Monroe's John Crow. Barrentine is due to weigh in at 150 pounds with Crow expected to come in at 149.

Referee for the program is scheduled to be Norris Ray, the hard punting Bastrop middleweight who has frequently appeared as a main event fighter in this area.

The opening preliminary match is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

Little Imp Home First To Claim King Cotton Run

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 7 (AP)—C. H. Everett's Little Imp came from fourth place in the stretch to register a mild upset by winning the $5,000 King Cotton Handicap before a crowd of 12,197 at Oaklawn Park here today.

Ridden by Jockey Peter Ward, the 6-year-old son of Seven Hearts, 1943 Arkansas Derby winner, gained a three quarters of a length decision over Pollard and Harkins' Our Challenge, an odds-on favorite. The Careyland Ranches' Hairbow finished third, another three quarters of a length back in the field of eight.

M. H. Van Berg's Miss Bibbin was fourth.

Little Imp, which had failed to win in two previous starts here, covered the mile and 70-yard in 1:11.2, four fifths of a second slower than the track record, to pay the second choice price of $10.40.

The daily double of Sir Ricker and Golden City paid $545.

Amateur Golf Tourney Bids Being Mailed

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The first annual Colonial Country Club Invitational golf tournament will be held in Jackson April 17, 18 and 19, general chairman John Christensen announced today.

Invitations are being mailed to amateur golfers in Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee and Alabama.

Qualifying round for par shooters who elect to try for the medal and championship flight is on April 17 but lower flight competitors are invited to play their qualifying round anytime earlier in the week.

First round match play begins April 18.

Silver cups will be awarded winners, runners-up and winners of consolation flights.

Henry Frnka Named Veep At Trinity U.

SAN ANTONIO, March 7 (AP)—Henry Frnka, executive vice president at Austin College, has been named vice president of Trinity University here.

The one-time football coach at Tulsa and Tulane Universities will assume his new duties April 1. He will handle matters of development and finance.

Miss Faulk Nips Bea McWane For Florida Trophy

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 7 (AP)—Mary Lena Faulk, Thomasville, Ga., today won her third straight Florida East Coast Golf title by defeating Bea McWane, Birmingham, Ala., 3 and 2.

The same girls met last year in the finals and Miss Faulk won that one, 5 and 3.

The victory today enabled Miss Faulk to retire permanently the Mrs. William R. Kenan Jr. Trophy that has been in competition since 1936.

Miss Faulk, carding an even par 37 and three birdies, was 5 up at the turn. Then Miss McWane, who had been having troubles with her short game and had carded a four over par 41, bore down, cutting the margin to 3 up by the 12th hole.

She played the rest of the holes faultlessly but was unable to pick up any more ground as Miss Faulk's holes ran out on the 16th.

Preakness Lists 135 Nominations For May Feature

BALTIMORE, March 7 (AP)—The Maryland Jockey Club announced today 135 three-year-old thoroughbreds were nominated for the 1953 Preakness at Pimlico, and it expects about a dozen will show up May 23 at post-time.

As expected, the list is topped by Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Native Dancer, which last year dragged down horse-of-the-year honors in most polls.

Roberten in nine starts as a juvenile, including seven stakes, the Polynesian—Geishoel was recognized even in the Pimlico announcement as "current favorite" for the Preakness, as well as for the Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes, the other two races in what turfmen call the triple crown.

Native Dancer has sat out the early 1953 big events for three-year-olds but last year set an all-time high for juvenile runners by winning $20,495.

Although the Vanderbilt star collected a bigger bundle than any other Preakness nominee last year, several other rich names grace the 1953 list of 121 colts, 12 geldings and two fillies, named for the 77th running of the $100,000-added mile and three-sixteenths event.

Trio stable's Laffano won four stakes and made $100,000. Tallulah King, owned by Ben F. Whitaker and second to Native Dancer in the Belmont Futurity, was a 1952 stakes winner, but has not raced this year.

Whitaker also named Grecian Queen, one of the only two fillies. She was regarded as the top juvenile filly after winning four stakes, including $33,325 in the Demoiselle.

Greentree stable put up Straight Face, winner of more than $118,000 in the Flamingo Stakes a week ago at Hialeah, as well as Lotus Eater and Powhatan.

Calumet farm, which sent out the No. 1 horse in five previous runnings of the Preakness, nominated four, including Chanlea, victor in the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby. The others are Bob Away, Breeze By, and Conjure.

Minnesota Upsets Indiana Five, 65-63

MINNEAPOLIS, March 7 (AP)—A basket with three seconds to go gave Minnesota a 65-63 upset victory over Indiana tonight, the first loss for the Hoosiers in Big Ten competition this year. It was the first defeat in 18 games for Indiana.

Duquesne Downs Tulsa, Louisville Tags Georgetown

NEW YORK, March 7 (AP)—Chet Beam, who refuses to let a bad heart interfere with basketball, took charge at two critical moments to lead Louisville to a 92-79 victory over Georgetown in the first round of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament tonight. Louisville's triumph followed Duquesne's 88-69 breeze over Tulsa in the opening game of a triple header.

St. Louis met St. John's of Brooklyn in the third game Beam, a skinny 6-foot-4-inch junior from Jeffersonville, Ind., is able to play only about half the time in each quarter because of a minor heart ailment. He made

ST. JOHN'S WINS

NEW YORK, March 7 (AP)—The St. John's Redmen, a red hot team at the end of the season, turned in their peak performance tonight to win the St. Louis University Billikens, 81-66, in the opening round of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

A crowd of 17,837, largest of the season at Madison Square Garden, saw Duquesne and Louisville also advance to the second round in the NIT tripleheader.

those minutes count tonight when he sparked a second quarter rally that gave Louisville the lead at the end of the first half. Then when Georgetown threatened again early in the third quarter it was Beam again who took command and gave the Cardinals a comfortable lead.

Louisville's 13-point margin at the finish hardly indicated the close, rough struggle that marked all but the closing minutes of the game.

Duquesne, unseeded as were all six teams playing tonight, simply outran and outshot the Missouri Valley Conference team in a lopsided and somewhat listless game. The Dukes ran up a 19-point lead in the first quarter and from there on it was hardly a contest.

Monroe Acquires 3 Players At Shreveport School

Manasseh Signs Pitcher, Second Sacker, Gardener

SHREVEPORT, La., March 7 (Special)—The Monroe Sports of the Cotton States League, a farm club of the Shreveport Sports, grabbed three players today from among the squad of 100 young athletes participating in the Sports' baseball school here.

Business Manager Paul Manasseh of Monroe, here for the school, announced he has obtained contracts with William Donowski, a right-handed pitcher; Freddie Carroll Harriet, a second baseman; and Huey Roberts, an outfielder.

Manasseh indicated he and Charley Harrington, skipper of the Monroe club, who is assisting Shreveport Manager Mickey Livingston in conducting the school here, are looking favorably toward another prospect or two and expect to announce signings of at least one more Sunday.

Donowski is a 20-year-old hurler of Ironwood, Mich., who only recently obtained a military discharge after seeing service overseas. Donowski, standing six-feet-two and weighing 165, was recommended to Livingston by a friend who saw the youth in action with his service team. Although a right-handed hurler, Donowski bats left. Harriet, a six-foot-one youngster of 20 years and weighing 178 pounds, hails from Bloomburg, Tex. A right-handed batter, Harriet will be given strong consideration as the successor to Jesse "Rip" Van Winkle, the second sacker Monroe sold to Augusta, Ga.

Roberts won his Monroe contract on the strength of a fine showing at the school here. He is from Foulke, Ark., weighs 165, stands five-feet-ten, is 19 years of age, and bats and throws left handed.

"We think we have landed three mighty good prospects in Donowski, Harriet, and Roberts," declared Monroe's Manager Harrington after Manasseh had obtained their signatures on contracts. "They have been impressive during the course of our school and could do Monroe a lot of good."

The school closes here Sunday afternoon with an intra-squad contest pitting Harrington's Sandlappers against Scout Abe Miller's Ridgerunners. The game will begin at 2:30 o'clock and will be open to the public at no admission charge.

Mangrum Leads Middlecoff As High Doughboy

CHICAGO, March 7 (U)—Despite pressure by Cary Middlecoff, the pro golf money-winning lead after the third month of 1953 competition today remained with debutant Lloyd Mangrum with $6,730.

Middlecoff, suddenly surging from 10th two weeks ago, holds the runner-up spot now with $6,771. Middlecoff's Houston Open victory netted him $4,000.

Other leaders include Tommy Bolt, $5,375; Doug Ford, $3,834; and Ted Krill, $3,715.

Chandler Harper continues as leader in Vardon Trophy competition with 817 strokes for 13 rounds, at 68.06 per round average. Mangrum is next with 69.25.

Still the Ryder Cup point leader with 582 and 47-60 points is Jack Burke, Jr., followed by Sammy Snead with 515 and one-sixth.

Former Cincinnati Hurler Recovering

CINCINNATI, March 7 (U)—Frank "Noodles" Hahn, great Cincinnati Reds southpaw of 50 years ago, was reported in "satisfactory" condition at Deaconess Hospital today.

Hahn, who became a veterinarian and later a federal meat inspector after retiring from baseball, was operated on two weeks ago. He will have to remain in the hospital two weeks longer.

CSL's Pulse Quickening

By J. P. FRIEND
BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., March 7 (Special)—The baseball pulse of Cotton States League fans quickened sharply during the week with the announcement of the signing of the eighth manager, plus some player signature jolting activity.

The St. Louis Browns, through their minor league director, Jim McLaughlin, completed the managerial complement with the selection of Frank J. Lucchesi, 26, of San Francisco, to lead their Pine Bluff farm this season. An infielder, Lucchesi managed Thomasville, Ga., of the Class D Georgia-Florida league in '52.

Of the other seven skipper, previously identified, only two are returning to their old jobs. They are Tommy Davis, an Charley Harrington. Meridian, defending champion, persuaded Davis to remain at the helm of the Millers for at least another season, despite several tempting job offers. Under the veteran player last year the Millers celebrated their return to the league by winning not only the regular championship, but the playoffs to boot. They were in first place from opening day to the finish, a rarity in this strong Class C league.

Down in Monroe, La., Harrington has been given a second assignment to lead the Sports back to the top of the loop, where they wound up the 1951 campaign. President Boneau Peters of the parent Shreveport club, has promised the popular Harrington and Monroe fans a better class of playing talent in an effort to boost their '52 fourth place. Charley, plagued with sickness and injuries part of last year, is reported in fine cal condition and expects to get in at least 100 of the 126 games. He hasn't decided what infield spot he will assign himself.

Remainder of the pilot list includes: Vernon (Moose) Shetler, Hot Springs; Wayne Tucker, Natchez; Marland (Duke) Doolittle, Jackson; Marlon (Bill) Adair, El Dorado; and Harold Martin, Greenville.

With exception of Shetler, all will be making their league bid this summer. "Moose," a giant hard hitting first baseman, started with the Bathers at first last season, but was sold to Owensboro (Ky.), of the Kilty League, after only 10 games.

There also have been some changes in the business offices of at least three clubs. Jewell Thomas, concessions manager at Jaycee park for the last two years, is moving inside as general manager for Hot Springs. He succeeds Tom Stough. Bill Maughn, former scout for the New York Giants and Boston Braves, already has moved in as general manager of the Greenville Bucks, which took over the surrendered Greenwood franchise. George F. Merrick, long-time general manager of Pine Bluff, has resigned to accept a similar position in Texas.

Holdover general managers include Donald J. Brown, El Dorado; C. B. (Dough) Rawlings, Meridian; Paul Manasseh, Monroe, and Glennon, Natchez.

Six-Man Tag Scramble Features Mat Program

The Tuesday night wrestling card at Gus Kallio's Arena will feature another tag team match, this time with three matmen on each side. Jack and George Curtis, adding Bill Barney to their roster, will again meet Pat Cronin and Jack Kelly, weekly boo-gatherers, aided by Jackson, Miss.'s Pat Willis.

Last week's program ended in a slugfest between the two referees, with Barney claiming the Curtis duo had won the match. Willis was just as vociferously in holding up the Kelly-Cronin pair's arms. Barney's decision was upheld by Promoter Kallio, and the Curtis team was declared the victors, but nothing could be more natural than scheduling all six of them to battle this Tuesday, with the referee rivals fighting legally on opposite sides.

Willis, teamed with the villains, made himself slightly unpopular last week by not only making most of his decisions during the second and third fall in their favor, and then declaring them winners, but compelled highly - popular Jack Curtis to break several holds, much to the latter's and the fans' disgust.

Not much is known about Willis' grappling ability, so it remains uncertain what will happen if he and Jack Curtis are squared off; but Barney, an experienced wrestler, should be able to hold his own with any of the opposing trio.

Three preliminaries are scheduled - George Curtis vs. "Irish Jack" Kelly in a ten-minute time limit fall, Jack Curtis vs. "Big Boy" Cronin in another short limit fall, and Barney meets Willis in two three-minute rounds.

Battlefield Nips Golden Gloves To Win Appleton Run

MIAMI, Fla., March 7 (U)—George D. Widener's Battlefield, one of the most consistent thoroughbreds in the land, captured the $15,000 added Appleton Handicap at Gulfstream Park today before 20,431 fans.

As usual, the son of War Relic tried to pull up after getting to the front in the closing phases of the exciting race, but still he equaled the track record of 1:48 4-5 for the mile and a furlong set by Harmonica in 1948.

Heavily backed at $4.10 straight and ridden by Al Schmidt, Battlefield moved from fifth place leaving the back stretch, swung wide on the turn, then nailed Belair stud's Golden Gloves by a head at the wire.

Golden Gloves appeared to be getting to Battlefield as the Widener ace eased up in the last yards. Battlefield rarely wins or loses by more than a head.

Third in the field of eight top handicap horses in this area was Mrs. H. P. Christiansen's Mandingo, a length and a half back of Golden Gloves. J. Gavegnano's Boy was fourth.

Hampton stable's Alerted, top weighted at 125 pounds, was the big disappointment in the race. The old rival of Battlefield ran into trouble on the first turn and was outtrun. The "Iron Horse," ridden by Dave Gorman, made only a mild rally in the last quarter mile.

Battlefield paid $4.10, $3.10 and $2.60. Golden Gloves returned $10.10 and $5.50 and Mandingo $4.10 to show.

Largest prehistoric burial mound of the conical type is located at Moundsville W. Va.

JAMES B. CAMP JOHN A. HARRELL

NOW IN TRAINING—Two West Monroe marines are now training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, California, where in nine weeks recruits are made into Marines. The two local Leathernecks are James B. Camp, 17, and John A. Harrell, 18, son of Mrs. N. A. Harrell of 238 South Riverfront. In addition to schooling in basic military subjects, the two Marines will be trained in the operation of the Marine Corps' modern firearms. They will fire the .30 caliber Garand rifle and Browning Automatic rifle. Also they will fire the light and heavy machine guns and become familiar with the bazooka, mortar and flame thrower. Former students of Ouachita Parish High School, Camp and Harrell worked for the News-Star—World Publishing Company prior to enlisting in the Marine Corps.

Ike's Hopes Of Harmony On Labor Front Collapse

WASHINGTON, March 7 —UP— President Eisenhower's chances of promoting labor-management harmony suffered a sharp setback by the collapse of the administration's advisory committee on the Taft-Hartley Act, officials said Saturday.

Several members of the 15-man labor-industry — public committee break-up, that the conference only "pointed out" the major differences between union leaders and businessmen on revising the labor law.

"This makes the administration's problem that much tougher," one public member said. "It was just one more step in emphasizing the differences."

The group split Friday after a clash between labor and industry representatives before even one section of the law could be fully discussed. The conference was called by Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin after the President, in his State of the Union Message, had proposed the session in hopes of getting agreement on at least some part of the controversial law.

Durkin said he would report to the President on "what happened," adding that he did not know whether Mr. Eisenhower would have any new advice to offer.

Whether the President will try to resurrect the committee or seek another route to bridge the impasse was conjectural. But no one involved believed the committee break could be mended at least on the labor law question.

AFL President George Meany said: "I am forced to the inescapable conclusion that these representatives of industry are perfectly content to sit tight with the Taft-Hartley act as now written... and will take no part in a move to make the law more acceptable to labor."

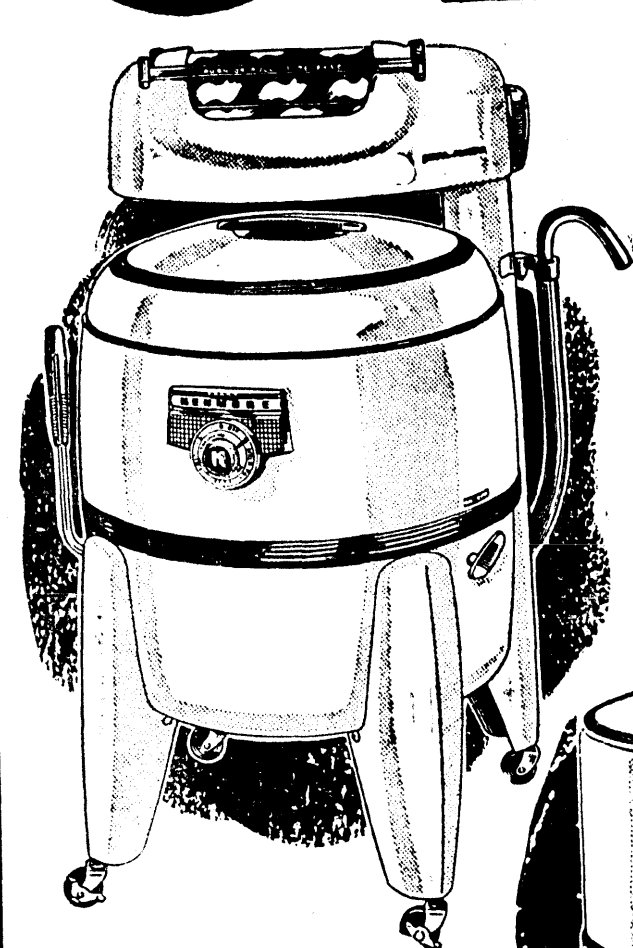

The committee's businessmen countered that they did not join the conference to "negotiate with labor representatives... on a set of recommendations on Taft-Hartley Act amendments." They insisted the conference was set up only to "advise" Durkin on the various views and that he could then, in turn, take the views to Congress.

MRS. J. W. McWILLIAMS — At a party given in her honor on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. S. J. Rogers and Mrs. Gordon Cummings, before her departure for Memphis, where she will make her home. Mrs. Grant Boardman shared in the honors of the party.

Mrs. J. W. McWilliams To Make Home In Memphis

In a sense this is a valedictory. It is a salute and a farewell to one of Monroe's most beloved women, Mrs. J. W. McWilliams who leaves next week to make her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold McGeorge of Memphis, Tenn., after being the heart beat of Monroe's social and church life for fifty-seven years.

Now at the age of 84 she will leave old friends but will be surrounded by her loving family in a suite of rooms in the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. McGeorge. She will take with her some of her loveliest possessions including handsome antique furniture of mahogany and rosewood and other priceless heirlooms. People have always been Mrs. McWilliams' greatest interest. This love of people is perhaps the secret of her magnetic personality. The one thing she is really noted for is her talent for friendship. When talking to Mrs. McWilliams, there is a line of Shakespeare that comes to mind. "Age cannot wither her, nor custom stale her infinite variety." She is rather ageless. One never thinks of her as an old lady. She has a great sympathy, unbounded wit and a faculty for making friends that makes her extremely companionable to young and old.

Keen regret is manifested over Mrs. McWilliams' departure by old friends who have walked with her down the years enjoying life as it was lived "when hearts were young and gay." Life in Monroe fifty years ago was lived on a spacious and rather elegant scale and one of the most hospitable homes was the one presided over by Mrs. McWilliams who dispensed her own particular brand of hospitality. Monroe can ill afford to lose residents of Mrs. McWilliams' ilk. Her departure will leave a distinct void that can never be filled by another. A bit of the old south, reflected in her personality, will be gone from our midst.

Mrs. McWilliams is a bridge and canasta enthusiast. She tackles them just as she does every thing else, with determination and fire. At the age of 84 she is abreast with the times and well informed on all the latest rules and regulations of bridge. In fact, she is mentally alert on every subject dealing with the weighty problems of today. In sympathy with life as it is lived today young people find this ageless woman a most delightful companion.

What is one person's loss is another's gain — it is the law of compensation. Monroe will lose one of its most beloved women but Memphis will gain a new resident who will be quick to make new friends and find her own particular niche in the social world where she will be a distinct acquisition.

Junior Charity League Begins Twenty-Third Year

With A Record Of Purpose And Achievement Is Considered One Of The Most Active Young Women's Organizations

With a record of purpose and achievement the Junior Charity League is beginning another year of service for the underprivileged children of this community. Always considered one of the most active organizations among the young women of the Twin Cities, it has grown both in size and program since its timely founding in the "depression" year of 1930.

The desperate welfare situation at that time was the inspiration for a small group of civic-minded friends to organize and help the needy children during the crisis. The idea of Junior League was then already well established throughout the United States, having begun back at the turn of the century when young women began to express the desire to volunteer their services in the field of social welfare. For twenty-two years the local Junior Charity League has been endeavoring to continue the work begun here by Mrs. Edward Seymour, the first president, and Mrs. Ruth Sargis, Mrs. Harold Dixon, Mrs. Howard Greene, Mrs. Mary Black Gray, Mrs. Joe Isaacman, Mrs. James A. Noe, Mrs. Jack Rogers, Mrs. Frank Shaw, and Mrs. Elmer Slagle.

While keeping its welfare work as its paramount interest, the Junior Charity League has made an effort through the years to broaden its scope by adopting as its purpose the promotion of interest among its members in the improvement of all aspects of this community. To make the volunteer services of the League's seventy-five active members more efficient, emphasis has been placed in the last four years on the training and development of each new member through a Provisional Course. The course is designed to acquaint the provisional member with the work of the organization and also with the community in which she will serve. This initial training is followed by a system of "placing" a member in the field of league work which interests her most. It is hoped that with the training a young woman receives as a member of the Junior Charity League she will continue to be an interested and active citizen when she is no longer a participating league member.

The minimum of seventy-five hours of service required of each member are chiefly spent in the current charitable projects for the children of the community and in the financial projects which make them possible. Since the members' dues cover all administrative costs, and funds which are raised in the community are returned to the community 100 per cent. At present the Thrift Shop on North 8th Street is the chief financial project. With sales made from donations of surplus merchandise from the merchants of the Twin Cities, from league members, and other interested friends, the shop is able to partly maintain the extensive Milk Fund. Last year over $2,000 was spent in buying approximately 10,000 quarts of milk for children.

Other financial projects help in carrying on the work at E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital and at the Crippled Children's Clinic, in addition to the emergency food and clothing given families in need and to the birthday and Christmas presents given the children in foster homes. Besides the library maintained at Charity Hospital, league members furnish layettes, slippers, tooth brushes and powder, and provide a "Treat Day" for the children in the wards. The assistance given the Crippled Children's Clinic grows from year to year. Last year in addition to providing medicine for patients, the league offered to establish a "Revolving Fund" which is borrowed by patients to travel to New Orleans for orthopedic operations. Since the beginning of this project league members have taken doctor's notes, taken prescriptions to be filled, and assisted in clerical filing of patients. This coming year a fourth league member will be scheduled to fill another job during the clinic days twice a month.

In 1952 the Junior Charity League adopted a project which will be a cultural and educational advantage for the children of this parish. Until the league decided to meet this need, there was very inadequate space and provisions for children at the Ouachita Parish Library. With the consent and cooperation of the library Board, the Junior Charity League is at present converting a former storage room into a very attractive Children's Reading Room. The approximate $2,000, which is set aside for this purpose, will provide adequate shelving, lighting, and furnishings in an atmosphere both artistic and inviting.

With the continued cooperation of its members and friends in the community, the Junior Charity League looks forward to greater expansion and service in the coming years.

Girl Scout News

During this week occurs the forty-first anniversary of Girl Scouting — on Thursday, the 12th, to be exact. It is a far cry from the 12 girls who met in Savannah, Ga., in 1912 to the nearly two million registered with the organization today. Times have changed, and with the changing times the organization has revised its program to meet the needs of today's girls.

In the Twin Cities the troops have traditionally used the birthday as the time for presenting their offerings for the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund, established in memory of the founder and used to promote world friendship. Following a custom of several years standing the birthday observance will be held this year at 2:30 next Sunday afternoon at Ouachita Parish High School auditorium. All Scouts and their families are supposed to be present for the program, which will last just one hour.

Every troop has a part on the program, one girl being chosen from each to present the offering and another to light a candle on the birthday cake for her troop. From the newest Brownie troops on up, the girls have been saving their pennies to present on that day.

Plans for the observance were made by the Girl Planning Board, working with Mrs. George Forman, Juliette Low chairman, and the program committee, Mrs. Harold Breard, chairman. Mrs. Milton Culley and Mrs. R. E. Harrell of the program committee will have charge of stage decorations.

Speaking parts on the program will be given girls from the sixth grade and up. Troop 10 will have charge of the opening flag ceremony and troops 2, 4, 11, 14, 31, 41, 27, 28, 35 will have parts in the Juliette Low skit. Troop 16 will usher.

We've always had several troops that claim the Girl Scout birthday as their birthday, too. It looks as if there may be several new troops to make that claim this year. We hear of at least three proposed troops in the Lida Benton and Sherrouse neighborhoods.

Still a new troop, but properly registered, uniformed, and wearing their Brownie pins very proudly, are the girls of Troop 20 at Lexington School, under the leadership of Mrs. Paul Neal and Mrs. W. H. McSherry. Mrs. Paul Blackman is serving as troop committee chairman, with Mrs. Darwin Nichols, Mrs. Leon Apgar, Mrs. B. S. Downing and Mrs. J. P. Dunn.

Invested two meetings ago were: Beverly Blackman, Frances Cail, Margaret Ann Coates, Pamela Conner, Maribeth Downing, Anna Gayle Dunn, Mary Jo Fullmer, Gay Hargrove, Carol Kooz, Cynthia Leigh, Shawn McBride, Ann McElroy, Katherine McSherry, Paula Neal, Penny Nichols, Polly Ann Parrish, Doris Solomon, Susan Sperry.

What nicer compliment could be paid a leader than one which we heard from the mother of a Brownie Scout in the above troop? This mother said, "My daughter lives for Wednesday and Brownie meeting. It is the high point of the week for her." If only more grownups could know what Scouting means to the girls!

Troop 35 had a court-of-awards at Claiborne School Monday night, with most of the girls receiving outdoor cook and backyard camper badges, as well as a sprinkling of other badges. Opening with a flag ceremony, the program featured an original skit on Girl Scouting given by Sue Hattaway, Polly Riser, and Jerrie Dickerson. Miss Annis Klie, executive director of the local council, awarded the badges as each girl told what she had enjoyed most in earning them. Afterward, members of the troop committee served punch and cake, carrying out a green and gold color scheme.

HONEYMOONING IN JAMAICA, B. W. I.—Against a background of the islet from which Tower Isle, famous resort hotel on the north shore of Jamaica, takes its name are Mr. William B. Jackson Jr. and his bride, the former Billie Harper. The couple spent several days at Tower Isle on their honeymoon tour of Jamaica. They are making their home in Maracaibo, Venezuela.

Mrs. Fred Riser is serving as leader of this troop of seventh and eighth grade girls. We think you ought to know about this Riser family. Papa Fred has a job with the Boy Scouts, mama is leader of a Girl Scout troop and is a Cub Scout den mother, and was a Brownie leader last year. Polly Riser is a member of Troop 35. Patsy is a first year intermediate in Troop 31, while one young brother is a Cub Scout and the still younger — well, maybe he can qualify as what one family called their youngest, a "scrub Scout." He's a good Girl Scout day camper, for sure.

Camping goes merrily on, there is a lot of good troop program, lots to write about. But enough for today. Plan to be at the birthday program next Sunday.

Uncle Sam is always looking for ways to make speedier mail deliveries. Why not speak to hubbies who leave things in their coat pockets?

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: My wife chases all sorts of sirens. I have been patient with her for a long time by taking her to nearby fires and chasing police cars but now I am getting fed up. We have a small baby and she still insists on going any time of the day or night. She doesn't care what she is doing, she drops it, grabs her coat, and is ready to run. This may seem foolish to you, but in our home it constitutes a real problem. What can I do?—Chet

Well now, let us see: You could sound — proof your home, buy her earmuffs, get your wife a part-time job with the fire department, or move out to the sticks.

Or, you can tell her you will stay home with the baby and let her run alone. . . without the car. She won't get far and will eventually concede that the department cars are faster than her legs and give up. Or you can continue to run with her and wait for the time when her age and good sense have persuaded her that she won't miss much if she lets the sirens go by without her. Of course, there are some men who might think you lucky to have a wife who is so full of pep, so youthful and eager for adventure (after all she has to do all day!).

Dear Mrs. Landers: I am married and have two lovely boys; 9 and 12. Living with us is my husband's mother who is blind and paralyzed, and his father. Needless to say, I have my hands full. Three years ago my husband was in a serious automobile accident and his shameful life came to light. He was involved with a low-class woman whose family sued my husband because of her injuries. All my faith was destroyed but because the boys needed him and he begged so hard, I took him back.

At a recent out-of-town business affair (I have been informed) this woman was there and again he was unfaithful. We are in a larger home now and I am out working so that his family and mine will have all the care and things that are needed. Why should I work so hard for a man who does nothing but break my heart? The only good thing about him is that he does give me all of his money for expenses. I am so confused that I don't know what to do, but I know that I cannot go on as things exist. Please help me. — Mrs. S. D.

It is time you called a spade a spade, tell your husband that he has gone too far. Tell him he will either give up the other woman and behave or he can take his mother and father and go. He is not only breaking your heart, he is breaking your back. Your load is far too heavy. Better give up the job. If extra money is needed, let him spend all his play-boy time and energy on an extra job.

Dear Mrs. Landers: John and I met about a year and a half ago. Shortly thereafter he went into service and we could only date on week ends. We were in love and planned to be married. While he was in officer's candidate school, I did not see him for six months. When he came home for four days, I did not make him feel welcome as I was having trouble with my family and I guess I took it out on him. When he returned to camp, we wrote until three weeks before he came home when I stopped because I was sick with a bad cold. He stopped writing, came home and did not call me.

Realizing how much I loved him I called him and asked him to see me. When he did, he told me that I had made a fool of him at home and before his buddies when I did not write. We finally patched things up and he said he would have me visit him at camp. That was five weeks ago. I have heard nothing from him. Should I write him or try to see him when he comes home? I have a graduation gift for him but forgot to give it to him. Should I send it?—Butch

I am sorry to be the bearer of bad news, but I think you are dealing with a lost cause. Your young man is (or was?) one of great pride. You have injured his pride and he will probably not forgive the offense. You pushed him just a little too far. Write him one last letter of apology and appeal for his understanding. Tell him it is to be the last and that any further contact will be up to him. That is your only chance of getting him back. Don't send the gift as the graduation is too long past and it will seem like an attempt to place him under obligation to you.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper.)

MRS. PETER SANDLUND — The former Ann Varino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Vincent Varino who was married Saturday, March 1, to Peter Sandlund of Goethlenburg, Sweden. The couple will sail March 15 for Goethlenburg to make their home.

Grace Episcopal Church Setting For Vows Uniting Ann Varino, Peter Sandlund

Marked by impressive solemnity and beauty of detail the marriage of Miss Ann Varino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Vincent Varino to Peter Gustaf Sandlund of Goethlenburg, Sweden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sven E. G. Sandlund of Avesta, Sweden, was celebrated on Saturday afternoon March 1 at 4:30 o'clock in the Grace Episcopal Church with Father John M. Allin officiating.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was lovely in an imported pink linen applied in rhinestones and white jeweled shells, with a white faille jacket. Her hat was a bonnet of candy straw in the same color as the dress. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and long white satin streamers centered with white orchids. The brides only attendants were her sister, Miss Lydia Varino, wearing a white faille dress with yoke or lace applique in pearls and rhinestones, her hat was a calot of white starched lace, and her niece and godchild, Susan Anne Jacka, dressed in embroidered white organdy.

Mr. Lars Haeger of Green Bay Wisconsin and Goethlenburg, Sweden served Mr. Sandlund as best man.

As the bride approached the altar, Miss Lucy Yearly of San Antonio, Texas, her roommate at Sophie Newcomb College and her brother Mr. Francis Varino of Rochester, New York entered from either side and stood in the knave of the church during the ceremony.

A reception in the Parish House for out of town guests and relatives immediately followed the ceremony, after which the bride and groom left for New York. They sail March 15 for Goethlenburg, their future home.

She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Frank Varino and the late Mr. Varino and the late Mr. H. Fenton Lewis and Mrs. Anna Wier Lewis of New Orleans. She attended Sophie Newcomb College where she was a member of the junior class.

Mr. Sandlund's grandparents are Captain and Mrs. Henrik Kelding of Linköping, Sweden. He received his education in Sweden and England. He holds a Masters Degree in Business Administration from the University of Goethlenburg.

Out of town guests for the wedding were: Miss Lucy Yearly of San Antonio, Texas, Miss Mary Pillow Scales of Greenwood, Miss. Miss Connie Johnston of San Antonio, Texas and Miss Doris Cahn of Birmingham, Alabama. All class mates at Sophie Newcomb. Mr. Ingemar Liljenqvist of Green Bay, Wisconsin and Goethlenburg, Mr. James B. Hoen of New York, Mr. M. Dreux Van Horn and Mr. Jack Walters of New Orleans.

Jeanne Mayer Engaged To Charles Halley

Announcement of the date of the marriage of Miss Jeanne Marie Mayer, daughter of Mrs. Jeanne Bergman Mayer of Ferriday to Charles M. Halley of Monroe, La., has been made. The marriage will take place in Natchez on June 1.

Miss Mayer is a graduate of the Ferriday High School and attended Agnes Scott College and the University of Alabama, where she was a member of the Alpha Epsilon Phi Sorority. Mr. Halley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Halley of Monroe, and grandson of John Halley and the late Mrs. Halley and Frank Galtner, and the late Mrs. Galtner. He was graduated from the Monroe High School and served four years in the U. S. Navy.

Monroe Garden Club Will Have Pilgrimage, Tea

The March meeting of the Monroe Garden Club promises to be a very interesting one. A Garden Pilgrimage and tea will be held on the 18th at 2:30 p.m. The gardens, in their order, Mrs. James R. Wooten, 2111 South Grand, Mrs. Ben Downing, 1600 Island Drive and Mrs. James A. Noe, 1204 Fairview will be visited and studied for their particular planting and beauty. This will be followed by a tea in the garden of Mrs. Henry Guerriero.

Members of the club will assist each hostess.

Right now dad can sympathize with mom when she worries about her figure. He's working on his income tax.

Trees Are Needed for Landscaping

Its late, but if you haven't planted trees for shade, do it now. Trees cannot be transplanted now barerooted, must be balled. Many rural homes lack the beauty, as well as the practical advantages, that result from the carefully planned selection and arrangement of trees around the farmstead. Yet for trees, as with people, an ideal place to grow up is in the country. There they find conditions of the soil, moisture, air, and sunshine favorable for their best development. An important feature in the planting plan is the intelligent and artistic use of trees, as well as shrubs. The kind of trees to plant is closely related to the conditions of the place in which the trees are to be planted and the care and attention to be given them after planting.

Some of the shade trees recommended for this area in "Tree, 1949 Yearbook" of agriculture are: yellow magnolia; oaks: live, willow, water, pin, white, scarlet and laurel; elms; winged and American; red maple; sweet gum; American holly; cherry laurel; pecan; yellow poplar, or tulip tree. Small but fast growing are mimosa, red buds, crape myrtle and pear trees.

Care of Trees and Shrubs

John A. Cox, L. S. U. Agricultural extension horticulturist, says pear trees do well in all sections of Louisiana but do best when fertilized and protected from insects and diseases. Fertilize in February or early March with 4-10-5, 6-8-8, or 8-8-8 commercial fertilizer using one-half pound for each year of the tree. Apply fertilizer about half way between trunk and the tips of the branches and extend well out beyond the "drip" of the tree. It can be applied by punching a series of holes in the soil with a pipe then fill with fertilizer, or broadcast and disked it in. Get information on spraying from county agent. (Fertilize other trees in same manner.)

Shrubs are fertilized according to the space required for them — a 5 X 5 foot space requires 3 cups — 2 1/2 X 1 1/2 foot space, one-half cup. (A mimeographed circular giving this information may be obtained by calling or writing or coming by the Agricultural Building.)

Mulching

It's time to get your beds ready for new mulch. Work old mulch into soil. Sawdust makes an excellent mulch if addition of phosphorus and nitrogen are added according to circular No. 891, U. S. D. A. bulletin, "The Use of Sawdust for Mulches and Soil Improvement." It is economical to use a complete fertilizer to supply part of the needed nitrogen. This circular recommends for each bushel of sawdust to be used as a mulch add 3 1/2 lbs. of 5-10-5 or 1 1/2 pounds of 10-6-4 and 7 pounds of ammonium sulphate, or 5 pounds of ammonium nitrate or 1 pound of sodium nitrate. It is best to divide the nitrate and apply one-half when mixing mulch and add the other half later in the season. Apply mulch one inch deep over top of bed. Remember most of the added nitrogen is used to decompose the sawdust and is not available for the plant.

Fences

Have you checked the needed repairs and done them on your fence around the home? An untidy fence or a gate half hanging can ruin the appearance of the entire landscape. Don't go through 1953 like that. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rutledge of Woodlawn have improved their surroundings by putting up a good fence.

See you next week.

L. T. I. Youths Will Be Radio Feature

For the first time in the history of the school, Louisiana Training institute students will be heard in radio program of their own today at 12:45 on KNOE.

On the program, the L. T. I. boys ensemble will be presented in four songs. The group has been trained by Truitt Hinkle, musical director at L. T. I., who has been working with them since Christmas.

Twelve boys make up the ensemble.

A news report of the activities of L. T. I. will also be given on the program as well as a short message by Superintendent Swanson. The first program has been produced under the direction of Irving Ziedman, KNOE program director, but following programs will be under the exclusive production, direction and writing by the students themselves.

Plans now are to have a program once a month.

HER MAJESTY, MARILYN I — Miss Marilyn Barnett, queen of the Plain Dealing, Louisiana, Dogwood Drive which will open March 18 and continue through Easter Sunday, April 5, waves her scepter as she issues her royal command to all her subjects—nature lovers, to attend the 1953 drive which will be highlighted by the coronation of a new Dogwood Queen, a parade and other ceremonies on Wednesday afternoon, March 18. Those who disobey the royal command will be "consigned to the dungeon of disappointment." Queen Marilyn says. Pretty girls from nearby towns will serve as princesses on the new queen's court, and a parade of bands, floats, and horsemen from the tri-state area will participate in the ceremonies on coronation day, according to Leon Sanders, president of the Dogwood Drive Association.

Baptist Church, Monroe, La., will meet as follows:

Mrs. Neil W. McHenry Gives Report For Miro Book Club

The semi-monthly meeting of the Miro Book Club was held in the home of Mrs. C. R. Tidwell on Monday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Tidwell, in the absence of both the president, Mrs. D. M. Moore and the vice-president, Mrs. Thomas Jett. The collect was repeated in unison and the pledge of allegiance was given to the flag. Ten members answered to roll call.

After the business session, Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, parliamentarian, gave the second lesson on parliamentary law. The program was then presented by Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, chairman, as follows: Mrs. A. B. Myatt gave a most interesting resume of public affairs as presented by the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Following this report Mrs. Neil W. McHenry gave a brilliant report on Whitaker Chambers' book "Witness." In her report, Mrs. McHenry stated that "Witness" was one of the most momentous autobiographies of the 20th century. That it probably gave a clearer insight into the workings of communism than any other book written by an American thus far. The documentary proof given proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that Hiss was a Communist.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Louis Peters, served delicious refreshments to the following members: Mrs. A. C. Bennett, Mrs. R. Q. Cole, Mrs. Neil McHenry, Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, Mrs. J. W. Murphy, Mrs. A. B. Myatt, Mrs. A. L. Peters, Mrs. John Pracher, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell, Mrs. R. L. Wood, Mrs. C. R. Tidwell and guest, Mrs. Louis Peters.

Local Exhibit By Art League Opens In March

The monthly movie featured last Sunday by the Art League illustrated the style of the noted American artist Thomas Hart Benton. The color film presented in detail the steps used in a mural that was commissioned by Harzfeld's of Kansas City, Mo.

Another reel presented the prehistoric art of southern France where the early Cro-Magnon man dwelled as early as 50,000 years ago. The collection of cave paintings which were shown represented the largest single group of well preserved primitive art so far discovered by modern man. The two films were of such educational value that they were shown again Monday afternoon for the benefit of the Art Shop's student body.

After the movie, members gathered to discuss the general, local exhibit which will open at the Art Shop on March 22nd. Over two hundred and fifty amateur and professional artists shall be invited to enter their works.

All artists not yet registered with the league are welcomed either to mail or personally give their names to the Northeast Louisiana League of Artists with headquarters at the Art Shop on Louisville Avenue.

The Bayou DeSiard Garden Club Has Annual Luncheon

Mrs. Jack Rushing and Mrs. Wm. G. Miller were hostesses to the Bayou DeSiard Garden Club when the Annual Luncheon was held at the Country Club on Thursday.

The table was beautifully decorated with an arrangement of camellias in the center and one placed at the place of each member.

Mrs. H. W. Tolson, the out-going president, was presented Mrs. Ray Underwood's "Complete Book on Dried Arrangements," from the club. The club also gave a gavel to Mrs. J. S. Cage, the new president, which was presented by Mrs. Tolson.

During a short business session, it was voted that as a future project the club help to beautify and care for the grounds along Bayou DeSiard.

Those enjoying this occasion were: Mrs. Carter Ackel, Mrs. James S. Bradley, Mrs. J. S. Cage, Mrs. E. P. Chapman, Jr., Mrs. H. W. Chapman, Mrs. D. T. DeMasterson, Mrs. P. M. Edwards, Mrs. Robert T. Farr, Mrs. Everette Heller, Mrs. W. L. Hill, Mrs. R. C. Holler, Mrs. J. H. Huffman, Mrs. W. M. Inabnet, Mrs. J. D. Kelly, Mrs. H. H. Petty, Mrs. C. Ardis Ponder, Mrs. F. T. Smith, Jr., Mrs. Carl J. Thompson, Mrs. H. W. Tolson, Mrs. Rushing, Mrs. Miller, and guests. Mrs. W. B. Mann, Mrs. J. W. Porter and Mrs. W. E. McGough.

The engine which powered the first Wright airplane was made in their bicycle shop with three power tools, a drill press, a lathe and a bandsaw.

News From The Public Library

During the month of February 200 new books were added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. There were books to appeal to every taste and interest. Almost every day a few new books come into the library. Lets take a look at the most recent fiction books added to the collection.

Many of our readers are great followers of mystery and suspense stories. This week we have three new titles. "Fog of Doubt" by Christianna Brand. This is a story of murder in London on a night when there was a regular "pea soup" fog. "Do unto others" by Doris Miles Disney is the story of a hen-pecked husband who was delivered from his bondage by a burglar, who murdered his wife.

and of his strange crusade to "Do unto others." Guy Cullingford is the author of a new mystery story called "If Wishes Were Horses." This is the fantastic story of George White an inoffensive durgist in a small English village, who could cause death by casually wishing it.

Elizabeth Seifert has a large audience who eagerly await her books with a hospital background. Her latest title is called "The Doctor Disagrees." This is a story of professional conflict and of emotional conflict in the heart of a young doctor's wife. "Nine to Five" by W. H. Prosser is a story of the business world today and of the conflicts of later office personality. It is a book that holds the reader, even though the people are the not particularly pleasant.

Readers who like the western scene will welcome two new titles. "The Big Dry" by George Garland and "The Wonderful Country" by Tom Lea. "The Big Dry" is an exciting story of an Apache uprising in the days before our country was completely settled. "The Wonderful Country" deals with the adventures of a young boy, who killed his father's murderer and then swam the Rio Grande and spent fourteen years of his life there with the Mexicans. When he finally decided to come back to his own people, he found that he had changed very much in the process.

Several years ago Vaughan Wilkins made a great success with his book "And So Victoria." Since that time he has written several novels which did not come up to the standard of his first book. His newest novel, "A King Reluctant" has been favorably compared with "And So, Victoria." Mr. Wilkins has used a historical basis to write a strange and exciting novel about international intrigue in the late eighteenth century. This is a book which you will not want to miss. There are also two delightful stories of family life in this group. One is called "The Boyds of Black River." It is a family chronicle of a prosperous happy family, who lived in upstate New York just at the turn of the century. The author is Walter D. Edmonds who knows so much about that country. "The Happy People" by Sara Jenkins is the story of a preacher torn between his love and his work. Mrs. Jenkins has written other novels about preachers and this one is as good as they were. "The Intruder" by Helen Fowler is a novel of haunting, ominous suspense, which is especially horrible because of its contrast with the grace, charm and leisure of happy family life. The scene of the story is Australia and the plot revolves around a visitor, who had been the friend of the dead son of the family. It is the kind of book that is not easy to forget. "Signs and Wonders" by Leo Brady is the story of a man who was driven by a religious force which he did not understand. He wanted to do right, but always succeeded in doing wrong. How he finally was regenerated makes an interesting and exciting story. "The Silent Reefs" by Dorothy Cottrell is a story of love and adventure in the West Indies. It opens with the disappearance of the motorship "Christophe," lost with all hands in a sea as calm as glass. The setting of the book is exotic and the plot is very fine. Daphne Du Maurier is one of the most popular present day novelists and a book by her is always welcome. Her latest book is "Kiss Me Again Stranger." It contains a short novel and several short stories which the publishers compare favorably with "Rebecca." Read them and make your own decision. "The Proud Retreat" by Clifford Dowdey is another of his fascinating stories of the Civil War. This is the story of the lost Confederate treasure. It is Mr. Dowdey's own interpretation of the mystery, which has never been solved. It makes exciting reading and should be enjoyed by all those who like stories of the lost cause. Then for those who like science fiction there is another thriller by Ray Bradbury "The Golden Apples of the Sun."

Truly, there is a feast of new books available at your public library, if you are not a patron, register tomorrow.

Louisiana Garden Club Holds Flower Show In Lake Charles March 28, 29

The Louisiana Garden Club Federation will hold its fifth flower show on Saturday and Sunday, March 28 and 29 in Lake Charles at the McNeese College arena on Ryan Street.

All federated clubs of the state are cordially invited and encouraged to take part in this show by entering both the horticultural and arrangement divisions. It is only through the cooperation of all clubs that the flower show can be a success. The following schedule has been received: 1. Deadline for opening of the convention immediately following at 10:15 a.m. 6. Accredited judges breakfast, Majestic Hotel, Sunday, 8:30 a.m. Make reservations with Mrs. J. E. Metzger, 1319 Ninth St. 7. Coffee served on boat, Sunday, 10 a.m. followed by boat ride and lunch on boat. 8. Transportation to boats provided from side entrance, Bilbo St., at Majestic Hotel.

Garden Club Organized

A group interested in organizing a garden club met at the Caldwell Parish Community. Officers for the year were elected: President, Mrs. Leonard Rowland; president-elect, Mrs. J. M. Lafferty; vice-president, Mrs. J. W. Brockner; recording secretary, Mrs. S. O. Henry; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Elsie Hendrix; treasurer, Mrs. Laura Kidd; historian, Mrs. E. W. Martin.

The club was named "The Caldwell Parish Garden Club."

GRAFTING CAMELLIAS

The grafting of camellias has become a hobby of many local residents as the evergreen bush gains in popularity both for its foliage and blossoms. Pictured above is Fred C. Culpepper, Sr., as he is grafting a variegated Ville De Nantes on a sasanqua understock. (Staff Photo by Clyde Blaw)

The Home Shift

With Mildred Swift

Your Easter seals for the crippled children are in the mail, your Red Cross representative is probably knocking at your door now. You wouldn't want to live in a community where the above services were not available. We know there's lots of giving to be done but if every home will make a small donation - that will get the job done. Whatever you give - give it with a smile.

For You Again

Mrs. Williams, 1123 Mississippi street, Monroe, has violets, oxalis, red and yellow canna's she will give to you if you will come for them. She wants you to call before coming. Her number is 3-6875.

A Lovely Visit

Audrey Dawson and I visited Kendallwood, country home of Mrs. Louise Kendall just off the Ruston highway. Picture windows were made for just such a view as Louisiana has from her living room. You look out on the artificial lake and rolling hills. There are no words to describe her place on the hillside. Just ask her if she'll let you come visit and see for yourself. Louise is a gracious hostess.

Garden News

The red buds are in their glory now. I saw one that had been pruned to make a bush. It bloomed much more profusely than the ones that grow into trees. I find their life short, so if your tree is twelve or fifteen years old, it's time to plant a small one to take its place.

We're told that soon we'll have a sweet pea we can plant in the spring that will bloom up into the hot months. The seed are not on the market yet.

Use plenty of peat moss or leaf mold in the soil around your gardenias - they like acid soil. The same is true of hydrangeas. Gardenias like plenty of sun, hydrangeas like the north side of the house. Lime in the soil makes your hydrangea bloom pink, aluminum sulfate makes them blue. Don't expect results the first year, though.

You still have time to plant dogwoods, both white and pink. In a few weeks when they bloom you'll be wishing you had planted at least one of each. Transplanting from the woods (the white ones) is uncertain, but if you're planning on doing that, get a small tree and bring some of the soil where the dogwood is growing to start it off in its new home. Nursery grown plants have feeder roots and are a better risk.

It's not too late to put out the Flora Bunda Crab apple. The one on the courthouse square and those on the corner of the Walter Kellogg's yard will be in bloom in a few days. This is a nice "spilly tree" that would work nicely draping over a patio. I know there's no such word as "spilly" and that gets the idea across to you. After all I'm not supposed to be a writer.

Caning

If you're interested in caning a chair call Mrs. Morgan Drew, 2-1904. Mrs. Drew and several others need cane and it can only be ordered in large quantities. They'd like to make up an order. You can call our office for the caning bulletin. I'm sure you can follow the instructions. Mrs. O. N. McNeal did just that. She says she thinks the instructions in the bulletin are very clear and easily followed.

A Bird Feeder

Nan Salisbury has a good idea for a bird feeder. She took a large pine cone for the base, melted suet, added bird seed and poured this mixture over the pine cone. The children had lots of fun putting the feeder in the tree and more fun watching the birds pecking away on the cone.

How to Grow Mistletoe

I've had several people ask me how to get mistletoe started in trees. I found the instructions this week. If you'd like this information, call me at 3-2551.

Your Sunday Drive

Be sure to go out Highway 80 and see the bulbs in bloom in the yards, there. To see a sheet of white narcissus bloom drive by Mrs. H. K. Touchstone's, on the corner of College and Evangeline. The bulbs are in the back on the Evangeline Street side.

That's all for today. Tune in again next Sunday, same time, same station.

Farmerville Garden Club

The Farmerville Garden Club held its February meeting at the home of Mrs. Ralph Harper with Mrs. Doyle Smith and Mrs. Bolton Tabor as co-hostesses. Visitors which included Mrs. John Ed Rabun, Mrs. Oakley Lee and Mrs. Henry Albritton were welcomed. The president read the thought for the day "Let us never forget that the cultivation of the earth is the most important labor of man" - Daniel Webster. Arrangements, stressing line were judged by Mrs. Lee and members contributing were Mrs. Frank Goss, first place; Miss Faye Baughman and Mrs. G. M. Edwards, tie for second; Mrs. Layton Hester, third; Mrs. J. L. Davidson, Mrs. Fred Preaus and Mrs. N. B. James. Correspondence stating that the fifth annual state flower show and convention would be held in Lake Charles, March 28th and 29th at McNeese College Arena. The theme of the show is Louisiana

Southern Gardener

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

The word, topsoil can be a snare and a delusion for gardeners and home owners if they are not careful. When you order "topsoil" for your garden or lawn, you can get all kinds of soil, some good some bad, some very indifferent. The dictionary says "topsoil, n. surface soil as distinguished from subsoil." Gardeners and horticulturists expect topsoil to be good garden soil which is rich enough in humus and fertility to grow flowers shrubs and lawns with the addition of some fertilizer. As a rule, topsoil is removed from fields where agricultural crops have been growing, from garden sites or from rich woodlands. The trouble lies in the fact that one cannot always tell what the fertility of topsoil is by just looking to it. We can, however, tell what its texture is, and whether or not it has enough humus in it to grow plants. When you order topsoil, then, you should get a sample of it before it is hauled to your garden unless you can order it from a trusted person who will send you the real thing.

Since the definition of topsoil merely calls for the soil that is on top and on the bottom, you might get almost anything. It can be too sandy or too heavy and with, out enough humus to be manageable. And, of course, it could be as black as your hat and still be poor in plant foods. The physical condition of topsoil is more important than the food it contains, however, because you can easily scatter fertilizer over it. It is more trouble and more expensive to have to add humus to it and work it in properly. Wherever it is possible, it is best to go and see the place from which your topsoil is to be removed. How healthy do the plants growing in it look, or how tall were the dead tops? What kind of plants are growing in it? Does it have Bermuda grass in it? Does it have crab grass in it? If crab grass has been growing in it or Bermuda grass, you will not wish to put it on a lawn area nor in the garden either unless you already have both. Even then, you will merely multiply your troubles! Sometimes a sandy topsoil will be just what you want for a heavy clay area if the topsoil is to be thoroughly worked into the existing soil. In sandy gardens, too, how much some gardeners would give for a heavy clay topsoil to mix with the sand for their roses!

One should always ask this question: Would I be better off to work humus and fertilizer in the soil I already have - even if it is poor clay soil - than to haul in topsoil and spread it over the area? Often, it is not practical to haul in heavy truckloads of topsoil. You may cut up the lawn or even have to dig up shrubbery to get to the area. You may pack down some of the area and have to go back and loosen the hard soil where wheels passed over it. By first subsoiling the area and then spreading six or more inches of humus on top, then discing it in with a tractor, it is possible to prepare the worst kind of soil for lawns or flowers.

Now is the time to feed trees and shrubs, lawns and gardens. The results of a good fertilizer now will show up for the rest of the growing season. The amount to use often confuses gardeners. For general feeding purposes where you wish to tell a man to just go out and fertilize everything, use a formula like 5-10-5 or 4-12-4 and put on about four pounds per 100 square feet. In sandy soils, you may profit by using half as much put on in twice. This means that you would put on 200 pounds per 100 square feet now and then do it all over again in June. Plant foods have a way of seeping down out of reach of some plants in sandy soils. Of course, if your sandy soil is well filled with humus, the food will not filter but will be caught and stored up in the bits of humus which act like little sponges that soak up food and water.

Prune broadleaf evergreens right away. They will need to be fed, too, of course. If you do not want all your evergreens to look as if they had had the bowl type of haircut, then do not shear them evenly all over like a hedge. As we have pointed out in one of the most popular numbers of the column (Gardeners still write for it occasionally) you can thin large evergreens just as the barber thins hair. Reach down into the shrub and cut the extra vigorous shoots that are sending long leaders out.

Birthday Party

Riverside Nursery School was the scene of much merrymaking when Herman Meyer McGuire 2nd celebrated his third birthday with a party. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. McGuire.

The rooms were festive with spring flowers, airy balloons and long tables draped in green and white. The St. Patrick's motif was cleverly carried out in the decorations.

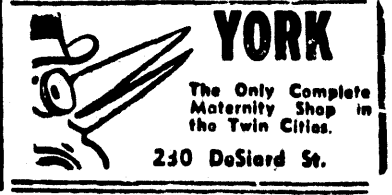

The children were privileged to watch an entertaining picture show after which they all gathered around the piano to join in singing nursery rhymes. Then refreshments of individual shamrock cakes and ice cream were served to the little guests. The beautiful birthday cake was decorated in clover leaves and embossed "Happy Birthday, Herman."

Herman's guests on this occasion were Elizabeth Louise Cook, Clair and Elizabeth Schonlau, Johnnie and Gloria Stoddard, Dotie and Sherry Wood, George Wright 3rd, Mary Robbins Brown, Fred Albert Coon, 3rd., William Davis Haddad, Ellen Pappas, Pamela Clay, True Guerriero, Jay Lawrence Mullins, Anne McClen-don, Mike Clay, Margaret Ann and Patty Winn, Sharon Coats, Bob-bey and Greg Powell, Mary Kath-ryn Reighney, Tommy Reighney, Kathleen Grant, Patsy Lolley, Mary Alice and Betty Elmhorn, Johnnie and Billy Watkins, John Clay, Terry Kincaid, Judy Robert-son, Debbie Warren and Mary Katherine McGuire.

New Zealanders eat about 39 pounds of butter a year on the average, which is believed to be more than used by the people of any other country.

Calvary Church Is Built Again

Calvary Baptist Church, located at 812 Mississippi Street, will re-sume services at the church today with the formal opening of the new church auditorium and educa-tional building. Members are urged to attend and visitors are cordially invited to attend each service at the church today.

On July 4, 1952, with a fine brick structure only one month in completion, the new auditorium as well as the old church was de-stroyed by fire. Work was begun immediately on a new church and after approximately eight months of steady progress, a beautiful house of worship now stands.

The pastor of the church, Rev. D. W. Nix, and the members of the church, are grateful for each contribution received from the numerous churches and individuals who donated so willingly to the building fund. Rev. Nix extends his personal thanks to the church members for the ready cooperation and diligent work received during this time.

Services have been held in the Barkdull Faulk Grammar School during these months of rebuilding. The church expresses its appreciation to the City School Board, Supt. Van Odum of the city schools, and to the principal, Miss May Coker, who donated the use of the build-ing.

Scheduled to begin services last Sunday, a delay in the shipment of the news necessitated a later date. All day services are sched-uled for today with lunch being served in the church at noon.

Services will be as follows: Sunday School, 9:45 a.m.; Morn-ing Worship, 10:30 a.m.; Doxol-ogy, Hymn, Reading of Church His-tory, Recognition of Visitors, Of-fertory Hymn, Special Music by Choir, Special Music by Juanita Holmes, Sermon by Reverend Nix entitled "What to Do About Christ's Kingdom," Invitation Hymn. Lunch, 12 o'clock.

Afternoon Service, 1:45 p.m.—Hymns, Special Music by Jane Blanchard, Hymn, Special Music by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Smith, Message by Rev. Spencer and presentation of Bible to Rev. Neth-erland, Hymn, Special Music by J. W. Caraway, Sermon by Rev. Z. T. Young, Rededication Hymn, Benediction.

Evening Service — Training Union, 7 p.m., Evening Worship, 8 p.m., Report of Training Union, 2 Hymns, Recognition of Visitors, Of-fertory Hymn, Sermon by Rev. Nix, Benediction.

Plans are being made for the Training Union Study Course to be-gin March 22 and for a revival to begin in April.

Quartets To Appear Here

Tommy Rainer Of Monroe Is With Revelaires

Tommy Rainer, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Rainer, of 606 Wood, will return to Monroe Tuesday night, with what is said to be America's No. 1 Gospel quartet, the famous Revelaires of Atlanta, Ga. Tommy is a well known singer in the Twin Cities, having sung with the Twin City trio and the Monroe Teenage quartet and ap-pearing before many civic organi-zations, churches, and singing con-ventions.

Tommy is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High school and a member of the Ouachita band, serving as captain last year. Tommy made all-state band in 1952 and was offered a scholarship at North-east Louisiana State College in music. He was a popular figure among class mates serving in several clubs in school and elected Home Room President in 1951. Tommy now is proclaimed among singers and lovers of Gospel music throughout the South as one of the greatest tenors in the business.

Other members of the famous Revelaires are Dan Huskey formally of the Blackwood Bros. quartet; Bobbie Shaw, a former mem-ber of the Homeland Harmony quartet, and the deacon of all bass singers, Big Jim Waites. Also ap-pearing with the Revelaires will be the sensational Crusaders quartet from Birmingham, Ala., with Bobbie Strickland. The two groups will be heard in person on Radio Station KLIC, Tuesday evening at 4:30.

The 40 choir members of L. T. I. and their sponsor, Truett Hinkle, will be the guests of the Ouachita Singing Club at this concert. This group has a boys' quartet which will sing two numbers on the pro-gram.

La. Methodists, Colored, Meet

NEW ORLEANS, March 7. (Spe-cial) — The annual evangelistic preaching and visitation mission, in the Louisiana annual conference of the Methodist Church, cen-tral jurisdiction, is scheduled to begin Sunday, March 8, and will continue through Sunday March 29, 1953, according to announcement from Bishop Robert N. Brooks, bishop of the New Orleans area, of the Methodist Church.

This three-week evangelistic effort, Bishop Brooks said, will be under the general guidance of the Board of Evangelism, Nashville, Tenn., with Dr. J. W. Golden, Memphis, Tenn., associate secre-tary in charge. Louisiana has been divided into three triangular sec-tions and each church is to have a "guest minister," to preach night-ly, and an army of visitors will go forth two by two, from house to house daily, in the soul-saving campaign.

Section I, will take in the churches in the triangle, Monroe, Shreveport and Alexandria. Sec-tion II, will cover Lake Charles, Morgan City and Opelousas and Section III is made up of churches in New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Bogalusa. Each section will have centers, where the ministers will meet daily for institute work and reporting. The centers for Section I, will be Shreveport and Alex-andria, while the center for Section II, will be New Iberia and Baton Rouge, will be the center for Sec-tion III. There will be a "kick-off" meeting at each of the centers the Sunday before the campaign begins the following day. At a special meeting of the cabinet, Bis-hop Brooks made assignment of preachers.

Temple Baptist Doubles In Size

The Temple Baptist Church, Plum Street at South First St., Monroe, Rev. Leon Ivey, pastor, will have a celebration on Monday night when the new addition to the church will be opened.

At 6:30 p.m., Monday the public will be invited to come and in-spect the addition which doubles the facilities of the church and which was completed with a mini-mum of cost as many of the church members were able to contribute extra hours from their work and to supply needed mechanical skills.

Monday at 7:30 p.m. there will be a special service held in the sanctuary which will be suited to the occasion of the opening of the addition.

This church serves an area of the city that has no Baptist church. Less than 10 years ago the church was organized and a modest little cement block structure erected. This has served until recently when the membership has passed 300 and more rooms were found to be re-quired.

The annex now erected, which will be known as the educational building is 40 by 40 feet and pro-vides 15 new and complete class-rooms for the Sunday School or other church needs.

The pastor welcomes the public to all services and especially Mon-day night to the open house at 6:15 o'clock and the preaching service at 7:15 o'clock.

Sunday School is at 9:55 a.m., preaching at 11 a.m., evening serv-ice at 7:30 p.m. and mid-week prayer meeting at 7:30 p.m.

Original markers of the Mason-Dixon line were of oolite limestone, made in England.

Industrial Output Hits Near-Record

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—In-dustrial production hit a near-record pace this week with busi-nessmen debating what — if any — effect Stalin's death might have on the long-term economy.

The feeling was pretty general that Stalin's death would have little effect on business and industry.

Many, in fact, believed the death of the Soviet leader might stimu-late production.

They felt there would be no let up in the output of military goods and some took the view that a varied defense program was even more necessary than before.

Certainly the death of Stalin brought no immediate reaction in the nation's factories.

Industrial plants whirled along at close to post-war records. There were reports from some sections that the available supply of skilled workers was rather scanty.

There was a momentary reac-tion in financial circles, however. Prices on the New York stock Exchange slipped a little coincident with news of Stalin's illness and bonds of the old Russian Czarist regime and of Soviet satellite coun-tries edged a little higher.

But these moves were short-lived and along New York's Wall Street there was debate whether the selling in the market was caused by events abroad or wheth-er the news was an excuse to let values slip a bit.

The automobile industry turned out its millionth passenger car of the year and headed toward a pos-sible record. Estimates of the 1953 output, however, ranged widely from 6½ million cars and trucks to a new record of more than eight million vehicles.

The economists who saw contin-ued good business ahead again outnumbered the less optimistic.

Union Company Given Contract

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Rann-ter of Farmville was the suc-cessful bidder for the construction of a 200-bed boys dormitory at Grambling College, state-supported school for Negroes.

Terral's bid of $352,000 was ac-cepted by the State Building Au-thority yesterday.

The authority rejected bids to build 41 houses for prison staffers at the state penitentiary at Angola because they were too high. New bids will be opened April 2.

Retired Teachers To Meet Thursday

Miss Kate Perkins has called a meeting of all retired school teach-ers to meet at Sherrouse School Thursday, March 12 at 10 a.m. The meeting is to consider im-portant matters.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Opera Star Has Learned How To Conserve Energy

Some women make a crisis out of every incident. You can spot them by their nervous gestures, their tenseness, and their keyed-up voices. They treat incidents which should be trivial in a day's work as mountainous blows of fate.

This has a dramatic effect on health and on appearance and personality. It also is one of the quickest ways to lose friends because people tire of those who are always fretfully in trouble. Maybe someone spilled coffee on the rug or the cleaning woman did not show up. That is too bad but it is not vital and not worth the damage you do yourself with a hectic attitude.

Other women may be harassed by a succession of such happenings but survive them with a "that is that" attitude or a sense of humor. These latter are serene, content, restful, and fun to be with. They will not allow lines of tension in their faces and feel that they cannot afford the waste of energy which goes with them.

Nadine Conner, soprano star of the Metropolitan Opera Association is a charming example of this last type. She has a top-flight career and a family (a husband and two children). For six months each year she is involved in endless rehearsals at the Metropolitan, a big concert tour all over the country and many radio and TV appearances. She handles the details of these as though they were the simplest things in the world and looks like a teenager at the beginning of a career rather than a woman who has had the problem of being an established star for some years now.

How does she do this? She has developed definite attitudes and cutoffs which give her a young quality which is rather unusual in those who have attained top stardom in a highly competitive field.

Nadine herself says: "There's no sense worrying about how a thing will come out, once you're in the middle of it. The time for worry is before you have become involved in it. After that you have to assume that it will come out all right and do your part to see that it does. In that respect I am like the Queen in Alice in Wonderland who cried before the pin stuck her."

Miss Conner did not come by this philosophy easily. She learned it the hard way. When she first married she retired from the world of music. Soon she found herself caught up in the minor problems of running a household and in the habit of magnifying small mis-

Memory Course Opens March 11

Robert H. Nutt will present his memory course at the Ouachita parish high school auditorium Wednesday and Thursday nights from 8 until 10 p.m. The course is being sponsored by the Monroe-West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"Termed the man who won't let you forget," Nutt has been featured in several of the leading national magazines. He has been a leading instructor of memory development for the past 25 years and has worked throughout the United States and Canada. Nutt is the author of the current book "How to remember names and faces, and is considered one of the ablest public speakers on the American platform today."

Featured in the course are how to remember names and facts, how to remember what has been read and sales points, how to reduce costly business errors, how to speak without notes and how to sell more.

The present British Crown colony of Sarawak in Borneo was ruled from 1840 to 1946 as an independent country by "white rajahs" of the Brooke family.

Fort Miro Chapter D. A. R. Capture Two Cash Awards

Fort Miro Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution captured two cash awards at the State Conference in Monroe this week. Mrs. George I. Hemphill was awarded second place in the state competition with her scrapbook, which is generally conceded to be outstanding. Fort Miro was also awarded second place in press relations. Mrs. Roland Brown is chairman of press relations for the chapter and local chairman of publicity for the state conference, with Mrs. W. C. Oliver former chapter chairman and chairman of the district conference, The Pelican Chapter, Shreveport, was awarded first place. The good citizenship award was also made at the closing session of the conference, this going to a young lady from Baton Rouge.

Mrs. Paul N. Desbon of Metairie Ridge Chapter, New Orleans, extended an invitation to the conference to meet in New Orleans next year. Also at the closing session Mrs. J. Newton Pharr, vice-president general of the national society, Daughters of the American Revolution, rose to endorse the candidacy of Mrs. W. E. Hicks of Shreveport for state president in 1954.

In response to the appeal made by Mrs. Donald Bennett Adams, chairman, building completion committee, on Wednesday evening, spontaneous gifts were made at the closing session of the conference toward paying off the outstanding indebtedness on the national headquarters in Washington. Mrs. Adams pointed out that when she became active in her present capacity the debt exceeded half a million dollars and has been reduced to less than one hundred thousand at this time. She especially requested gifts in units of one thousand dollars made up either by states, chapters, or groups of individuals contributing ten dollars each, in order to pay off the debt this year.

Mrs. Adams flew to Monroe from Washington, D. C., as was one of the speakers for the banquet held on the Cherokee Terrace of Hotel Frances, Wednesday evening. She chose as her subject, "D. A. R. Builders for the Future" and tied in beautifully the thoughts of material buildings in Washington with the youth organizations sponsored by the Daughters, who will doubtless be the leaders both in Daughters of the American Revolution and Sons of the American Revolution in future years. Mrs. Adams also presented the "Butcher Award" to nine-year old "Butch" Roma, who lives on a plantation near Bossier City, for his outstanding work in organizing our chapters of Junior American Citizens. "Butch" was presented to the group by Mrs. Buford D. Battle, state chairman of C. A. R.

Sandy Lawn, twelve-year old son of Mrs. George Lawn, regent of Chief Tusquahoma Chapter, West Monroe, delighted his hearers with his rendition of "Sonatina, Opus 36." In response to calls for an encore, the young pianist played a special arrangement of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Dr. Yvonne Phillips of Northwestern State College, Natchitoches, discussed with thoroughness and much attention to detail "Historic Roads of Northeast Louisiana."

Some one hundred and fifty people attended the banquet for which Mrs. Gladys Sperry served as chairman. The tables were beautifully decorated with masses of blue and white flowers and with lighted blue tapers down the center. Several attractive favors had been thoughtfully provided by Mrs. Sperry and her committee arranged at each place serving.

Those assisting with the banquet aside from the chairman were Mrs. R. L. Bailey, Jr., Mrs. Blossom Butler, Mrs. C. P. Gray, Sr., Mrs. W. G. Haynes, Jr., Mrs. R.

L. Junod, Mrs. J. B. Krugle, Mrs. Roy E. Lee, Mrs. Thomas Leigh, Mrs. W. M. Nolan, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell and Mrs. Ruby Oakland Warner.

The banquet honored Mrs. Herbert C. Parker, state regent of Louisiana; Mrs. John N. Pharr, vice-president general, and Mrs. Donald Bennett Adams, with chapters of the Third District serving as hosts. The chapters are Abram Morehouse, Bastrop; Chief Tusquahoma, West Monroe; Fort Miro, Monroe; General William Carroll, Oak Grove; Long Leaf Pine, Ruston; Shelby Moses, Lake Providence, and Tallulah Chapter, Tallulah. Miss Frances Flanders, regent of Fort Miro chapter served as general chairman of the conference assisted by Mrs. George M. Lawn, Mrs. George T. Madison, Mrs. D. W. Kelly, Mrs. Stewart Hunt, Mrs. Arthur Crump and Mrs. J. G. Wyly, Jr., as co-chairman.

YWCA Activities

On Thursday morning the YWCA board met at the Y with Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, president of R. T. Watson, pastor of the Christian Church, gave the devotional. The basis of his devotional were verses from the Gospel of Mark. He brought out the use of our hands, the symbolism of hands as our tools and challenged each of us to use our tools in the work of Christian service and concluded his devotional with a most impressive poem to illustrate these thoughts. Mrs. H. G. Thompson gave the treasurer's report for the month, and then Mrs. H. A. McDonald, chairman of the finance committee presented the budget and financial statement. Mrs. N. W. McHenry stated that there have been thirty-five members to join the YWCA since the first of January. Our worldwide YWCA program was brought before the board by Mrs. M. W. Montgomery chairman of World Fellowship, who told of the work the YWCA was carrying on in Korea, in India, in Japan, Philippines, and in Europe. Mrs. T. H. Scott, chairman of Y-Teens, and Mrs. E. A. Bishop, chairman of the Young Adult Committee, gave reports on all the program activities of the association. Mrs. E. P. Cudd with her committee will plan for the celebration of National YWCA Week, April 19th-25th. A report of the meeting of the Health Council and the work that this council is doing in regard to fluoridation of the water was given by Miss Sharp. A new "Y" board member, Mrs. L. N. Copes, was elected at this meeting on Thursday. Several items under the Public Affairs Program were presented to the board members: regarding the sale of liquor to teen-agers and the use of fireworks in the city limits.

Y-Teens

The Jolly Y Janes' Club met on Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was opened with the Y-Teen Song and devotional. Mary Lee Balch read a very impressive poem as a part of the devotional. Mary Jane Dreasler, Barbara Henry, and Lillah Rabun gave the program: "YWCA Centennial." Joyce Lanier, chairman of social committee, gave the plans for the weiner roast which the club will give on March 20th. The meeting was closed with the motto.

The Be Y's Club met at the YWCA with Jalna May, president, presiding. The meeting was opened with the Y-Teen Song, and the song: "Viva La Compaigne." Donna Rose Hildabridge gave the devotional. Mar. Martha Heard, acted as secretary for this meeting. The group enjoyed playing games as the program for the afternoon. The meeting was closed with the motto.

WE HAVE NEWS THAT THE PHANTOM WILL NOT INTERFERE. THE PHANTOM PEACE IS NO MORE.

GOOD! THE OSSEWEY HAVE JOINED US. THE LOGORU WILL COME, TOO. WE'LL SMASH THE WAMBESI!

THE JUNGLE WAR IS SPREADING LIKE WILDFIRE. YOU MUST DO SOMETHING.

NO MORE. I'VE TRIED LONG ENOUGH. NOW PLEASE DON'T BRING IT UP AGAIN, DIANA.

THE TIME HAS COME, O GHOST WHO WALKS, TO TELL YOU THE STORY OF THE CHAIN.

I'M NOT INTERESTED IN ANY MORE JUNGLE TALES, WORU. I'M LEAVING THE JUNGLE.

WAIT. HE MUST HAVE A REASON FOR TELLING IT.

WHY MUST YOU TELL ME NOW?

YOU WILL SEE, AS THE STORY PROCEEDS. IT BEGINS LONG BEFORE YOU WERE BORN, WHEN YOUR FATHER WAS THE PHANTOM.

~IT REALLY BEGINS ON A GREAT SHIP THAT WAS CROSSING THE WIDE WATER TO BENGALI~

WHAT'S THIS ALL ABOUT?

"ON BOARD," CONTINUES WORU, "WAS A BEAUTIFUL LADY, COMING TO VISIT A FRIEND IN THIS VERY JUNGLE"

New FAB washes clothes

WHITER WITHOUT A BLEACH

WHITER...than any other product with a bleach!

WASHABLE COLORS LOOK BRIGHTER, TOO!

AND, FAB WASHES CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP ON EARTH!

IT'S AMAZING--BUT TRUE! New Fab washes whiter without a bleach, whiter than any soap or any other washing product known with bleach in the wash water! Yes, with Fab, you can skip the bleach--except for stubborn spots. And, remember, freshly-rinsed Fab clothes are cleaner than you can get them with any soap because Fab washes out dirt, leaves no dulling soap scum.

IF YOU PREFER NOT TO RINSE, Fab gives you the cleanest possible, sweetest-smelling no-rinse wash!

SAVE CLOTHES! New Fab alone washes so dazzling white you don't need to bleach! Clothes last longer with no bleach to harm fabrics or fade pretty washable colors.

SAVE WORK! Fab immediately loosens dirt; keeps it floating in the wash water. No soaking needed! No dulling soap scum to rinse out--even in hardest water.

SAVE HANDS! New Fab is wonderfully mild to hands...safe for baby's clothes. And Fab is kind to your own pretty washables! Get the economical GIANT SIZE.

CUT DISHWASHING TIME IN HALF!

Fab soaks dishes, glasses, pots, pans shiny clean! If a food speck clings, whisk it off with the dishcloth! Just a quick rinse and dishes drain sparkling clean. No hard scrubbing and no wiping!

1/3 LESS ARMWORK THAN CAKE MIXES!

Snowdrift does it!

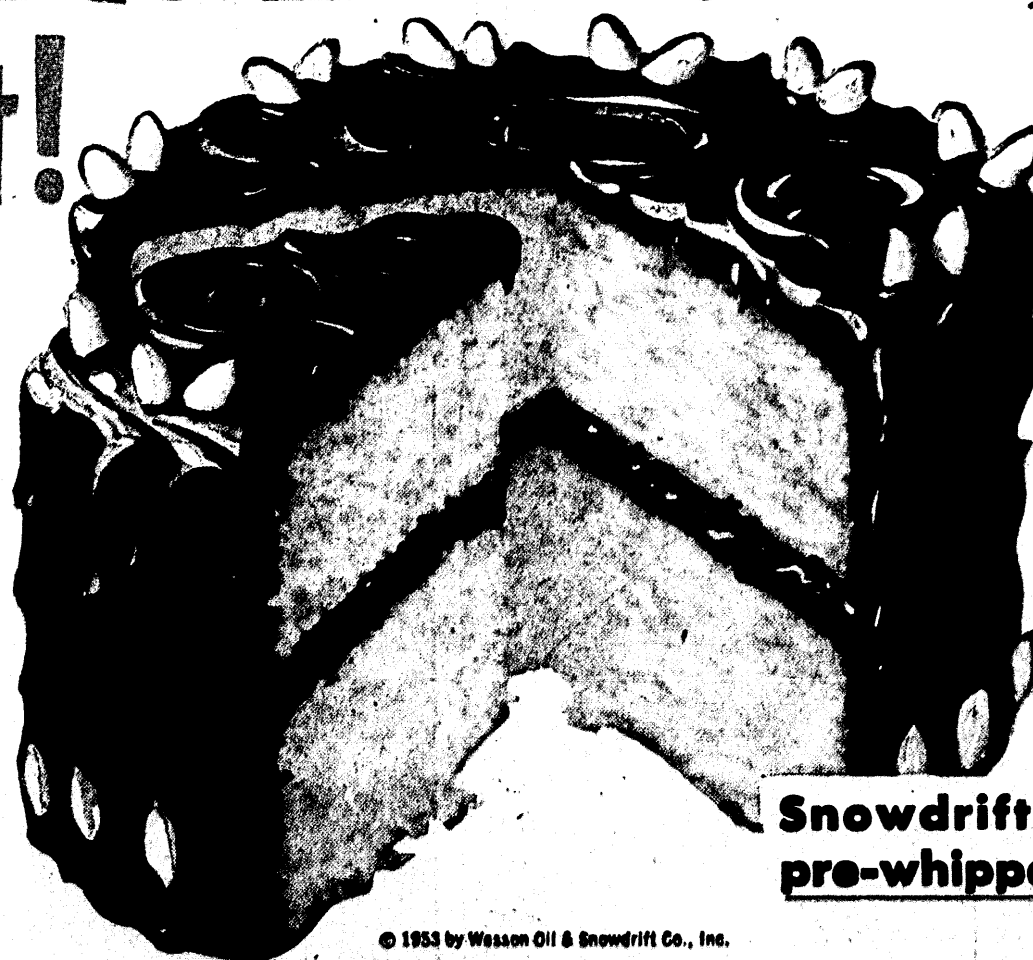

NEW "QUIK-BEAT" CAKE SAVES 150-300 STROKES!

YOU BEAT PLENTY WITH MIXES! Package directions for leading cake mixes call for 450 to 600 strokes. Hard work you can shortcut only with pre-whipped Snowdrift and its "Quik-Beat" Method. Delicious as only home-made cakes can be! And you'll save up to 300 strokes!

TWICE AS QUICK as most quick-method cakes! Don't beat and beat! We can promise you half the armwork and luscious cakes but only if you use pre-whipped Snowdrift and its special "Quik-Beat" recipe!

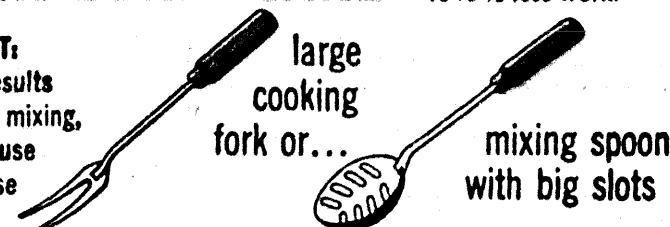

NEW LIGHTER SNOWDRIFT-- THE WESSON OIL SHORTENING!

ONLY SNOWDRIFT GIVES YOU THIS "QUIK-BEAT" CAKE

2 minutes beating!
1/3 to 1/2 less work!

IMPORTANT: For best results when hand mixing, be sure to use one of these

Have ingredients at room temperature
In large mixing bowl, break up...

1/2 cup SNOWDRIFT

Important: use only Snowdrift, it's pre-whipped for you

Add... 2 eggs
1/2 cup milk
Sift all together... 2 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
2 1/2 teaspoons double-action baking powder over... 1 1/2 cups sugar above... 1 teaspoon salt

Blend ingredients, then beat 1 1/2 minutes, scraping sides of bowl frequently. (Count 225 strokes for hand beating. With electric mixer use low speed, scrape sides during beating, scrape beaters after beating.)

Add... 1/2 cup milk with 1 teaspoon vanilla
Blend, then beat to smooth out batter, about 75 strokes (1/2 minute, electric beater). Turn into 2 greased 8-inch layer pans, lined with paper. Swirl fork through batter. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 25 to 30 minutes.

CHOCOLATE ALMOND ICING: Blend 5 tablespoons Snowdrift with 1/2 cup sifted cocoa. Add 3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar and 1/4 teaspoon salt--alternately with 1/2 cup milk. When smooth, add 1 teaspoon almond flavoring. Frost cake. Decorate with blanched almonds.

Snowdrift shortening is pre-whipped 2000 times!
